In honor of the Friederich Steinmetz Family

Introduction

According to family folklore, Friederich Steinmetz was from Wachenheim, once part of Bavaria, Germany, and now part of Rhineland-Palatinate, Germany.

I was curious if my GG-Grandmother, Margaretha Steinmetz, who married Leonard Adam, in New Orleans, Louisiana, was a relative of Friederich Steinmetz. All records that I found for Margaretha indicated that she was from Hesse, a different state of Germany than Bavaria. After much research, it was determined even though they had the same surname, there was no way to connect them. Checking my DNA matches, I found no match to the descendants of Friederich Steinmetz.

Through my research, I reached out to numerous genealogists who have researched other families in Vanderburgh County, Indiana. They have shared their family databases with me. I acknowledge their help: Cyril & Wilma Ubelhor, Barbara Goeddc, Linda Schmitt, Clem Weiss, Fr. David Nunning, Brian Lankford and Leroy Kercher. Additionally, Knox Pitts provided house photos and information on the family through his family tree and postings on Ancestry.com. I thank him for his assistance,

This book is a summary of my research, and is not meant to be an all-inclusive representation of the Friederich Steinmetz family. Other researchers are encouraged to use what I have assembled and continue with their research. Because of mistakes in newspaper articles, government documents and mistakes in my typing, there may be errors.

To those that use this book, I wish you success in your family genealogy search.

Ancestral town of the Friederich Steinmetz Family
Wachenheim, Germany

Wachenheim an der Weinstraße (formerly called Wachenheim im Speyergau) is a small town in the Bad Dürkheim district in Rhineland-Palatinate, Germany, roughly 1 km south of Bad Dürkheim and 20 km west of Ludwigshafen. It is known above all else for its various businesses in the field of winegrowing, and in particular for Sekt.

Wachenheim lies in the Middle Haardt at the eastern edge of the Palatinate Forest and is also the seat of the eponymous Verbandsgemeinde, to which also belong the neighboring places of Friedelsheim, Gönheim and Ellerstadt, themselves also characterized by winegrowing and also partly by fruit growing.

Through Wachenheim runs the German Wine Route, which used to be the same road as Bundesstraße 271. To relieve the traffic load, a bypass road was built in the 1990s that runs east of Wachenheim, linking Bad Dürkheim with Neustadt an der Weinstraße.

The town also has a halt on the single-tracked Pfälzische Nordbahn (Neustadt–Monsheim), at which Regionalbahn trains stop according to Rhineland-Palatinate timetabling.

STEINMETZ.

A Terror of Springtown in 'Squire Francke's Court.

Bernhard Steinmetz, a big burly fellow of Springtown, seems to have quite a taste for assaulting persons weaker than himself, and has no compunction about whipping members of his own family at will. His wife has filed an affidavit against him in 'Squire Francke's court charging him with assault and battery.

Some months ago he was tried in Squire Elmendorf's court for beating his aged father, because he would not give him a farm. The old man was finally forced to give up the farm. Steinmetz is also said to have assaulted a number of other persons all of whom were much smaller and weaker than himself.

The Wife of a Prominent Farmer Takes Her Own Life.

Mrs. Steinmetz, Disappointed in Getting a New Dress, Commits Suicide—A Horrible Death.

Word reached the city yesterday of the death by suicide of Mrs. Steinmetz, an aged lady and the wife of an old and well-to-do farmer, whose place is about six miles from the city on the Princeton road.

Mrs. Steinmetz, it is said, was about sixty-eight years of age and rather childish, and when things did not suit her she would lose her temper and worry and fret as a result, and it is believed she was in one of these spells or temporarily insane when the deed was committed.

It seems that Mr. Steinmetz came to the city on Saturday, and had been told by his wife to get certain articles for her among which was a new dress. The husband, in his hurry to transact his business, forgot his wife's message, as husbands usually do, and returned home empty handed.

This put Mrs. Steinmetz in anything but an amiable mood. An hour or so later she became very sick and vomited frequently. The family did all they possibly could for her, but little dreamed that the old lady had made an attempt on her life. Her condition grew worse and a physician was sent for. He arrived sometime later, but was unable to do anything to prolong the life of Mrs. Steinmetz, who died a couple of hours or so after his arrival. The physician came to the conclusion, shortly after his arrival, that Mrs. Steinmetz had taken poison, as her symptoms indicated as much. A search for the deadly drug was then instituted, when it was discovered that she had taken a dose of Paris green.

The deceased was a most estimable lady and had a large acquaintance in this city, where the announcement of her death will cause quite a shock. She was an aunt of Mrs. Nicholas Eiles and the mother of Mrs. Henry Schenek, who resides on outer Main street.

No inquest was held, as the attending physician issued a certificate of death.
