1. Introduction

The purpose of this study is to investigate the effects of the independent variable on the dependent variable. The study is designed to provide a comprehensive overview of the relationship between the two variables.

2. Methodology

The study was conducted using a quantitative research design. Data was collected through a series of experiments and analyzed using statistical methods.

3. Results

The results of the study indicate a significant positive correlation between the independent variable and the dependent variable. The data suggests that as the independent variable increases, the dependent variable also tends to increase.

4. Discussion

The findings of this study have important implications for the field of research. They suggest that the relationship between the independent and dependent variables is not only significant but also consistent across different conditions.

5. Conclusion

In conclusion, the study has demonstrated a clear and significant relationship between the independent and dependent variables. Further research is needed to explore the underlying mechanisms of this relationship.

Introduction – About this book

How This Book Came To Be

As I was researching my ancestors, I came across many connections to the Laugel surname. Sometimes I was related, sometimes not. To keep all the family branches organized, I thought it would be a good idea to put together a book for easy reference as I continued my research to more generations back in time for my ancestors and relatives. Herrmann, Koressel, Marx, Reising and Ziliak are a few of surnames for the branches that I have researched.

This book was no intended to be a “final” product, nor a complete accounting of all descendants. It is a good effort of documenting all of those Laugel descendants in one book.

Thus, I researched and created this Laugel Descendants for my personal collection.

How to read and understand this book

This book is divided into sections. The first section is about the move From France/Germany to America. It contains pictures, maps and stories about the ancestral town for the Laugel family.

The second section is the genealogy report for the Descendants of Francois Laugel.

The third section is the genealogy report for the Descendants of John Laugel.

The fourth section is the genealogy report for the Descendants of Michael Laugel.

In the second, third and fourth sections, the listing of information is shown in a family history report format. This format includes the legal outline numbering system, the name of the descendants (children, children's children, etc.) with information about each descendant along the way. For easy reference, the legal outline numbering system and names are in bold. More information on reading this reporting scheme is included prior to the report. Women are listed by their maiden names.

In each of the second, third, and fourth sections is the Descendant Index, which consists of the name and the genealogy code number to help you find those descendants and their spouses mentioned in this book. Spouses and parents of the spouses are not listed, but their names appear with the descendant.

Lastly, are the Sources and citation of the information. In the genealogy report, superscripts behind each descendant's name relate to the sources of information or the documents located for that descendant. If there is no superscript, then the information was provided by word of mouth.

Ancestral town of Mommenheim, Departement Du Bas-Rhin, Alsace, France

According to family stories, the Laugel families were from Mommenheim, Departement Du Bas-Rhin, Alsace, France.

Mommenheim is a commune in the Bas-Rhin Department in Grand Est in north-eastern France.

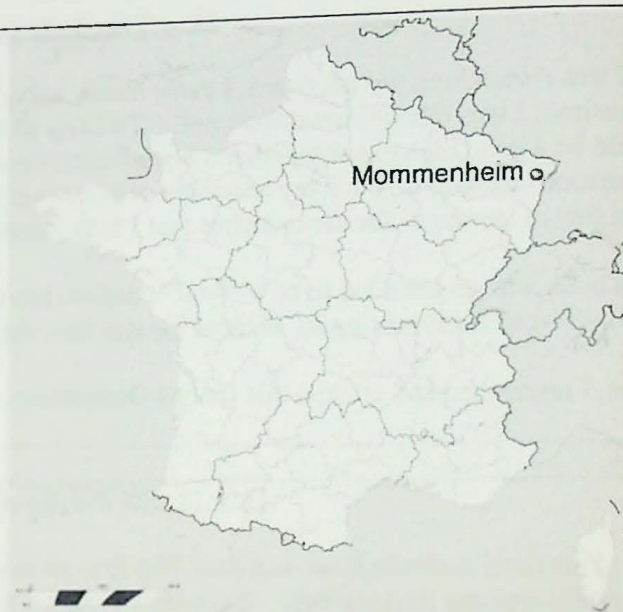

In the administrative divisions of France, the Department is one of the three levels of government below the national level, between the administrative regions and the commune. Ninety-six departments are in metropolitan France, and five are overseas departments, which are also classified as regions. Departments are further subdivided into 334 arrondissements, themselves divided into cantons: the last two have no autonomy, and are used for the organization of police, fire departments, and sometimes, elections.

Grand Est- (French pronunciation: [ɡʁɑ̃t ɛst]; English: Great East, German: Großer Osten—both in the Alsatian and the Lorraine Franconian dialect), previously Alsace-Champagne-Ardenne-Lorraine (ACAL or less commonly, ALCA), is an administrative region in eastern France. It superseded three former administrative regions—Alsace, Champagne-Ardenne, and Lorraine—on 1 January 2016, as a result of territorial reform which was passed by the French legislature in 2014.

Alsace-Champagne-Ardenne-Lorraine was a provisional name, created by hyphenating the merged regions in alphabetical order; its regional council had to approve a new name for the region by 1 July 2016.

France's Conseil d'État approved Grand Est as the new name of the region on 28 September 2016, effective 30 September 2016. The administrative capital and largest city is Strasbourg.

Notes on the Genealogy Report

Errors and apology for the errors

No doubt there are errors. I apologize to all whose names I have misspelled, or typed in incorrect dates or data. Often times, names were written as the recorder heard the name phonetically. Many were given a religious first name and a middle name by which they were called. Additionally, some children were given nicknames, but when they became adults, they went by their birth name. Thus, it is difficult at times to figure out what their legal name was.

Facts

The report may contain the following documented or acquired facts for each descendant:

Legal Outline Number, name of descendant, citation number, birth, military service, death, burial, employment or occupation, marriage, spouse, spouse's parents, children, stepchildren (if requested). Not all facts are available for every descendant.

Photographs

I did my best to keep the pictures of family members all on the same page or the next page. Group photos from the same branch of the family tree are on the same page or a group of pages.

Some of the photographs have been retouched to remove cracks, tears or blemishes in the picture. The quality of the picture varies with the quality of the original picture. The majority of the pictures were cropped to fit the space on the pages.

The size of the photograph depended on the quality of the picture when enlarged or reduced and the style of the page with the amount of space available. All color photos were converted to gray scale.

Sources and the Citation Number

Following the name is the source citation numbers in superscript. A source identifies the origin of information, that is, who or what gave me the written information about that person. Most of the Laugel relatives have one or more source citation numbers. Those that do not have a citation number did not have a written record made available, and the name and information came from someone's memory, was by word of mouth or hearsay.

The sources appear as endnotes, listed together at the end of the genealogy reports. All sources were acquired from public records, or were obtained with permission from the personal information given on the group sheets, e-mails, phone calls or letters to the author, and became the property of the author.

Numbering Method

The Genealogy Report uses the Legal Outline Numbering Method to code each person with a number. The report begins with Francois, Joseph or Michael as the source, who is given the number 1. Then it moves forward in time - down the branches, as it were. The first child is given the number "1.1". Then, the second child, is has the number "1.2". The third child is assigned the code 1.3.

Read the numbers from right to left. For example, a number of 1.2.3.4 means "the 4th child of the 3rd child of the 2nd child of the source person 1".

Descendants of a couple

The Genealogy Report shows the descendants of a person, even if that person was married multiple times. If either the bloodline husband or wife had multiple spouses, then the descendants of their other spouses are not listed unless those stepchildren were adopted or specifically requested to be included in this book. Stepchildren and step-grandchildren are not typically listed. However, adopted children are listed as a descendant.

Asterisk by a name

An asterisk by a person's name indicates an additional marriage or offspring by another relationship. Descendants with more than one spouse receive a lowercase alphabet letter suffix for each of their marriages. For all succeeding generations, trace the descendants to the correct ancestor by the letter suffix. To trace future generations from a person's two marriages, the first marriage includes the suffix "a" and the second marriage includes the suffix "b." Putting it another way, you can tell which ancestor's marriage produced which descendants by looking at the letter in the Legal outline number.

"LAUGEL IS DEAD" SENT ALONG LINE

News of Conductor's Death Cast
Sorrow Over E. & T. H.
Employes

IN SERVICE 38 YEARS

Felt That His End Had Come and
Made Will in Presence of Fellow Employes

Death of "Grand Old Man" Characteristic of His Life, Calm and Peaceful

When John Laugel, one of the oldest conductors in the employ of the E. & T. H. railroad, passed away Saturday morning at Deaconess hospital this message was immediately telegraphed to every station on the line:

"Laugel is dead."
The demise of the popular conductor caused sorrow in every office of the road and brought grief to the heart of every man in the employ of the system. He was known to them as the "grand old man" of the line and, kind for his acquaintances men and women of every walk of life. To every person in the small stations, to every man in the train service, in the shops, in the offices he was known and loved.

He had been in the employ of the company for thirty-eight years, either in the capacity of brakeman or conductor and through his careful and conscientious service never cost the road a penny in the way of accidents.

At the time of his being taken ill, he was a passenger conductor and had been on the same run for a number of years. He told his friends when he heard that he would have to go to the hospital for an operation that he felt that his time had come and made his will in the presence of two of his fellow workers.

Mr. Laugel was taken to the hospital a week ago Friday. An operation for gall stones was made and although he fought manfully to recover, his battle was in vain and Saturday morning he sank peacefully to rest. His wife and son and daughter were at his bedside and his death was characteristic of his entire life—calm and peaceful.

John Laugel was born in Alsace, then under the French, and now under the German flag on Dec. 26, 1844. His parents emigrated to the United States when he was only 9 years old and located at Vincennes, which is the home of the Laugel family, and where his father and mother are both buried.

Mr. Laugel's first railroading was on the O. & M. as messenger at Vincennes for about six months in 1862 when he was only 18 years old. Then he entered the O. & M. shops at Vincennes to learn a mechanic's trade, and he was there for several years. In 1864 he went on the O. & M. as a freight brakeman and in February, 1865, he took service on the E. & T. H.

From 1865 to 1870 he was a freight and passenger brakeman and ran baggage part of the time. In 1870 he was made a freight conductor and this position he held until August, 1877, when he became a passenger conductor, which position he was still holding when he died, making the period of that service twenty-five years.

Evansville has been Mr. Laugel's home for a quarter of a century. When he ran freight he lived at Terre Haute for about a year and a half. In 1870 he was married to Miss Louise Weisenberger of this city. She died in 1900.

Carolyn Marie Stucki

Carolyn Marie (Stucki) Wolf passed away on December 27, 2009. She was born November 9, 1942. Carolyn was a North High School graduate. She continued her education by graduating from Deaconess Nursing School and the University of Evansville with a master's degree in nursing. In the 90s, she became an honorary Kentucky Colonel.

Before retiring, she was employed at St. Mary's and Deaconess Hospitals. At times, the hours were long and stressful. She loved to help people in their time of need. Her patients and fellow nurses were her second family. She did her best to care for all. Carolyn was a daughter, mother, sister and grandmother to a family that cared for her deeply. All who knew her well and even those whose path she briefly crossed will miss her. She is now with her father (Donald T. Stucki) in heaven watching over her family. She is survived by her mother, Laura L. Stucki, son, Tom Wolf, daughter, Tonia (Wolf) Kusumi, brothers and sisters-in-law, Mike and Kathy Stucki, J and Mary Stucki and Teddy and Debbie Stucki, sister, Gloria, daughter-in-law, Laura Wolf, son-in-law, Rod Kusumi, grandchildren, Brandon and Allie Wolf. Additionally, she is survived by aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews and cousins whom she was very close.

Carolyn enjoyed watching classic movies, listening to Elvis Presley music, traveling to Brown County, Ind., with her mother to see the fall foliage and Gatlinburg in the summer. She did achieve many of her goals, one of which was visiting Disney World and meeting Mickey Mouse in her fifties.

She had a great sense of humor. She could laugh at herself-It didn't matter as long as everyone was having fun. Carolyn will be missed for many reasons including her sense of compassion, fun-loving and youthful spirit, as well as, bringing out the best in others.

Birth: 20 Sep 1946, Illinois
Death: 5 Feb 2016, Elmhurst, IL; Cremation
Spouse: James Mowers

Sarah Jo Hermanson age 69 longtime resident of Elmhurst passed away on February 5, 2016. Sarah Jo struggled with Parkinson's disease and Multiple System Atrophy. This eventually made even the simplest tasks difficult or impossible for her to do.

She is survived by her husband of 38 years James Mowers. She is also survived by her sister Kristine and brother-in-law David Weber, niece Margaret Weber (husband Justin Bangs) and nephew Andrew Weber (wife Margaret Lieker Weber). Among her survivors are brother-in-law Wesley Earl Moore, nieces Kari Lynne Moore and Melissa Ann Moore.

She was preceded by her parents Howard and Jane Hermanson.

Since early childhood Sarah Jo had a great love of art Her greater artistic focus was in ceramics of all forms and jewelry making, she had a lifelong love of drawing, painting and photography. She graduated for Northern Illinois University with a BA, MA and MFA degrees in Ceramics. Her creativity with pottery could range from rugged and sculptural with seemingly raw edges to smooth and functional or even whimsical. Her artistic skills expanded to include jewelry making and photography. She was a participant in numerous juried art fairs and exhibitions. Besides her work as an artist she taught at Loyola University and for over 35 years at the college of DuPage. While stressing the basic fundamentals of how good art is constructed, she tried to encourage her students to explore their own way in art. Sarah Jo had great love in gardening. She enjoyed that there was something in bloom from early spring when snows are still on the ground till late fall when frost put an end to that year's flowers. A memorial will be held on Saturday April 23, 2016 at the First Congregational United Church of Christ, 235 S Kenilworth Ave. Elmhurst, IL 60126.

Cyclone Vented Fury on Goedde Homestead

Demolished House Killing Instantly Three of its Occupants— Moved to Reisinger's Place Laying Waste to Everything in Its Path— Many Experience Narrow Escapes— Heavy Loss Sustained.

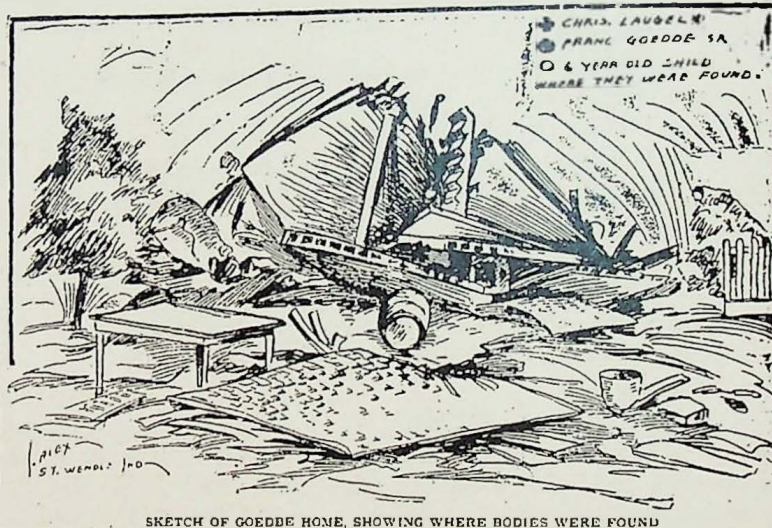

(By Harry Coogan.)

Sunday morning a morning contrast to the ruin and desolation wrought by the cyclone of Saturday afternoon, the sun shone bright in a clear sky down on the devastated country-side near St. Wendell. The roads were thronged with buggies bearing people from all parts of the country to the scene of the catastrophe and before 11 o'clock the fields were covered with eager sight-seers discussing the cyclone.

The residence of Frank Ludeman, living on the New Harmony road, Adam Grise in Parker's Settlement and Peter Wolf and Adam Reisinger near St. Wendell, were severely damaged by the cyclone, but it seems that the cyclone vented its fury on the residence of Frank Goedde and here indeed is a scene of wreck and ruin. The entire house was lifted from its foundation and in a few seconds' time twisted by the swirling demon into a wreck, the walls collapsing and the roof falling in, imprisoning the helpless inmates in the ruins.

From all accounts the cyclone appeared about 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon and it struck the Goedde residence at 3:40 o'clock. The latter fact was ascertained Sunday by a Courier representative who interviewed Frank Goedde, one of the men who escaped uninjured from the ruins. He stated that the clock in the house was correct and this clock when Eshed from the debris indicated 3:40.

The people in the house at the time it was struck were Frank Goedde, sr., Frank Goedde, jr. and wife with her little 6-months-old child, little Andrew Goedde, their son, a 4-year-old, also Christopher Laugel, the hired man, and his brother Wendell Laugel, a carpenter from Evansville. The Laugel boys were brothers of Mrs. Frank Goedde. When the cyclone struck the Goedde residence all were in the house. They passed his eighty-third year. The old man was just stepping out of the kitchen and was pinioned in the doorway, his head crushed to a jelly by a falling piece of timber and his body terribly mangled.

In the meantime Mrs. Frank Goedde, who had been knocked unconscious and who still held the baby in her arms, crawled out from the ruins. She had been near the stove and when the walls fell one of them fell on the stove and she being on the floor, was not injured beyond a few bad bruises. The 6-months-old child was crawling lustily and unscathed.

Wendell Laugel got out of the wreck and does not know how he did it. He was unscathed except for a few bruises.

Frank Goedde was knocked unconscious and does not know himself how he got out of the ruins. Just after Frank Goedde came out of the debris the voice of his little 6-year-old son was heard to call once. He cried "Help, papa! Help." But his little soul had fled before they reached the place he had called from.

As they were going to the rescue of the boy the voice of Christopher Laugel was also heard and he called, "Help," in a very weak voice. Part of the men went to his rescue and his body was finally extricated. His head was stuck between his knees and a very serious condition and it is feared that her health will be impaired. She continually laments the loss of her little 6-year-old boy.

As evidence of the terrific velocity of the cyclone when it struck the Goedde residence, Jim Haines, a farmer living six miles from the Goedde house, showed The Courier correspondent two large leaves from a German beech that he had seen coming through the air a mile distant. He thought it was a rag but upon investigation he found it to be the leaves out of a book from the Goedde residence.

A pitchfork from the Goedde place was found sticking in the ground a mile distant. Part of the roof of the Goedde residence was carried over a mile to the farm of Jake Reisinger. Residents of Poseyville, eight miles away, found fragments of weatherboarding from the Goedde residence on their premises.

The cyclone, after striking the Goedde place, went through a woods leaving a large pathway to mark its track and hit the one-story frame house of Jacob Reisinger. It tore the roof off the house and completely wrecked the stable. A couple of young ladies named Mitz, were coming from the station with the mail and when they saw the cyclone approaching they dropped in and put their horse and buggy in the stable. The buggy was found afterward to be a total wreck and the horse had escaped serious injury, only having a few scratches.

Mrs. McCoy of Evansville and children were in the house at the time. The whirlwind hit the house of Peter Wolf and completely demolished one half of it. This place is about a mile and one-half from Goedde and lay in the path of the monster whirlwind. Peter Wolf's father-in-law, Jake Voss, of Evansville, crawled under a table and this is the only thing that saved his life. The walls that fell were upheld by the table and beyond a few bruises Mr. Voss escaped uninjured.

Christopher Laugel, the young hired man who was killed, was to have been married this fall. He was at Rosenberger & Klein's Saturday morning and jokingly remarked to Joseph Wantzel that he (Wantzel) might never see him again. Wantzel had no idea that the bantering words would prove true but fate plays queer pranks at times and this was surely one of them.

The coroner did not arrive until this afternoon and his verdict as yet is still undecided. Dr. Fuchs of St. Wendell made a post-mortem examination Sunday afternoon and the following is a synopsis of the post-mortem: Frank Goedde, age 83 years, head badly mangled and all his ribs broken.

Christopher Laugel, age 25, congestion of face, left arm and breast badly crushed.

Andrew Goedde, age 6 years, neck broken and legs badly mangled.

The people in and around St. Wendell are greatly excited over the cyclone and nothing else is being talked about. It is the first time a cyclone ever struck this section of the country and many are talking about building storm cellars.

Local youth crash victim

An Evansville youth remained in serious condition Saturday night, suffering from injuries sustained in a Friday night auto accident that claimed the life of his 16-year-old companion.

Spokesmen at Deaconess Hospital reported David Wayne Mitchell, 16, 2746 Hartmetz Ave., was still in serious conditions. He reportedly suffered abdominal injuries in the 11:30 p.m. Friday auto crash which resulted in the death of Michael A. Reine, 16, 1312 Diefenbach Road.

Police reports indicate Reine was attempting to pass another vehicle on a curve in an area marked for no passing on Harmony Way about 106 feet south of Rodenburg Road. Reine apparently lost control of the vehicle, hit two utility poles, returned to the roadway and struck another car.

Reine's death was attributed to head and check injuries.

A second passenger in the Reine vehicle, Gary W. Anslinger, 18, 5917 Broadway Ave., was treated and released from Deaconess Hospital.

Reine was a member of the Corpus Christi Catholic Church and the National Junior Honor Society. He was a member of Boy Scout Troup No. 99 and was scheduled to receive his Eagle Scout award in October.

Survivors: his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Reine; a sister, Tina; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Greulich, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Reine, Evansville; a great-grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Greulich, Evansville.

Services 10 a.m. Tuesday, Miller & Miller Funeral Home, continued 10:30 a.m. Corpus Christi Catholic Church, burial St. Joseph Cemetery. Evansville Courier and Press, 23 Apr 1979, Page 51.
