Introduction

Back in 2001, I researched my Herrmann family line. When people heard that I was writing a family history book, they often asked if I was of the Hermann Candy, or the Hermann Dairy, or Hermann Wagon Wheel family. My answer was that I was from the Hermann farmers, who lived in German Township, Vanderburgh County, Indiana.

In my research, I discovered other families with the last name of Hermann, Hermann or Herman, but they were not related to me. However, I kept records on what I had found for these two other families that were from different states in Germany. This helped me figure out who was candy, dairy, cigar or wagon wheel Herrmanns.

My GGG-Grandfather, Michael Herrmann, immigrated around 1845-1849 from the town of Steinfeld, Bavaria, Germany. Six of his children – Michael, John Michael, Katharina, Frank, Carl and George – also immigrated, but not together. From the county records in North Carolina, Michael Herrmann purchased 80 acres of land in Vanderburgh County, Indiana from Alfred Williams, Fabius I Hayward and Martha Hayward. The Warranty Deed of Sale, to Michael Herrmann, dated 6 Nov 1949, was recorded in Indiana, Vanderburgh County, Book R, Page 542. Michael was a grocer. John Michael was a farmer and sold his produce at the local farmers' market. Frank was a stagecoach driver, trader and grocery keeper. Carl was a cooper, and George was a cigar manufacturer.

The Jacob Hermann family lived in Evansville, Indiana. Jacob and Anna Maria (Ganz) Hermann were the parents of 9 children – Henry A, Jacob, John, Mary, Elizabeth, Suzanna, Margaret, Francis and Anna. Jacob was born in Wiesbaden, Hesse, Germany and immigrated in 1837. Jacob was a cabinet maker. His sons - Henry, Jacob and Francis – were confectioners and operated the Hermann Candy Store that was well known in the Evansville area.

The Philip Herrmann family was from Löllbach, Rhineland-Palatinate, Germany. Philip and Veronica (Rassweiler) Herrmann had three children – Johann Peter, Philip and an unnamed child. Only Johann Peter is known to have immigrated to the USA; and he and his wife, Anna Katharina Altes, settled in Racine, Wisconsin. They had eight children – John, Philipp, Jacob, Peter, Katherine, Charles, Frederick and Caroline. Their four sons, John, Jacob, Peter and Frederick, moved to Tell City, Indiana and operated a wagon making business. Katherine and Charles remained in Racine. Philipp died of yellow fever at the Isthmus of Panama on his way to California, while Caroline died in 1865. Frederick's son, John Lincoln Herrmann, owned and operated the Hermann Dairy.

Thus, three different families, from the German states Bavaria, Hesse, and Rhineland Palatinate, settled in the Evansville area, operated very prosperous businesses and contributed immensely to the local economy.

This book is a summary of my personal research, and is not meant to be an all-inclusive representation of the Jacob Hermann family. Other researchers are encouraged to use what I have assembled here and then continue with their research.

Because of mistakes in newspaper articles, government documents and mistakes in my typing, there may be errors. In various records, names were written in German, Latin or English. Thus, Maria could be recorded as Mary, Marie, Maria, or Marian, or Mariam. John could be recorded as Johann, Johannes, Joannes, John, Jno or Jon. Baptismal names included two to four names – a saint's name, a parent's name, the child's name and the surname. With a lack of consistency in records, it is very confusing, and mistakes can be made.

Through my research, on the Jacob Hermann family, I reached out to other genealogists who have researched their families in Vanderburgh County, Indiana. Rose Marie Hermann Bennett and Dorothy Mesker Hermann have shared their family databases with me. I acknowledge others' contribution in the Sources section.

To those that use this book, I wish you success in your family genealogy search.

Location of Wiesbaden, Hesse, Germany

The Province of Hesse-Nassau (German: Provinz Hessen-Nassau) was a province of the Kingdom of Prussia from 1868 to 1918, then a province of the Free State of Prussia until 1944. In 1944, Hesse-Nassau was split into the provinces of Kurhessen (capital in Kassel) and Nassau (capital in Wiesbaden). In 1945, after the end of World War II, these two provinces were merged and combined with the neighbouring Hesse-Darmstadt to form the northern and western part of the newly founded state of Hesse. Parts of Nassau were also moved into the Rhineland-Palatinate.

LOCATION

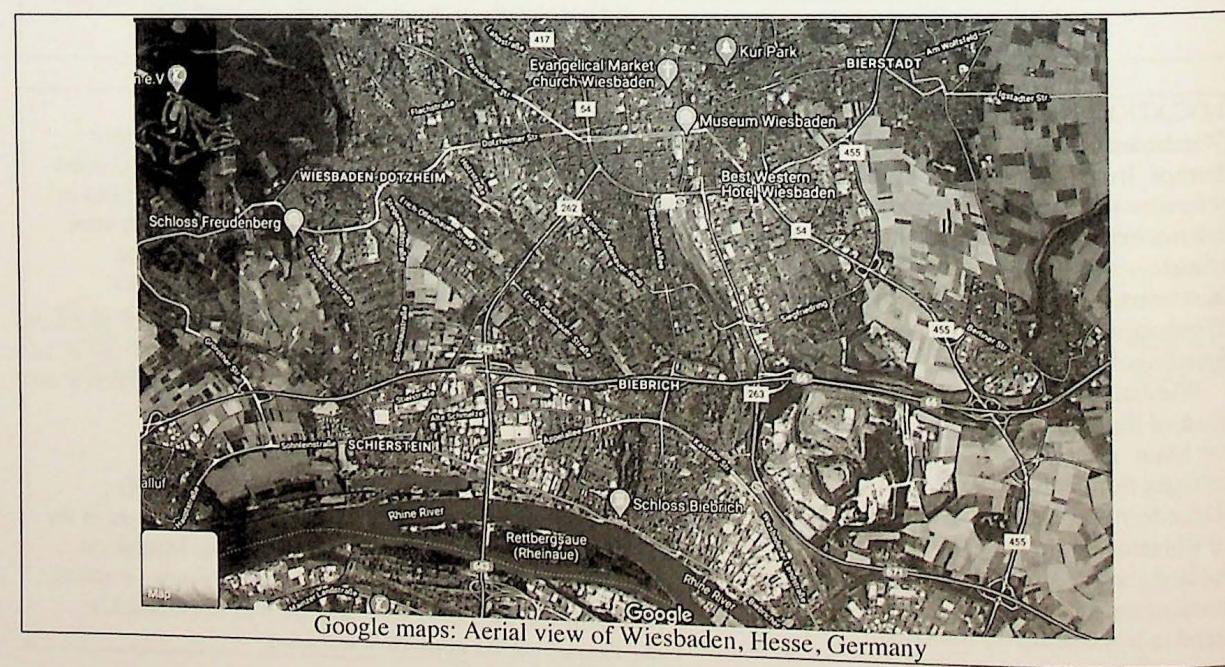

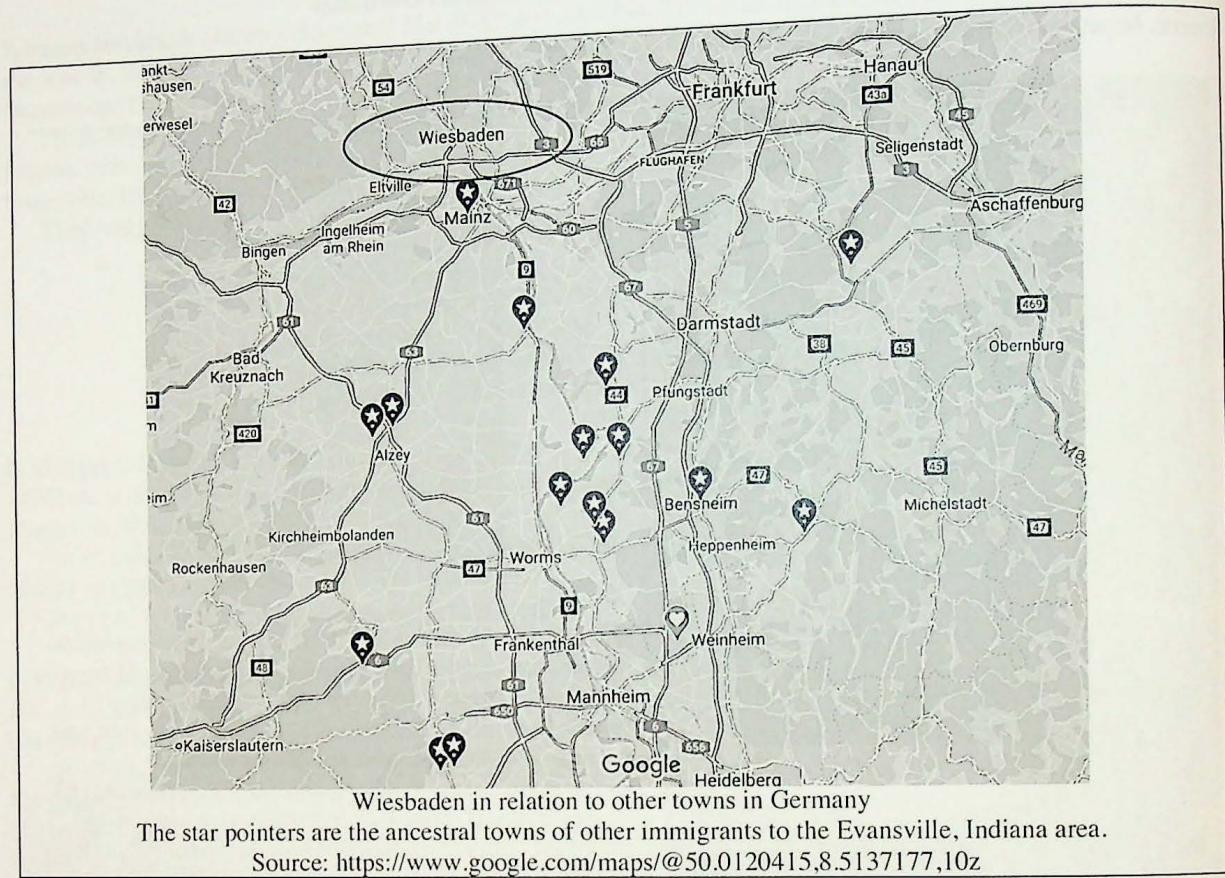

Wiesbaden is one of the oldest spa towns in Europe. Its name translates to "meadow baths", a reference to its famed hot springs. It is also internationally famous for its architecture and climate—it is also called the "Nice of the North" in reference to the city in France. At one time, Wiesbaden boasted 26 hot springs. As of 2008, fourteen of the springs are still flowing.

Wiesbaden is situated on the right (northern) bank of the Rhine, below the confluence of the Main, where the Rhine's main direction changes from north to west. The city is across the Rhine from Mainz, the capital of the federal state of Rhineland-Palatinate. Frankfurt am Main is located about 38 kilometres (23.6 mi) east. To the north of the city are the Taunus Mountains, which trend in a northeasterly direction.

HISTORY

While evidence of settlement at present-day Wiesbaden dates back to the Neolithic era, historical records document continuous occupancy after the erection of a Roman fort in 6 AD which housed an auxiliary cavalry unit. The thermal springs of Wiesbaden are first mentioned in Pliny the Elder's Naturalis Historia. They were famous for their recreation pools for Roman army horses and possibly as the source of a mineral used for red hair dye (which was very fashionable around the turn of BC/AD among women in Rome).

The Roman settlement is first mentioned using the name Aquae Mattiacorum (Latin for "Waters of the Mattiaci") in 121. The Mattiaci were a Germanic tribe, possibly a branch of the neighboring Chatti, who lived in the vicinity at that time. The town also appears as Mattiacum in Ptolemy's Geographia (2.10). The line of Roman frontier fortifications, the Limes Germanicus, was constructed in the Taunus not far north of Wiesbaden.

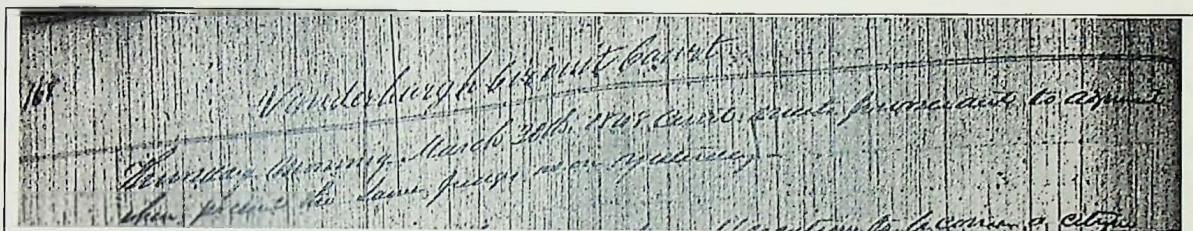

Immigration

According to family folklore, Jacob Hermann family emigrated on April 25, 1837, leaving from Wiesbaden, Hesse. No record of his immigration has been located yet.

Census Records

Source: National Archives and Records Administration, Washington, D.C.

The National Archives has the census schedules on microfilm available from 1790 to 1940, and online access is available through our digitization partners. Records were found using a paid subscription for Ancestry.com.

From 1850 on, the census records provide some details for individuals in each household. These details may include name, age at the time of census, country of birth, parents' birthplaces, year of immigration, street address, marriage status, occupation, value of real estate, value of personal belongings, whether the person could read, write or speak English, or if the household had a radio.

The records can help construct the family history, tell stories about the family, or help discover new relatives.

Here are the census records found for the first two - three generations of the Hermann family.

Hermann Candy Store
123 Main Street, Evansville, Indiana

Historical excerpts about the Hermann Candy Store

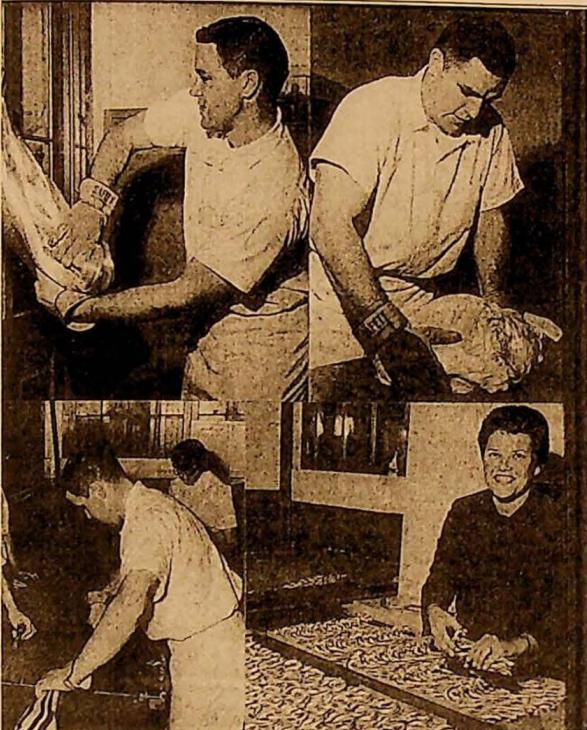

Henry A. Hermann stands with his son Henry, Jr., in front of the family's store at 123 Main St., nearly two decades after it opened in 1860. Hermann listed his profession as a 'candy manufacturer, confectioner and dealer in fruits, nuts, oysters, toys, fancy goods, &c.' When he died in 1910, his son took over the business, followed by several other generations of family members. Through the years, Hermann's developed a wide reputation for offering quality candy and homemade ice cream. Easter eggs, Christmas mice and Santas and over a hundred varieties of other handmade candy lured generations of customers to the popular store, recognized as one of Evansville's oldest continuing businesses before it was sold in 1964. Hermann's Candy Store, Oldest Retail Concern in Evansville

Evansville's oldest retail store this year is observing its 90th anniversary. It was one bright morning in Oct, 1860, that the doors to Hermann's candy store, 123 Main street, were opened for the first time for business.

Since then the business, founded by Henry Hermann, has been operated by four generations of the same family. Another unique feature of the now nationally-known concern is that candies now sold by Hermann's are made from the recipes conceived by the founder.

The business is now managed by Henry W. Hermann, great-grandson of the founder, Mrs. Walter Hermann, her daughter, Miriam Hermann Lattner and another son, Frederick G. Hermann.

Sold Many Lines

The original store, however, had little in common with the store of today,. Candy was only one of the many lines of merchandise sold by the elder Hermann.

The first store, for example, was the exclusive Evansville agency for Maltby's fresh Baltimore oysters. It also sold toys, fireworks, fruits, and cakes which according to a brochure of 1876 were offered as "great bargains to cash customers.":

The store featured mostly candy when Henry Hermann II took over the business at the turn of the century, although the retail sales included ice cream dolls and fountain service.

"Early candies manufactured at Hermann's were of the hard variety," Mr. Hermann said yesterday.

"Original recipes for most of the chocolate-cream, toffee and caramels are still used today."

"Walter Hermann was associated with his father, Henry, II, for 40 years before taking control of the business in 1935. His wife assumed ownership upon his death in 1937.

Today the H. Hermann store employs five full-time cooks in the kitchen while one woman does nothing but box the candy.

About 19 people work in the fountain department. Extra help is hired during rush seasons.

Last spring Hermann's opened a branch store at 2517 Washington avenue, in the Rosa Theater building.

For the convenience of their East Side customers, Hermann's stocks a complete assortment of its candies in this new store.

130 Flavors

A complete listing of Hermann's candies would include about 150 different varieties and flavors.

The store receives candy orders from every state in the union. A number of people in California, New York, Texas, and Arizona are regular customers.

Most of these customers are people who formerly lived in Evansville, or who have received Hermann's candy as a gift, Mr. Hermann said.

The store's out-of-town mailing list comprises a sheaf of typewritten names and addresses.

Dear relatives and friends,

Henry Walter Hermann was a quiet and gentle man. The gift of his life was reflected upon as his friends and relatives visited with his family in remembrance of Henry who died March 20, 1996. Your visit with the Hermann Family exemplifies your concern for them. How important it is in our busy world to think of our friends when they need us the most.

Born in Evansville, Indiana, the son of Irma Edna and Walter T. Hermann, he lived in his native city during most of his life. Henry's heritage was rich. His ancestors arrived in Evansville soon after Evansville was settled in the 1850's. Henry Hermann, the early originator of the Hermann Family, established a candy store in 1860 in Evansville. The Hermann Candy and Confectioners Shop grew and prospered. Later, ice cream was added to the list of delicacies. Hermann's Candy Shop became one of the most popular sites in the city. Community residents regarded a trip to Hermann's as a "fabulous treat." Hermann's was a major player in Evansville's business enterprises for 103 years.

Growing up in a family of five children was a rewarding experience for Henry. He graduated from Memorial High School and was attending college when his education was interrupted by World War II. After serving in the United States Army in the European Theatre, Henry returned home and completed his education. His friendship with a young lady named Clara "Billie" Steckler developed into a romance and they were soon married. Their happy union was blessed with five children, two sons, three daughters, three grandchildren and 47 years of endearment to each other. The Hermann household was a fun place to grow up, it was lively and filled with activities. Henry's sons, Walter and Henry said, "Our father was an outstanding role model for us. He established the highest standards of values for us to emulate."

After Henry's father, Walter, died in 1947, Henry, became the manager of Hermann's Candy Shop. He was young, but Henry had helped at the shop, even as a young boy. Later in his life, Henry worked at the J and H Service Company. After Henry retired, he and "Billie" decided to move to California. Their three daughters lived in the San Diego area and they found great pleasure living so close to their girls. In 1988 Henry and "Billie" made the big move West. For them, life in the famous western state was like a dream come true. Their home was located in a retirement atmosphere with countless choices of activities. Henry became the "ace" shuffleboard player. His son said, "My dad was always the winner." The Hermann's adjusted immediately to their new lifestyle, enjoyed their spacious home, the California weather and being a part of the neighborhood community.

After experiencing heart bypass surgery 10 years ago, Henry had enjoyed good health. Sadly, a few months ago, problems with his heart had again developed. Henry died peacefully after 73 years of a long and productive life. He was an honorable man who lived by the highest levels of integrity. Although his death leaves us with a sense of deep sadness, we will remember Henry as a gentleman and as a genuinely kind man. Those who knew Henry will be forever grateful to him for enriching their lives. On behalf of the Hermann Family we express their appreciation for your friendship, care and concern.

With warm regards, The Browning Family

Found Drowned - Old Citizen Missing for a week

His Body Found Floating in the River

April 18 1870 Evansville Journal

The body of Mr. Jacob Hermann, whose mysterious absence the city papers have published, was found yesterday about 2 o'clock, floating in the river near the sewer mouth, and close to the causeway approaching Lower Pigeon Creek Bridge.

When found the foot of the corpse was caught on some brush that projected a few inches out of the water and action of the waves caused by a passing steamer, threw a part of body in sight, and attracted the attention of a gentleman in the neighborhood, who drew the body ashore and sent a notice to the Coroner.

A crowd speedily assembling the body was recognized as that of Mr. Hermann.

Coroner Sauer arrived about 5 o'clock and held an inquest at which in addition to the facts above stated the circumstances of Mr. Hermann's illness supported partial delirium led them to bring a verdict of accidental drowning, it was supposed that in his delirium he wandered to the river in the night, fell in and was drowned.

There were no marks of violence found upon his person nor anything that would indicate that he was foully dealt with. Eleven dollars and forty five cents were found upon his person.

John Louis Hermann

LOUIS J HERMAN

Prominent attorney at law of Evansville was born in Evansville June 17, 1867. He graduated from the law department at Notre Dame Class of 1890. He began the practice of law with James T. Walker of Evansville in June of that year. His grand-parents were of the pioneer citizens of Evansville, having located here in 1835. His father, Jacob Herman, an enterprising candy manufacturer, was born in Evansville in 1842. His mother was Miss Mary Marshall, a daughter of Casper Marshall of Evansville.

Mr. Herman was for two years connected with Judge Peter Maier in the practice of his profession. Their partnership was discontinued in January 1897 when Mr. Robert Cox became the partner of Mr. Herman. He was married in 1894 to Miss Kate Garvey, one of Evansville's most talented and esteemed young ladies. Louis J. Herman has won distinction as a lawyer of unusual ability, and enjoys a large general practice. His reputation is not merely local, for he is one of the best known of the younger attorneys in Southern Indiana.

He was passionate about helping veterans and their survivors, and was awarded the Outstanding District Award in 2013 for Outstanding Service to the Veterans of the Eastern Essex District and to the Veterans of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Terry was a gifted speaker, participating in multiple Memorial Day and Veteran Day parades over the holiday weekends. He was a proud member of the American Legion Post 194 in Hamilton, and the Massachusetts Veterans Service Officers Association. Terry was born in Chicago, IL on August 30, 1948 to Lois (Unrath) and the late John P. Hart, career Coast Guardsman, of California. He was a 1966 graduate of Mt. Diablo High School in Concord, CA where he was student body president, ran cross-country, and played the French horn. Terry was a 1970 graduate of the United States Coast Guard Academy in New London, CT, serving over 27 years in the Coast Guard before retiring in 1997.

His military awards include the Legion of Merit, the Meritorious Service Medal, six Coast Guard Commendation Medals, and the Finland Life Saving Medal.

Terry enjoyed his community. He was a devoted member of Our Savior Lutheran Church, participating in much of their charitable work, enjoying weekly small groups, and teaching Sunday School and Youth Group for his children. Terry was an active member of the Georgetown Historical Society and Republican Town Committee. He had a love of history and politics, voraciously reading historical texts and believing in the democratic process and the right to vote. Terry was always helping at the voting polls and volunteering for campaigns he believed in. He was a soccer coach for his children, and loved going to all their sporting events - cheering them on loudly! He was a leader and Committee Chairman for Boy Scout Troop 50, proudly watching both his sons attain the rank of Eagle Scout. Terry loved large family gatherings, his neighbors, gardening, Celtic Women and playing cards.

Death is Sudden for Msgr. Ketter

The Right Rev. Monsignor Frederic Ketter, vicar general of the Evansville Diocese, died at 8:45 am. Sunday in St. Mary's Hospital, where a short time before he celebrated the 7:30 am mass. Father Ketter had made his home in the hospital since his resignation as pastor of St. Anthony's Catholic Church on July 13, 1950. He was 77.

He celebrated the golden anniversary of his ordination in July, 1948.

Born in Evansville, Father Ketter was the son of Henry and Elizabeth Hermann Ketter. He was ordained at St. Meinrad June 4, 1898, and celebrated his first holy mass at Holy Trinity Church the following June 12.

Named Pastor in 1898

On August 18, 1898, Father Ketter received his first appointment as pastor of the church and missions of Sullivan, Ind. On March 13, 1900, he succeeded Father Baron as pastor of St. John's Church in Warrick County. He later succeeded Father J. Bauer as pastor of St. Vincent's Church, Shelby County, and returned to Evansville in June 1918, to become pastor of St. Mary's Church. He remained pastor of St. Mary's until he went to St. Anthony's in September, 1930, after the death of the Rev. Father Killian Schott. He had been pastor of St. Anthony's for nearly 20 years when ill health and a bad heart forced his retirement.

Pope Pius Honors Him

A special honor was bestowed upon him on March 24, 1933, when he was appointed Domestic Prelate by His Holiness, Pope Pius XI. The investiture ceremony was performed the following May 21 in St. Anthony's Church by the Most Rev. Joseph Chartrand, bishop of Indianapolis.

One year later Father Ketter was appointed Rural Dean and in 1937 he was named Parish Priest Consultor. He was appointed the First Vicar General of the newly created Diocese of Evansville on January 8, 1945, and the following Feb. 5 was designated Prothonotary Apostolic by Pope Pius XII.

The Monsignor endeared himself to his parishioners at St. Anthony's by his tireless labor for them. Probably one of his greatest achievements was the building of the present school building.

Faithful to Duties

The Most Rev. Henry J. Grimmelsman, bishop of Evansville, said of Father Ketter: "Monsignor Ketter was faithful to his duties from the beginning of his priesthood until the end, more than 52 years. He served as an example to priests and people of a thoroughly Christian life. He was a model of faith, humility and zeal." Father Ketter was a fourth degree member of the Knights of St. John. The organization's local chapter was named in his honor. He also was a fourth-degree member of the Knights of Columbus and was spiritual director of the St. Henry Society of St. Anthony's Church. The body has been taken to Ziemer Funeral Home.

Bishop Grimmel'sman Praises Life of Monsignor F. Ketter
Says He's Man who Lived Up To The Ideals Of Priesthood interiorly and Exteriorly

The following is the complete text of the sermon which Bishop Henry J. Grimmel'sman gave at the Pontifical Solemn High Requiem Mass celebrated for Monsignor Frederic Ketter, Vicar General of the Diocese, Wednesday, January 31:

May the lowly homage of my service be pleasing to Thee, Most Holy Trinity, and grant that the sacrifice which I, all unworthy, offered in the sight of Thy majesty may be acceptable to Thee, and by Thy mercy, atone for me and all those for whom I offered it.

(The Placeat of the Mass)

Last Sunday Monsignor Ketter, Vicar General of the diocese of Evansville celebrated mass. God accepted his last Placeat tibi Sancta Trinitas," his sacrifice was consummated, a noble priest commended his soul to God. Before he could leave the sanctuary, priest and chalice fell to the floor and that soul was in the hands of its Creator.

Father Ketter had just received His Redeemer and Judge in Holy Communion and had prayed, "Quod ore sumpsimus Domine pura mente capiamus et demunere temporali flat nobis remedium sepiternum." He had partaken of the Bread of Heaven, the Pledge of that eternal life he was so soon to begin. Then he had spoken these words of the liturgy, "Corpus tuum Domine Quod sumpsi et sanguis quem potavi adhuc erat visceribus meis et praesta ut in me non remaneat scelerum macula quem pura et sancta refecerunt sacramenta." They of us who know with what fervor this priest prepared his heart for every Holy Mass, how joyfully he celebrated these Divine Mysteries during his last illness whenever his waning strength would permit, and how he dreaded to think that increasing weakness might soon deprive him entirely of this great privilege will appreciate what these words meant to him when he spoke them for the last time. He had just been washed wholly clean from the least stain. His soul was immaculate for its flight to heaven and its meeting with the All-Holy God.

To us it seems altogether fitting that God called Monsignor Ketter to Himself at the end of the Holy Sacrifice, for the Mass was the center of this priest's day, the joy of his priesthood, the source of his charity and zeal. Often he had prayed in the divine office, "elegit eum Dominus sacerdotem sibi, ad sacrificandum ei hostiam laudis." Indeed, God had chosen him to be His own priest in order that he might offer the sacrifices of praise and thanksgiving. Fidelity to vocation was not the least of Monsignor Ketter's merits.

The record of Fredic Ketter's years on earth is too well known to require other than a scant summary. He was born in Evansville in 1874. Educated at Holy Trinity school and at St. Meinrad seminary Frederic Ketter was ordained to the priesthood June 4, 1898 and offered his First Mass in Holy Trinity church on the twelfth of that month. On the eighteenth of the following August the young priest was appointed pastor of St. Mary church, Sullivan, with its missions. In 1900 Bishop Chatard confided to his care the parish of St. John in Warrick county and the mission at Petersburg. He became pastor of St. Vincent parish, Prescott in 1906. On June 26, 1918 Father Ketter returned to Evansville as pastor of St. Mary where he remained until September 17, 1930 when he was transferred to this parish of St. Anthony. He served as diocesan consultor for the Indianapolis diocese from 1930, as dean of the Evansville deanery beginning in 1934, and as parish priest consultor from 1937. January 8, 1945 he was chosen Vicar General of the Evansville diocese and dean of the Evansville deanery. Pius XI had elevated him to the rank of Domestic Prelate on March 24, 1933 and in 1945 Pius XII raised him to the rank of Prothonotary Apostolic.

Brief as this summary is it tells in what esteem our departed priest was held by his superiors. His brother priests and the people he served with complete devotion hold him in equal reverence. Priests saw in Monsignor Ketter a man who lived up to the ideals of the priesthood that had been held up for his and their imitation in the seminary-ideals of blameless conduct, devotion to duty, reverence for holy things and reverence for the priesthood they shared with him, ideals that have stressed by Pius X and XI and but a few months ago by the reigning Holy Father. Indeed, if we read the beautiful letter of Pius XII, "Menti nostrae" we can truthfully say the character and conduct of our departed father and friend are those portrayed.

Faith was sturdy in this priest of God. Faith determined his thought and action. A man of faith is a man of prayer. Father Ketter was a man of prayer. Arising in the morning he began each day on his knees with morning prayer and meditation. Throughout the day he sought help from God for all his tasks. He was ever faithful to the practice of assisting at all church services for he loved the beauty of the house of the Lord and the place where dwells the Eucharistic King. Observant eyes, wondered at the regularity of this priest's daily life of prayer and work and his unswerving fidelity to duty.

It was Monsignor Ketter's duty to remind his spiritual children that Christ had made them Christians to walk "holy and unspotted in His sight in charity" (Ephesians 1,4). Not alone in word or deeds but by the persuasive example of his entire way of living he taught this lesson. Ever conscious of the truth that the priest must live both interiorly and exteriorly a holier life than lay people and must excel them in giving example of virtue (C.I.C. can.124), his conduct was blameless.

In our day when men are so careless of outward deportment, when scandal is so readily given by unseemly behavior and associations, it is no mean testimony we give when we bear witness that Monsignor Ketter walked humbly, without pretense or show, indifferent to the praise modestly, justly and piously in his world, unaware that his brother priests and all who knew him looked on him as one who honored the Christian priesthood by conduct becoming his holy calling. It was the sheer goodness of the man shining through that demanded the reverence of the world. He realized perfectly that individual integrity and personal sanctity are the sine qua non of a virtuous ministry. Monsignor Ketter was nothing if not genuine. That is why the blessing of God rested on his work and why men bless his memory. And it was this sincerity of the true priest that made him love his priestly co-workers, and seek their company for consultation and recreation. If it is an indication of the lack of the priestly spirit to shun the society of priests, it is a sign of true priestliness to have a predilection for the company who share the graces, the powers and the responsibilities of sacerdotal ordination. His time, his ear and his counsel were generously given to any priest who came to him with problems, personal or pastoral. Patient kindness was the very essence of the man. Some misunderstood his quiet composure as lack of courage and incisiveness. A few were impatient at a seeming dilatoriness in taking action, but Monsignor Ketter knew that people, especially the erring and the less well instructed cannot always be hurried, while not even circumstances regularly yield to man's impatience, nor does God. Wisdom had taught the priest that there was a world of truth in the saying, "The mills of God grind slowly but exceedingly fine."

Like the Master he served it was his meekness that conquered. His opinions expressed quietly to his equals, to his spiritual children and to his ordinary carried due weight and were not lightly disregarded or rejected. Gentleness is rarely defeated. Monsignor Ketter was a gentle priest. Rarely did he blame and more rarely still was his voice raised in rebuke. Obedient and respectful in eminent degree to all authority he neither fawned nor flattered. He never asked for special consideration. Not once did he speak to me of his own service for the Church. To be the faithful servant of God was simply his duty. Why should anyone thing better of him for that?

Devotion to duty was the mark of his pastoral administration. Despite the burden of age, he continued to do his full share of work until physical exhaustion compelled him to call a halt. When he became aware that his health had definitely failed he quietly offered his resignation from the parish he loved and that had become his whole life. When the suggestion was made that he let his able and willing assistants carry on the work and that he be content to advice and direct, his acute sense of personal responsibility made him press the point that a younger and more vigorous man be permitted to take his place. here was heroic disinterestedness. The work of Christ must prosper let the cost to the friend of Christ be what it may. With the Baptist Monsignor Ketter would say, "Illum oportet erescere, me autem minui" (John 3,30)

Let us pause now. We might have mentioned Monsignor Ketter's interest in young and old of his spiritual flock, his fatherly care of the sick continued to the very end of his days, the time for the truth, to the wayward, the poor, the students for the priesthood, to bridal couples, and the adequate school building erected in St. Anthony parish. Had we intended a eulogy all this and more would have clamored for utterance. Today we spoke chiefly to edify or better we let his life preach to us. In the words of St. Paul that life tells us, "Be you imitators of me as I am of Christ" (I Corinthians 4,16). We have stressed what Monsignor Ketter was rather than what he did. Many as were his accomplishments, it is the man more than the deeds that will prompt us to follow in his footsteps.

For the rest, "Euge serve bone et fidelis!" May the Redeemer you loved and for whom you sacrificed on the altar of this church and on the altar of your priestly heart to the last minute of your life and the last ounce of your strength accept your sacrifice and welcome you to your eternal reward. They who labored at your side in the holy ministry will always remember you at the hour of the morning sacrifice, and the thousands of the faithful who have received the graces of the clean oblation and the sacraments through your anointed hands will be ever mindful of you their beloved pastor, their sure guide and unfailing friend. Ave, anima pia!

Stanley Thomas Galloway

We walk through life trying to find definition. We look for experiences that will "make" us. We are drawn to people who help us discover who we are. And we weave into these experiences a common thread that is unique to each one of us. For Stan, this common thread was the tendency to make something extraordinary out of the ordinary. As a son and sibling, he weaved a sense of quiet strength and independence into his childhood and adolescence with an always-available encouraging word for his four brothers and one sister.

As a veteran, he weaved a commitment to excellence into his service and was commended with a Bronze Star Medal during the Vietnam War. As a professional, he weaved into his career a responsibility for not only his own development but the advancement of his staff and an unwavering accountability to his colleagues. He was proud to be a part of the hospital service industry, completing his service with Steris Corporation.

As a husband, he weaved a sense of adventure into his 29 years of marriage, continually looking for new opportunities, his family moved several times affording his family a variety of experiences. As a road warrior, he weaved a passion into riding motorcycles with his wife and son.

He accomplished a life dream by riding to the Sturgis Motorcycle Rally in 2005. He was an annual presence at the South Padre "Roar by the Shore" Biker Rally.

His favorite attire was a pair of jeans coupled with a Harley Davidson shirt. To his son, he weaved into fatherhood lessons like generosity of heart, self-reliance, and the importance of actions over words. He held a resilient and steadfast hope for the happiness of his daughter.

As a grandfather, he was known as "Papa" and lovingly weaved into his ten grandchildren's lives a sense of silliness, patience, nicknames that prompted giggles from toddler to teenager, and a high standard for the best homemade spaghetti and cookies in the world...no...in the universe.

As an entrepreneur, he founded Papa Soap, and weaved into his small business a talent for inventing unexpected creations of soap and other products.

In woodworking, he created handmade gifts for his family and memories with his son.

In everything Stan experienced, he weaved in his uniqueness, and touched lives that will forever be grateful. Among them were those who preceded him in death - his sister Sandra, brother John Steven, and father Harry Joseph Jr.

As well as those who embraced him with love as he passed on - his wife Estella; son Jonathan; daughter Christina; siblings Sonny (Julie), Sidney (Kari), Scott (Ginger), and Sharon; stepchildren Onesimo and Melissa Perez, Dave and Sonia Lopez, Dino and Terry Perez; his grandchildren Elise, Caroline, Jacob, Isabel, Sophia, Olivia, Christopher, Zach, Joseph, Chloe, and Layla; and several nieces and nephews.

We will celebrate the fullness of his 62 years on this earth with a Funeral Service, Friday , July 4, 2014 , 8:30 AM Fort Sam Houston National Cemetery , 1520 Harry Wurzbach Rd.
