

USI MOURNS CRASH VICTIMS

Memorial services were held at USI Wednesday in the wake of last week's tragedy, the crash of the C-130 into Jojo's Restaurant and the Drury Inn.

The victims included a USI student, Mr. Charles R. Bergwitz, who was a Navy veteran of the Desert Storm conflict; two former students, Mr. Darrel D. Arnold and Mr. David W. Horton; and the fathers of two students, Mr. Robert A. Hays and Mr. Harry M. Tenbarge. They died when the plane touched off a fire that consumed the meeting room where 11 employees of Plumbing and Industrial Supply were gathered for a training program conducted by a team from USI.

The USI student sons of the victims are Mr. Robert A. Hays II and Mr. Neil Tenbarge.

The USI training team included Ms. Lynn M. Jackson, coordinator of Business and Professional Programs, who remains in critical but stable condition in the intensive care unit at Humana Hospital in Louisville, and Mr. William F. Capodagli, director of the Total Quality Management Program, who is in fair condition at Deaconess Hospital. He is receiving visitors; she is not.

Also hospitalized are Mrs. Marilou Ohning, in critical but stable condition at Wishard Hospital in Indianapolis, and Mr. Tom Welch, in serious but stable condition at Humana Hospital, Louisville. Also still in Deaconess Hospital, Evansville, are Mr. Bill Clarence Falarski of North Carolina, a hotel guest; Mr. James Gibson, Jr., Evansville

NUCLEAR PHYSICIST TO SPEAK AT USI

Dr. James A. Rome of the Oak Ridge National Laboratory in Tennessee will discuss "The Status and Future of Fusion Energy" at 2:30 p.m. Friday, February 14, in SC296.

According to Dr. Rome, fusion energy offers mankind a virtually inexhaustible supply of energy that has very little pollution and produces no CO₂. In the past year, scientific breakeven has been essentially achieved on the Euratom JET tokamak. The world is preparing to proceed with the next large step, but the U.S. seems to have lost the will to perform large-scale scientific research. The U.S. fusion program currently is trying to define its near- and long-term goals. Dr. Rome will explain how fusion works, describe how many of the large physics problems have been overcome, and lay out the hurdles that must still be overcome.

Dr. Rome received all of his academic degrees from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, obtaining the Doctor of Science in Electrical Engineering degree in 1971. He has been in the Fusion Energy Division at Oak Ridge National Laboratory since, specializing in the areas of magnetic topology and charged particle orbits in these topologies. He has developed much of the physics of neutral beam injection for heating plasmas, and has helped to design and build the ATF torsatron at Oak Ridge. Dr. Rome is a Fellow of the American Physical Society and is secretary-treasurer of the Division of Plasma Physics. Since March, Dr. Rome has been studying air traffic for the FAA.

Dr. Rome's visit is sponsored by the student chapter of the American Chemical Society and is open to the public. For information, contact Dr. Marie G. Hankins, chair of the USI Physical Sciences Department and advisor to the ACS student chapter, extension 1716.

PANEL TO PREPARE FOR ENLOW SCHOLAR

"Is Censorship Justified? When?" will be the topic for the second community panel at 7 p.m. Wednesday, February 19, in the Evansville Courier Community Room, preparing for the visit March 26-27 of the 1992 Enlow Distinguished Scholar, Mr. Anthony Jones, president of the School of the Art Institute of Chicago.

Dr. David W. Drebushenko, USI assistant professor of philosophy, will moderate a panel made up of Mr. Paul McAuliffe, executive director, Evansville Courier Company; Rabbi Arthur Abrams of Adath

USI THEATRE TO PRESENT RECKLESS

Reckless, the richly inventive and often startling dark comedy by Mr. Craig Lucas, will be the spring production for USI Theatre, opening Thursday, February 13, at the Igleheart Avenue theatre.

The play will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday through Saturday, February 13-14-15 and 27-28-29, with matinees at 2 p.m. on Sundays, February 16 and March 1. Admission is $5 for the general public, $3 for USI students and senior citizens. Reservations may be made by calling extension 1734; tickets will be available at the box office an hour before each performance.

HOMECOMING '92

The Activities Programming Board Homecoming events carry out a theme of "USI's Hollywood Homecoming Premiere." The schedule includes movies at 9 p.m. Wednesday, February 12, and 7 p.m. Friday, February 14, all in Forum I, and the "Dating Game" at 9 p.m. Thursday, February 13, in the University Center. Blonde Logic will play for the Homecoming Dance at 9 p.m. Saturday, February 15, in the University Center. Voting for Homecoming King and Queen is being held Monday through Friday -- 9 a.m.-4 p.m. in the Eagle's Nest and 4-6 p.m. in the Orr Center Lobby.

The Alumni Association will sponsor a casual supper of chili and hot dogs at 5:30 p.m. Saturday in PAC200. Following the game, alumni will return to PAC 200 to reminisce over refreshments. The alumni spotlight will be on the Classes of 1972, 1977, 1982, and 1987. For information, call the Office of Alumni Affairs, extension 1928.

B'nai Israel Temple; Mr. Michael Lee Gradison, American Civil Liberties Union in Indiana; and Mr. Robert Pigman, former Vanderburgh County prosecutor. They will discuss the right to assemble and public safety, hate crimes and speech, national security and the First Amendment, and freedom of the press.

The Enlow Distinguished Scholar series annually brings an authority on arts and humanities to USI as guest lecturer. Mr. Jones also serves as chief officer of the Art Institute of Chicago, a world-famous art museum that was embroiled in a 1989 censorship battle over a student art show exhibit involving the American flag. Mr. Jones' topic, "Stars and Bras: A Report from the Trenches," will deal with the issue of censorship in the arts and its impact on education. He will speak at 7 p.m. March 26 in Forum I. Public attendance is urged for the community panels and Mr. Jones' presentation.

NATIONAL ISSUES FORUM

Coincidentally, USI and Leadership Evansville are sponsoring a National Issues Forum on "The Boundaries of Free Speech," to be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday, February 26, in Forum III.

Mr. Jeff Lake of the Metropolitan Evansville Chamber of Commerce Small Business Development will be discussion moderator. The public is urged to participate in this continuing series designed to help formulate community opinion on issues.

Booklets providing background on the topic are available at Leadership Evansville or in the USI Bookstore. For information, contact Mrs. Linda Cleek, assistant director of the Office of Continuing Education, extension 1863.

SUPER SATURDAY FOR KIDS. "Count-down to Creativity" is the theme for the spring Super Saturday for Kids, to be held Saturday, February 29, beginning at 9 a.m. in Forum II. Through hands-on activities, youngsters (preschool through sixth grade) will be challenged to use original thinking to help develop creative potential. The $30 registration fee includes lunch. For information, contact Mrs. Ginger Ramsden, city police officer, and Ms. Cheryl Norton, emergency medical technician; both were overcome by smoke and fumes during the rescue effort.

Other Evansville residents who died -- along with the five-man crew on board the C-130 -- included Plumbing and Industrial Supply employees Mr. Ronald D. Keown, Mr. Matthew J. Prasek, Mr. Thomas R. Ruby, and Mr. John R. Stallings, Jr., vice president of the company; and Jojo's employees Mr. Matthew Phipps and Mrs. Lynette Scott.

Cards and notes would be welcomed by the injured. Silk flowers also are an option; DO NOT send fresh flowers or plants to Ms. Jackson in the burn unit. Cards or notes may be sent in care of Humana Hospital-University, 530 S. Jackson Street, Louisville, KY 40202 (mark it BNU-4: Lynn Jackson) The address for Deaconess Hospital is 600 Mary Street, Evansville, IN 47710-1624. The Wishard Hospital address is 1001 W. 10th Street, Indianapolis, IN 46202.

USI employees have expressed an interest in contributing to a fund to aid Mr. Capodagli and Ms. Jackson with medical bills. A "USI Family Fund" is being established through the USI Foundation. Contact the Development Office, extension 1918, for information or to contribute. A community-wide fund for all victims is available at Citizens Bank. These contributions are not eligible as charitable deductions on income tax.

coordinator of Children's Programs, extension 1863.

UNITED WAY. Ms. Diane Floyd, 1991 campaign chair for United Way of Southwestern Indiana, and Dr. David L. Rice, USI president, have extended congratulations and thank you to the USI community for their efforts in helping the campaign exceed its goal of $3.25 million. The USI effort, coordinated by Mr. Miles D. Mann, assistant director of the Physical Plant, raised $20,486, a 15 percent increase over the 1990 campaign.

NAMES IN THE NEWS. Dr. Walter W. Jermakowicz, associate professor of business, has been named recipient of the 1991 Distinguished Paper Award in the area of business economics by the Midwest Business Administration Association. His paper on "Radical Currency Reforms: Germany, 1948, and Poland, 1990" was presented in April 1991 at the 27th annual meeting in Chicago.

Dr. Mehmet C. Kocakulah, chair of the Accounting and Business Law Department, has been notified by Aspen Publishers that excerpts from his research article, "The True Costs of Nursing Care," which was published in the December 1990 issue of Health Progress, will appear in the Nursing Administration Handbook, third edition, Rowland and Rowland, editors.

SYMPATHY. The University community extends its sympathy to Mr. Michael W. Whipple, controller, in the death February 10 of his mother, Mrs. Ruth Whipple of Evansville.

CONGRATULATIONS to Mr. John C. Busch, stationary engineer, and his wife, Jennifer, on the birth February 4 of a son, Nicholas Alan.

DON'T FORGET VIC! Mr. Vic Coleman, assistant men's basketball coach, has agreed to be one of the 20 "Most Wanted Sweethearts," and will be kidnapped on Thursday, February 13, and held for $300 ransom by the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Call Vic at extension 1639 if you can help him raise the tax-deductible ransom.

CENTER FOR ECONOMIC EDUCATION. "Taxes and U.S. History" will be the topic for a workshop at 4 p.m. Thursday, February 13, in OC2018, sponsored by the USI Center for Economic Education. Dr. Gregory P. Valentine, center director, said the workshop was developed by the Joint Council for Economic Education in Indiana and the Internal Revenue Service and is designed for teachers of fifth- through ninth-grade students in public and private schools. Three areas are being reviewed: the 1700s Whiskey Rebellion, 1800s tariffs, and 1900s income taxes. Forty southern Indiana teachers are expected to participate.

TELECONFERENCE. The Office of Continuing Education is sponsoring a hookup to the teleconference, "The Fragile Child," dealing with the problems of cocaine-exposed babies. The session will be held from 2:45 to 5 p.m. Wednesday, February 19, in UC350. The registration fee is $10, $5 for students.

FINANCIAL AID. Mr. James A. Patton, director of the USI Student Financial Assistance Office, says February 15 is the preferred mailing deadline for financial aid forms, with March 2 being the absolute deadline to file in Indiana. For those who can't meet the mid-February deadline, the USI office will continue holding special workshops in UC350 to help USI students fill out financial aid forms: 6-8 p.m. Tuesday, February 18; 9-11 a.m., 2-4 p.m., and 6-8 p.m. Wednesday, February 19; and 2-4

SPECIAL DENTAL CLINIC

USI dental hygiene and dental assisting students and faculty, in cooperation with the Evansville Coalition for the Homeless (ECHO), will conduct a special dental clinic for some 40 school-age children February 17-18 at St. Anthony's Center for Family Life. Dental sealant applications will be performed by dental hygiene students, assisted by dental assisting students and supervised by faculty members and the USI staff dentist.

Ms. Deborah Henry, Dental Hygiene Program director, said, "February is Children's Dental Health Month. We felt providing the clinic was a worthwhile community service which also would allow a good clinical experience for our students."
