Introduction

In 2012, I researched the Brenner family of Deidesheim, Rhineland-Palatinate, Germany, who settled in Evansville, Indiana and Doniphan, Kansas. One of the Brenner immigrants that lived in Doniphan, Kansas was Maria Eva Brenner, who married Johannes Wendelin Anslinger in Deidesheim. At the family reunion, several descendants had commented that they were related to the Anslingers that lived in Haubstadt (Gibson County) and the Evansville (Vanderburgh County) areas. They asked me to research this connection with the Brenners of Doniphan.

After years of research on the many families that lived on the west side of Evansville in Vanderburgh County, I could not document any connection other than the same surname and living in the same area. The Anslingers of Doniphan were from Deidesheim. The Anslinger families of Haubstadt & Evansville were from Sankt Martin, and Edenkoben, also in Rhineland-Palatinate, in Germany.

Looking at a Google map, the towns are a 3-hour and 12 min walk apart. It is possible that the Anslingers of Doniphan are related to the Anslingers of Evansville. However, I could not trace the genealogy connection back to a common ancestor.

While there are church records of Deidesheim and Sankt Martin, I am not fluent enough in German and Latin to transcribe all the thousands of records that date back to the 1500s.

So, I decided to provide a genealogy report of Anslinger generations in southern Indiana. The family legend is that there were three brothers who immigrated.

John Anslinger and his wife Catharine Christmann settled in Evansville, Indiana. This is documented in the book Descendants of John Anslinger and Catharine Anna Christmann.

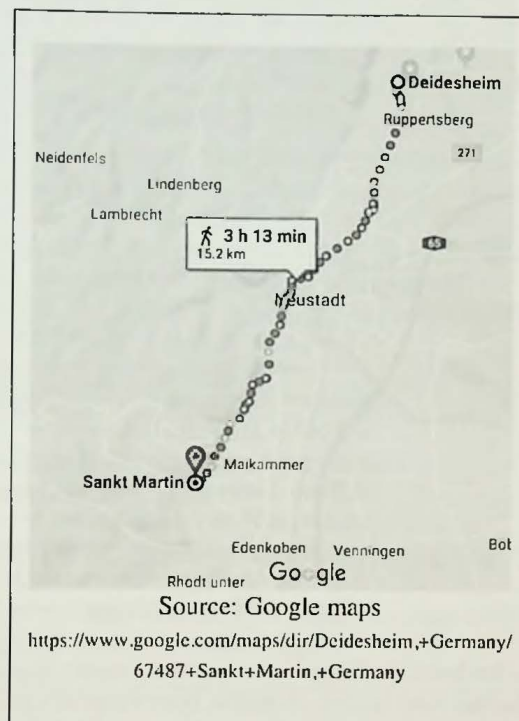

Johann Joseph Anslinger and his wife Rosina Christmann originally lived in Evansville in 1870, but in 1880 were living in Haubstadt, Gibson County, Indiana. This book is about their descendants.

Documentation on how closely the two Anslinger families are related was not found. Johann and Joseph could have been brothers or even cousins.

I conducted my research on the Anslinger families, looking at census, birth, military, marriage and death records to verify family connections. Through my research, I reached out to numerous genealogists who have researched other families in Vanderburgh, Warrick, and Gibson Counties in Indiana. They have shared their family databases with me. I acknowledge their help: Karen Scheller Harvey and Cyril and Wilma Uebelhor. Also, I thank Barbara and Bob Anslinger, who provided a descendant list and a copy of research by John Anslinger. Additionally, the records from Charles Browning at the Browning databases (<https://www.browninggenealogy.org>) were helpful in finding family ties.

This book is a summary of my research, and is not meant to be an all-inclusive representation of the Anslinger families. Other researchers are encouraged to use what I have assembled and continue with their research. Because of mistakes in newspaper articles, government documents and mistakes in my typing, there may be errors.

To those that use this book, I wish you success in your family genealogy search.

! " denkoben is a municipality in the Südliche Weinstraße district, in Rhineland-Palatinate, Germany. It lies approximately halfway between Landau and Neustadt an der Weinstraße. Edenkoben is one of the towns situated along the German Wine Route. Edenkoben is the seat of the Verbandsgemeinde ("collective municipality") Edenkoben.

History

This part of the Rhineland passed to Bavaria at 1815 following the Congress of Vienna, which reallocated many of the territories that had comprised Napoleon's empire. Like several towns in the area, Edenkoben has both a Roman Catholic and a Protestant church (recalling King Maximilian's marriage to a Protestant princess).!

Map of Germany, showing Edenkoben, Rhineland-Palatinate, Germany

Edenkoben's status as an administrative and cultural centre for the surrounding villages is reflected in the presence of several high-grade schools. The little town also has a considerable cultivation and trade in wine. Outside the primary (agricultural) sector, industries include the manufacture of automotive exhaust systems and of doors. In former times there was a sulphur-spring here called Kurbrunnen.

Edenkoben is overlooked, on its west side, by the imposing Friedensdenkmal, from the top of which visitors can enjoy a fine view across to the Rhine. Originally constructed to celebrate German unity in the aftermath of the Franco-Prussian War, the memorial was renamed Friedensdenkmal (Peace Memorial) after 1945, when celebration of German military victories fell out of fashion in Europe: at the time of writing the Friedensdenkmal contains a small restaurant. The inscription on the Unification / Peace memorial reflects the determination of the German government in 1871 to downplay the extent to which the Treaty of Frankfurt resulted from military victory by Prussia. Given the frequency with which the German-speaking Rhenish provinces had been devastated by French armies in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, it was in this region easy to emphasize the defensive nature of German unification.

Mater Dei graduate dies of crash injuries

An Evansville man died early Saturday from injuries suffered when his vehicle ran off Upper Mount Vernon Road and struck a tree.

Jeffrey Pfister, 20, died at 2:40 a.m. at Deaconess Hospital, according to Vanderburgh County Coroner Annie Groves.

Pfister was a 2008 graduate of Mater Dei High School and worked for Don Goebel Plumbing Co.

The single-vehicle wreck occurred about 1:15 a.m., according to Vanderburgh County Sheriff's Sgt. Stuart Mosby.

He said Pfister's 2005 Chrysler Town & Country minivan was traveling east in the 6300 block of Upper Mount Vernon Road when it failed to negotiate a curve, went off the road and hit a tree, catching on fire. Sheriff's deputies and members of the Perry Township Volunteer Fire Department extinguished the blaze and extricated Pfister from the wreckage, Mosby said. Pfister was alone in the vehicle.

The wreck remains under investigation, Mosby said Saturday evening.

Girl, 4, named as crash fatality

Fatality in car/train collision Tuesday

Posted: Tuesday, August 6, 2013 4:24 pm | Daily Clarion news@pdclarion.com

FORT BRANCH— Andrea Bullock, 4, rural Princeton, died in a 9:30 a.m. Tuesday car/train collision at the CSX train crossing on CR550 just west of U.S. 41 and north of Fort Branch.

Gibson County Coroner Barrett Doyle confirmed her identity after notification of family members and investigation at the scene. Doyle said an autopsy will be performed Wednesday, a requirement since the crash involved a commercial vehicle.

The coroner said Bullock was a passenger in an eastbound minivan driven by her father, John Bullock. The van was hit by the southbound CSX train which was traveling at 42 mph.

Doyle said the train engineer saw the van but couldn't stop to avoid the collision.

Bullock was outside the vehicle with his youngest daughter when emergency responders arrived on the scene, said Doyle. He was injured and taken to an Evansville hospital. An older daughter, also a passenger in the van, was treated and released, according to the coroner.

Doyle said Tuesday's fatal crash was the third at that rail crossing in the past two years.

Mr. Heitzman was manager of General Electric Supply corporation, 422 Northwest Seventh street. He had been with the firm for more than 20 years, and had been manager for more than 10 years.

Wrote to Soldier Son

He had not been ill previously. Earlier Thursday night, he had painted the basement of his home, and afterwards had written his daily letter to his son, Raymond J. Heitzman, technician fifth grade, who is with the 555th anti-aircraft battery in Antwerp, Belgium. His son entered the army three years ago.

Mr. Heitzman was born July 14, 1898 in Evansville. He attended St. Anthony's parochial school. He served on the Vanderburgh tax adjustment board for four years, twice as board chairman.

In earlier years he played semi-professional baseball on the old Woodlawn, Eagles, and other teams.

Eulogies Given

He and Harold (Shorty) Wallace, now city recreation director, were the battery and sparkplugs of the earlier ball teams here. Mr. Heitzman was the catcher and Mr. Wallace the pitcher. A brother, Sylvester (Babe) Heitzman, formerly was a professional baseball player. He was a southpaw pitcher.

Mr. Heitzman is survived by his wife, Kathryn; his son, Raymond; daughter, Jean Heitzman, and his brother.

The body was removed to the residence from the Schaefer funeral home last night. K. of C. memorial services will be held at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night in the residence.

The board of directors of the Evansville Chamber of Commerce yesterday adopted a resolution on the death of Mr. Heitzman in a special session of the board.

Hermania Agnes (24 Jun 1915-)

Phillip Jacob Anslinger spent most of his life as a barber. While in Haubstadt, he co-owned a barber shop with his brother Anton. He also has barber shops in Grace City, Enderland, Hop and Cappeio, North Dakota; Linstrum, Minnesota, and finally, Dutton, Montana. The latter two towns his son, Henry, joined him in the shops. Since Dutton, Montana was a small town, he also served as the postmaster. Each day he would push a cart to the rail station to pick up the mail. On November 4, 1947, the engine had been changed from steam to diesel and as the train started, Phillip did not get out of the way in time. It was said he was use to the old engine blowing its whistle and he knew how much time he had to get out of the way,

This same train took him to the nearby town of Conrad to the hospital where he died on November 10. Although it was ruled an accident, some family members felt he intentionally did not get out of the way as he had been despondent as he thought he "might" have cancer and didn't want to suffer the way his mother had before dying of cancer. Since it had not been confirmed that he had cancer, one can only guess about what really happened.

As a young man, Phillip, played semi-pro baseball. He would tell that back in those days, umpires couldn't see the outfield and if he missed a fly ball, he would fall to the ground, roll over and pick of the ball, holding it up for the umpire to see. Batter was called out. He also served as an umpire.

Father: Phillip Jacob Anslinger (8 Jan 1876-10 Nov 1947)
Mother: Harriet Lucille Wilson (19 Oct 1877-29 Sep 1966)

During World War II, Hermania Anslinger was a civilian working at the Air Base, repairing gyros in one of the aircraft instruments on airplanes. She is then sent to California to learn to repair the aircraft instruments. When there was not enough work for everyone when the war was ending, she transferred to another department and repaired Briggs & Stratton motors that were used in heating the planes so they could start. She then transferred to cleaning inside of the tankers when that work slowed down. At that time, they did not pump fresh air into the tanks. After she had worked there quite a long while, the doctor told her to get out of the tanks because of the fumes. She was small and could crawl into them, so she had been asked to do the job. There were 3 baffles to crawl through to get to the back end of the tank and there were still some fumes left in the tank. Later, they go air pumps and workers had to wear masks

For most of her life, she has earned a living carving various pieces of art, from wood, ivory, stone and various other materials. Some said she had inherited her artistic talent from her grandmother,

Her self-taught career started when she was 7 or 8 years old, and she found a pocket knife while she was walking along a railroad track near Lindstrom, Minnesota. She used the knife to carve 5-inch pistols to play with. She whittled designs on willow switches and carved cowboy reliefs in apple boxes.

When the family moved to Montana, she sold her first piece - a match holder in the shape of cowboy boots. This was just after she graduated from high school in 1932.

In 1942, she moved to Spokane, Washington and started making deacons, grandfathers, and bare foot boys. She would go downtown to get ideas for her characters.

Most of her customers were collectors who ordered items that were purely decorative. Many commercial customers ordered scale model wood carvings which they used to cast metal figurines. One of the most involved projects was a complete circus layout including the usual animals side show attractions, and circus wagons. Also included was the scale model of the famous circus clown, Emmett Kelly with his sad mien. The scale of the circus was 1/2 inch to a foot.

Her carvings have ranged from animals, people, cartoon characters, miniature Victorian furniture, to 8-inch long carved tables that she made for 20 years for a New York firm to fit with music boxes. In more recent years, she turned more to making miniature porcelain articles (decorative cookie jars, teapots, dogs whose spots were ash from Mount St. Helens, cats and other animals) for doll houses and miniature collectors.

Occasionally, she still carves Belter furniture, or duplicates a piece of furniture (in miniature 1-inch to the foot) that a customer might have in their home. One such piece was a desk with pullout drawers, brass pulls, threaded screws and casters that actually rolled to close the front of the desk. All which she made.

Leo Emge

Leo J. Emge, owner and operator of L. J. Emge Provision Company until his retirement last year, died at 8 a.m. today in St. Mary's Hospital after a long illness. He was 57.

Mr. Emge, of 11 E. Sunrise-dr, had been in the retail grocery and meat business for nearly 28 years. He formerly operated businesses in Kansas, St. Louis and Evansville before establishing his own business.

Native of Haubstadt

In 1945 he purchased a meat processing plant and organized the L. J. Emge Provision Company which he operated until a year ago when he retired because of ill health.

"Start talking to Leo J. Emge about any subject you choose and chances are that you'll be discussing some phase of the meat packing business within five minutes," a reporter wrote in a profile of Mr. Emge in 1953.

"He began this end of the business with an experimental dozen packages of frozen fruits and vegetables. He built the operations to the point that he once filled an order of 107,016 pounds of frozen baked beans for a firm in New Jersey."

A native of Haubstadt, he was the son of John Emge, who died in 1948, and Mrs. Rose Emge, who survives him.

Active in 4-H Activities

Mr. Emge was active for many years in 4-H Club activities. For years he bought the prize beef, lamb or calf at the stock shows held in this area.

His biggest thrill, he said, was watching the faces of the 4-H boys and girls as they hear the price that their animals bring at the auction.

Mr. Emge was a member of

Justin Victor Anslinger

Justin Anslinger - Gunsmith and tool engineer: One of our most talented citizens has to be our subject, Justin Anslinger. Being mostly self-taught, he grew up here in Haubstadt attending Sts. Peter and Paul Catholic School. Justin graduated from Haubstadt High School in 1930, and then attended Mechanical Arts School in Evansville, and the Arsenal Technical School in Indianapolis, where he studied shop, machine shop and machine design. His tooling experience took him all over the country, from Connecticut to California, on to Minnesota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas and finally back to his home town of Haubstadt.

Mr. Anslinger was one of four children born to Anton and Mary "Mayme" Roeder Anslinger at their home on South Vine Street. The date was July 16, 1912. Francis, Marjorie (m Edward Emge) and Marilyn (m John J Wilm) completed the Anslinger family.

While in California in 1947, he had the pleasure of a visit from his parents. In 1950, in Berwick, Pennsylvania, Justin met his future wife, the former Barbara Mageovage, daughter of John & Evelyn Hutchinson Mageovage. Justin and Barbara were married May 30, 1952, with Rev. Stafko presiding. Four children were born to this union, namely, John, Michael, Susan and Steve.

Space does not permit as to detail all the different positions this man has held, but we have to mention a few: project engineer, superintendent, general superintendent, vice-president, supervisor to many of the tooling and manufacturing companies including the Jupiter Guided Missile program. He was most instrumental in the tool design for the Acme Corporation that built luxury passenger trains.

In 1962, the Anslinger moved back to Haubstadt and Justin took the job of chief tool engineer at Hahn Brothers in Evansville. This active man did not stop working when he retired from the Hahn company. Being a gunsmith, he continues to design tools at his home. He is one, and possibly the only person in the country, who can repair powder flasks. He estimates the number of flasks he has renovated and repaired at over five thousand. His hobbies of gardening and woodworking have to take second place to the mammoth job with the flasks.

Mr. Anslinger still attends gun shows and has even given talks on guns at various shows. One has to marvel at the ingenuity of this man and his vast knowledge of so many different fields of endeavor.

Having purchased the Grossman property west of town in 1960, he promptly cleared the acreage of unwanted underbrush and then set out to make a beautiful get-a-way for his wife and family. With two lakes surrounded by a manicured landscape, this is truly the work of an ambitious man. His youngest son, Steve, has built a beautiful home near the lakes. Over one thousand trees have been planted there by the family. We could write many more facts but undoubtedly this man has to be one of the area's most interesting individuals.

In the peaceful early morning hours of November 03, 2017, Bonnie J. Martin, 61, passed away in the comfort of her home and family. A short, tumultuous battle with cancer opened the door, allowing for her continued journey.

To say Bonnie was something special in the lives of her family and friends would be an understatement. Full of life and joy, with a sharp wit, she brought a certain vibrancy to all that knew her. She loved the simple pleasures life has to offer – good friends, a campfire, snow falling in the woods, a good cup of tea and the expectation of her first grandchild.

Bonnie was born in Terre Haute, Indiana, January 05, 1956 to Paul Adrian and Helen Irene (Daggy) Martin. In addition to her parents, she is preceded in death by her sister, Laura Doyle and brother Tim Martin.

Surviving are her husband, John Anslinger of Haubstadt, daughters Susan Anslinger (Jimmy Pugh) of Haubstadt and Kathleen Anslinger (Jordan Fortner) of Fort Branch, brother Geoff Martin (Nancy) of Terre Haute, Indiana and sister Rebecca Spence (Kevin) of Phoenix, Arizona, sisters-in-law Susan Anslinger of Evansville and Diane Anslinger of Haubstadt, brothers-in-law Mike Anslinger of Scott Depot WV, Steve Anslinger of Haubstadt and Steve Doyle of Terre Haute, Indiana as well as many nieces and nephews.

As told by Vincent as the 9 August 2003
Anslinger Family Reunion

By the age of 14, he was able to drive a team of 6 horses. He also drove the school bus in his early days. The bus, however, was not one in the conventional sense. During the winter months there was so much snow that a typical bus could not be driven. Instead, the bus was a horse drawn sled with a stove mounted on the back. During those winter months, he said, it would get so cold in the house that the family would have two wood stoves burning and yet water left on the kitchen table would freeze

Vincent Joseph Anslinger July 4, 1918 - December 14, 2012 Vincent Joseph Anslinger was born July 4, 1918 in Haubstadt, Indiana. He was the eldest of eight children to Frank and Grace Anslinger. His early years were spent in North Dakota until the family moved back to southern Indiana in 1933 as a result of the Depression. He graduated Valedictorian of his class in 1935 in Haubstadt. In 1927 he enlisted in the Army, stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis. He trained in the field artillery and became Army Quartermaster until 1940 when he transitioned to reserve status. It was during this time that he met Hazel Shanks at a Princeton dance. They were married in June of 1941. After December 7, 1941, he was called back to the service in the Army Air Force and was stationed with the 64th Army Air Force Base Unit at Minter Field. Just as he was to be transferred out to Europe and was in North Carolina waiting, the war ended. He and Hazel returned to Bakersfield with their baby son, Alan, where he lived the rest of his life. Daughter, Arlene, was born in 1950. Dad loved music and played steel guitar and had a band in the late 1940's and early 50's. He played in various clubs and dances in and outside of Bakersfield on the weekends. He was a truck driver for many years and spent his last 19 years as a security guard for Trans West Security. He worked as a guard at Calcot until he was 92 and loved every minute of it and the people. He was a private pilot, having his own plane until late into his 80's, and also could be seen riding his beloved 1941 Harley flathead around town until a few years ago. Dad came from a generation where your word was your bond and political correctness did not exist but good values, faith in God, morals and integrity did. Sometimes we don't understand how truly special people are until we seen them through the eyes of others. We love you dad and know you are riding and flying free in heaven.

He was met in heaven by his wife, Hazel; son, Alan, mom, Grace; and father, Frank; brothers, Urban, Leo, and Victor; and sister, Agnes.

He is survived by his daughter, Arlene (Tom) Muzinich; sisters, Iris Torres, and Irma (Pete) Uebelhoer; grandchildren, Karen (Matt) Holmes, and Brian Anslinger (Allison); great grandchild, Boden Holmes; and numerous nieces and nephews.

A funeral mass will be held Thursday, December 20, 2012 at 9:00 a.m. at St. Francis of Assisi Catholic Church with the Rosary recited prior to mass. . Basham Funeral Care www.bakersfield.com/obits

Alan Vincent Anslinger

Born July 22, 1945, Alan Vincent Anslinger spent the majority of his life in Bakersfield, California. Attending local schools, he graduated from BHS in 1964. Becoming an amateur radio operator at age 15, WB6DJK quickly developed friendships with other hams all over the world. Years later, while preparing with his U.S. Army unit to go to Vietnam, Alan was instead sent to Okinawa, Japan, to serve as a radio operator. For 18 months, he ran phone patches via ham radio and connected American G.I.s to their loved ones back home. Another radio love connection was made when Alan succumbed to the relentless pursuit of a fellow ham's little sister, Vicki. Despite his determination to remain a bachelor, Alan couldn't resist Vicki's smile and the twinkle in her eyes. They were married October 8, 1971. Shortly after, Alan began working as a Deputy with the Kern County Sheriff's Department. Serving the county for 15 years, Gunny retired early in 1986 and became a stay-at-home dad to his two children Brian and Karen. With a one-of-a-kind sense of humor, Alan entertained his kids and their friends with tales of the Apocalypse, and unforgettable original songs like Bow-legged Cowboy, Jeremiah was a Bullfrog, and The Punjab Cat. The family spent many weekends indulging Alans passions exploring the near-by mountains and storm-chasing. Saturday nights were usually reserved for popcorn and laughs while watching trains up at the Tehachapi Loop. Also a private pilot, Alan owned a Cessna 182 for 15 years. His love of flying took the family all over the Northwest and even to Texas. Alan especially got a kick out of inviting friends to fly to breakfast. When the kids were older, Alan took jobs working in construction with his good friend Tom Dooley and locating underground cables for UTI.

In July 2002, Alan and Vicki sold their home and went on the road as full-time RVers. They traveled across the country as far as Pennsylvania, but spent most of their time in Oregon. Working with the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife, they spent 3 months as hosts at the South Santiam Hatchery in Sweet Home, and 1 month at the Klaskanine Hatchery near Astoria.

Alan was famous for his addiction to the Weather Channel, desire to leave Bakersfield, inability to tell a joke without laughing hysterically before the punchline, and his never-ending search for a good burger. But his greatest joys in life were his wife and children.

Married for 32 years, Vicki was Alans best friend, soulmate and #1 gal. He loved her bubbly personality and proudly declared he could not have asked for a better wife or mother for his children. Together he and his Vicki-Tick created a tight-knit family whose love continues to spread to everyone they meet. Alan taught Brian and Karen not to take themselves too seriously and encouraged them to learn from his mistakes. He instilled in them a love for the hills and showed them how to listen to the quiet. He was a wonderful, affectionate father who always hugged his kids and told them he loved them. Punkin and Son were the bright stars in his life.

Diagnosed with a recurrence of pancreatic cancer on March 1, Alan slipped quietly into the arms of his Heavenly Father on March 16.

Joining his mother Hazel, Alan will continue to watch over the rest of his family: devoted wife, Vicki-Tick; children Brian and Karen; father Vincent; and sister and brother-in-law Arlene and Tom Muzinich. Al will also be missed by his adopted sons, Brad Roberts, Nick Turner, Aaron Dutto and James the Bodyguard Bashor; numerous friends and family, as well as his African Grey parrot Murdock and the Punjab cats. Special thanks to Kyle Ray of Optimal Hospice and to cousins Helen and Terry for their love and support.

A celebration of Alans life will be held on March 23, 2004, at 11:00 a.m. at Valley Baptist Church with Pastor John Gage officiating. In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations be made to the Valley Baptist Building Fund or Optimal Hospice.

And, we know, Dad if we were flying, we would be there by now.

Nicknamed "Lovey" and "Liney Pat", Linus was always a step behind Vincent who looked after you well. Mother said you were always so small (probably because in her second pregnancy had no food). I asked he one time what she ate when she was expecting us. Her answer was MUSH, three times a day - even told me how she prepared it a little differently each time so as not to feel it was the same thing! Anyway, you and Vic were on the train with her when she came to Redbrush for her father's funeral, and the conductor thought she had twins. As told by Iris Anslinger Torres at 2001 Anslinger Reunion:

Leo: The earliest memorable episode was the kitty-car and Lee crashing down the hill, hitting the tree and breaking his leg. She told how he had to be put on a bottle there and then cried for his "bottie" afterwards - how she could not go to the hospital, only our Dad, due to other younger needing her at home. Her old blue bathrobe had to be used for him to be "Scrooge" i the Christmas play - which she never got to attend - her quiet pride at his having such a marvelous restaurant as the Hickory House.

Cemetery marker for Robert and Helene Billmire

BILLMIRE, HELENE ELIZABETH July 3, 1925 to August 19, 2008 Helene was a modern woman who never forgot her early life on the farm in Council Bluffs, Iowa. She married Robert Wallace Billmire, who died in 1981, and together they raised three children. The family moved to San Diego in 1956. Helene loved nature, was an avid gardener, and enjoyed the wild birds at the birdbath, as well as the other Southern California wildlife that would frequent her gardens. Helene made many friends around the bridge table, and was a quilt nut - her handmade quilts continue to give pleasure to family and friends. Helene had a gift of assessing situations and people. Her quick mind and trust in her intuition allowed her to speak her mind with honesty. She had many great friendships, and kept in touch with her childhood friends and family in Iowa. Helene loved to travel and meet new people from around the world. Her journeys took her all over the United States, Europe, Africa, China and Australia. She greatly enjoyed spending time with her children, grandchildren, and great-grand-children. Helene will be held in the hearts of her children and their families. She is survived by Nancy Prey of San Diego, Beverly Hamm of Sebastopol, California, and Robert Scott Billmire of Spokane, Washington, and their spouses, seven grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren. There will be a memorial celebration of her life at her home in Rancho Bernardo (17035 Hierba Drive, San Diego, CA 92128) on Sunday, August 24th at 2 p.m.
