UNIVERSITY NOTES. VOL. XI NO. 19 January 12, 1977
Editor, Kathy Funke; Associate Editor, Karen Walker

THE INDEPENDENT EYE. On Monday, January 17, the Student Union Board will sponsor the appearance on campus of Conrad and Linda Bishop. The husband and wife team known as "The Independent Eye" will be appearing in Room A126 at 3:00 p.m.

"Dessie", the program they present, deals with the problem of child abuse. It dramatizes an abusive mother's inner and outer existence and is designed as a stimulus for discussion of the subject of child abuse. "Dessie" has been performed over one hundred times, before community organizations, church groups and social service organizations. The Bishops have been active in drama since high school, preparing for a joint career in theater. Conrad Bishop earned his PhD at Stanford and then taught and directed for five years.

CONTINUING EDUCATION ADDS COURSES. Eight new courses have been added to the non-credit course schedule by the Office of Continuing Education. The new courses are French for Tourists, beginning January 24; Business Update for Women, January 27; Anthropology for Beginners, January 27; Beginning Yoga, February 22; Creative Writing Workshop for High School Students February 5; Beginning Guitar for Teachers, February 3; and Appreciating Music: The Art of Listening, and Parenting, February 1. Thirteen courses will be repeated in the Spring.

Persons wishing to register for a course or seeking more information on a particular course can call the Office of Continuing Education, extension 1863.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS. RAMONA STAMETS, Associate Professor of Art, took an Art Education trip to New York City on December 4-8, 1976. Places visited were the Museum of Modern Art, the Metropolitan Museum of Art (where the Andrew Wyeth Exhibition was showing), the Whitney Gallery (where "The Universe of Alexander Calder" was on exhibit), and the Guggenheim Museum where the best of American painters since 1945 were being exhibited. Other places visited were the Prometheus and Rockefeller Center, St. Patrick's Cathedral, the Frick Collection, the American Folk Art Gallery, and the United Nations.

ERIC VONFUHRMANN, Assistant Professor of English, gave a dinner address to the Vanderburgh County Medical Association on December 9.

ERIC NELSON, Art Work Supervisor, will be giving a lecture on January 14 to the Evansville Art Guild at 7:45 p.m. at the Evansville Museum of Arts and Science. His lecture will include a slide presentation of his sculpture over the past eight years, concentrating on recent sculptures. A critical discussion will follow.

CAMPUS LITURGY TODAY. The ISUE Campus Ministry will sponsor a liturgy at noon today in Room L119.

FILM SERIES. "What's Up Doc?" directed by Peter Bogdanovich, will be shown in Room A126 at 2:00 and 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, January 13. There will be an admission charge of $1.00 for non-students. "What's Up Doc?" stars Barbra Streisand and Ryan O'Neal.

SPECIAL COURSES OFFERED BY TELEVISION AND NEWSPAPER. Roots: The Black Experience In America, a tele-course planned during spring semester, is a narrative based on Alex Haley's novel Roots. The course is a comprehensive history relating the drama of one family--Haley's--which unfolds as the universal saga of Black Americans from "freedom to freedom".

The credit course is composed of three required meetings on campus, a 12-hour series of dramatizations to be telecast by ABC, the book Roots, an anthology, and a student guide. The course is being offered in cooperation with WTVW, Channel 7. The series will be telecast on eight consecutive evenings beginning January 23 at 8:00 p.m.

The first class meeting, an organizational meeting, will be Wednesday, January 19 at 7:00 p.m. in the ISUE Library, Room 107. The course carries three credit hours.

Also to be offered through the ISUE Office of Continuing Education and the University of Evansville in cooperation with The Evansville Courier, will be a course entitled "Moral Choices In Contemporary Society". The course will provide an opportunity to earn college credit by studying articles printed in the local newspaper. A series of 16 articles will be published in The Courier beginning Monday, January 24, 1977. Three required class meetings with the instructor will be held in Conference Room A, Student Union Building, on the University of Evansville campus. An organizational meeting will be held Thursday, January 20 at 7:00 p.m. The course carries two semester hours credit.

1977 MEN'S INTRAMURAL BOWLING. Bowlers are now being sought for the Bald Eagles (faculty-administration) bowling team. This handicap league will play at Diamond Lane on five consecutive Mondays from 8:30 p.m. to approximately 10:30 p.m., beginning January 10. Cost is $2.10 per night for three games. The Bald Eagles are defending champions.

Please phone DAN SCAVONE, Associate Professor of History, extension 1725, as soon as possible if you are interested in being a part of a winning tradition.

COMEDIAN TO BE ON CAMPUS. Jimmy Whig, a comedian, will be on campus Wednesday, January 12. Whig will perform in Pyramid Lounge in University Center at 11:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon.

Whig's act includes pantomime, comedy and storytelling. His appearance is sponsored by the ISUE Student Union Board.

NEW FACES. An Assistant Professor of Psychology has been named to the Social Science Division of Indiana State University Evansville. The new clinical psychologist is ROGER D. COX of Virginia.
