University of Southern Indiana is having an Adult Learner Information Night in August

The University of Southern Indiana is having an information event for adults interested in enrolling in college courses. The Adult Learner Information Night will be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, August 11, in Carter Hall, University Center at University of Southern Indiana. The event is free and open to the public.

Tim Buecher, career counseling advisor, and Laura Shouse, adult learner counselor, will lead the evening session. Buecher will offer a career inventory test for persons interested in matching their skills and interests with a career. Shouse will explain the various support programs in place for the adult learner from tutoring and study skills to time management. Information about student financial assistance programs and the academic program requirements at USI will also be provided.

The event is free, however, reservations are required and can be made by calling 812/464-1765. The modern suburban campus of USI is accessible from Indiana 62 between Evansville and Mt. Vernon, Indiana.
