2/10/2016 | Angie O’Nan

The International Club at the University of Southern Indiana will host the annual International Food Expo from 10:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Friday, February 19 in Carter Hall, University Center West.

The Food Expo is an opportunity for USI’s international students to share the cultural diversity, customs and cuisine of their home country with the USI community and the public.

In addition to tasty dishes from around the world, entertainment will include Nepali dances, music played on a Japanese ocarina – an ancient wind instrument – as well as a fashion show of traditional, cultural attire.

Cuisine from 23 countries can be sampled including new fare from Jamaica, Myanmar, Russia, Ghana, Niger, Pakistan and Paraguay.

Tickets can be purchased in advance for $10 from the Center for International Programs Office in the University Center East, Room 1235, or at the door on the day of the Expo for $12. A portion of the proceeds will be donated to Military with PTSD.
