Introduction

As I researched other families, I noticed numerous connection with the Rollett family. They were not only neighbors of my ancestors, but many members of the Rollett family married my distant relatives, both on my mother's and father's branches of the family tree. Rather than let all of this research evaporate, I decided to assemble a book from my research, including the obituaries, tombstone pictures and census records.

Through my research, I reached out to numerous genealogists who have researched other families in Vanderburgh County, Indiana. They have shared their family databases with me and are noted in the Sources. I acknowledge their help:, Brian Lankford, Charles Koressel, Leroy Kercher, Anita Happel, Linda Weiss, George Rexing, Rita Wannemuehler, Wilma Ubelhor and Robert Koressel. Many more have contributed their family group sheets or family reports.

This book simply is a summary of my research, and is not meant to be an all-inclusive representation of the Rollett family. Other researchers are encouraged to use what I have assembled here and then continue with their research. Because of mistakes in newspaper articles, government documents and mistakes in my typing, there are errors.

The family history report uses the register system. It begins with one source couple, Joseph Rollett and Katherine Steinmetz, and moves forward in time by generations. This report includes their descendants (children, children's children, etc.) along with information about each descendant along the way. The style is a narrative for each person, presenting information (names, events, facts, etc.) in sentence and paragraph form. Each descendant in the register report with children (or a child) is assigned a number. If the descendant did not have at least one child, then no family number is assigned. The source couple is assigned the number 1. Their children, who continue the family line, are assigned numbers, 2, 3,4, etc. Children are listed with Roman lower case numbers. A parenthetical ancestry (a list of direct ancestors) is provided in parenthesis after the descendant's name. This format shows the lineage back to Joseph Rollett. Surnames are included if different from the previous generation. Parents of spouses is also included in the narrative and People Index.

Sources of information are listed at the end of the report and the connecting superscripts are given after the descendant's name. An index is also provided and includes all descendants, spouses of descendants, and parents of descendants' spouses. Surnames are grouped together and each line in each surname group includes a person's first and middle names, along with the identification as a descendant number, spouse, child or parent of a spouse.

To those that use this book, I wish you success in your family genealogy search.

The Rollett Family Story

As told by Robert Koressel

The Rollett clan goes back to Strasberg, Alsace Loraine, Germany or France depending on who owned Strasberg in 1854. Our immigrants were plagued by crop failures, which hit most of the European continent and starvation was eminent. Or they could have been a part of the Revolt of 1848 which peaked in 1854.

On January 16, 1854, 48 year-old Joseph and his 47-year-old wife, Catherine, arrived in New Orleans with their children: Sophie (18), Theresa (17), Catherine (14), Joseph (10), Marie (8), and Bastion (6). They started out about six weeks earlier in Le Havre France. After purchasing tickets in steerage (the bowels of the ship) which they paid about $20.00 per person, they boarded the John Curtis. The voyage was harder than expected. The seas were rough and the boat rocked a lot. There were many diseases on board. Babies were born and people died on the voyage.

In New Orleans, after going through intensive physical exams and questioning, they were passed through immigration. Then the party boarded a ship going up the Mississippi and Ohio rivers until they came to Evansville.

Joseph Sr., obtained a Homestead from the government, probably part of the Homestead Act of 1863, and built a two room log cabin, in the newly created Perry Township, named for Commodore Perry. Joseph attended school in France. The school system in Evansville was very rural, but he attended there a few months.

As the Civil War was winding down, Joseph Jr., married Sophia Spitzer of St. Joseph, Indiana. She was the daughter of Lawrence Spitzer who fought under Napoleon in the French Wars. She was most likely born on her family's voyage to America. Her birth certificate indicated New Orleans.

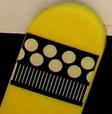

The homestead consisted of 80 acres and was located in Howell on 5119 Broadway Avenue. In 1998, the original cabin was moved to Corpus Christi Church grounds and used as a Boy Scout meeting house.

Joseph and Sophie had five children: twin sons, John and Tom, Henry, Elizabeth and Lena. Joseph and Sophie lived to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary. Joseph died April 16, 1919. Sophie died March 31, 1935.

John and Tom married sisters, Mary and Kate Spieker.

Henry married Elizabeth Matz, Elizabeth married John Matz, and Lena married August Hartmann.

So there, we are all related.

Ancestral town of Mommenheim, Alsace, Germany

According to the Declaration of Intention of Joseph Rollett, Joseph Rollett was born in Mommenheim, Alsace, Germany (which is now a part of France).

Mommenheim is a commune in the Bas-Rhin Department in Grand Est in northeastern France.

In the administrative divisions of France, the Department is one of the three levels of government below the national level, between the administrative regions and the commune. Ninety-six departments are in metropolitan France, and five are overseas departments, which are also classified as regions. Departments are further subdivided into 334 arrondissements, themselves divided into cantons; the last two have no autonomy, and are used for the organization of police, fire departments, and sometimes, elections.

Grand Est= (French pronunciation: [gʁɑ t ! ɛst]; English: Great East, German: Großer Osten—both in the Alsatian and the Lorraine Franconian dialect), previously Alsace-Champagne-Ardenne-Lorraine (ACAL or less commonly, ALCA), is an administrative region in eastern France. It superseded three former administrative regions—Alsace, Champagne-Ardenne, and Lorraine—on 1 January 2016, as a result of territorial reform which was passed by the French legislature in 2014.

Alsace-Champagne-Ardenne-Lorraine was a provisional name, created by hyphenating the merged regions in alphabetical order; its regional council had to approve a new name for the region by 1 July 2016.

France's Conseil d'État approved Grand Est as the new name of the region on 28 September 2016, effective 30 September 2016. The administrative capital and largest city is Strasbourg.

About the Alsace region

The Alsace region is located in north-eastern France and is famous for its wine, its colorful half-timbered houses and its castles which sit enthroned on the summits of the Vosges mountains

The capital Strasbourg is home to one of France's most beautiful Gothic cathedral, a pedestrian old town center, and the country's premier Christmas Market. It is also where the European MPs meet at the European Parliament. South of Strasbourg is another major touristic town: Colmar. From there you can easily journey through the Route des Crêtes of the Vosges and the Wine Route.

https://frenchmoments.eu/alsace-region/.

The name Alsace can be traced to the Old High German Ali-saz or Elisaz, meaning "foreign domain". An alternative explanation is from a Germanic Ell-sass, meaning "seated on the Ill", a river in Alsace.

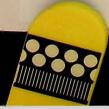

After the end of the Thirty Years War, Alsace was in 1648 included in the French Kingdom, but especially Protestant Germans remained. After the 1870-71 Franco-Prussian War, Alsace became a part of the 1871 unified German Empire as a formal Emperor's Land. After World War I the province went to the Third French Republic.

Grand Est, also called Alsace-Champagne-Ardenne-Lorraine, région of France created in 2016 by the union of the former régions of Alsace, Lorraine, and Champagne-Ardenne. It is bounded by the régions of Hauts-de-France and Île-de-France to the west and Bourgogne-Franche-Comté to the south. Belgium and Luxembourg lie to the north, Germany to the east and north, and Switzerland to the south. The capital is Strasbourg.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Alsace

Natural boundaries in Alsace include the Vosges Mountains to the west and the Rhine River to the east. The massif of the Vosges gradually gives way eastward to the plain of Alsace, while to the south the region of Sundgau in southern Haut-Rhin rises to the Jura Mountains. Alsace is one of the more fertile regions in central Europe. The hills are generally richly wooded, chiefly with fir, beech, and oak. Annual precipitation is relatively low, ranging from 20 to 28 inches (500 to 700 mm).

If Only a House Could Talk by Scott Rollett

There's an old house on Broadway Avenue that many people probably pass by without a second glance as they hurry about their lives today. One can't blame them, I suppose. The house HAS seen better days. The green paint is peeling and curled up on the original tin roof and you can see the faint haze of rust, which grows in prominence a little more each year. The white aluminum siding is worn down to the grey primer in places, and the brick foundation and concrete porch both bear the cracks and lines that age gives to all of us.

Sometimes, when I drive by the house, I feel sad. The house looks lonely and forgotten. The city has sprung up around it, and it has been left behind, alone, with its memories. Ah, if only it could talk! What wonderful memories it might share of happier days?

Would it tell of its first days back in the 1880's when John Schastian Rollett and his brothers, Thomas and Henry, laid its first timbers? Or would it tell of the first night that John and his young wife, Mary, spent in their new home? Would it speak of witnessing the birth of their four children within its walls? Or would it recall the sorrow of losing one of them (Lawrence) at an early age?

Would it remember the countless meals shared by cousins, brothers, sisters, aunts, and uncles that gathered as families once did? When the women baked the bread together and the men butchered the hogs?

Would it recall the day that the first new-fangled horseless carriage puttered down the long driveway? Or the day that the horses and mules got a break thanks to the shiny new tractor sitting in the yard?

Would it tell of the solemnest within its walls when these same folks gathered again to say goodbye to the man whose dreams and labors had created these walls? The same walls that now surrounded his casket.

Would it remember, Anthony, the young son who took over the house and farm as he embarked upon a new life of his own? Would it smile again as it recalled Tony bringing his new bride, Marie, home for the first time? Would it frown as it thought of the robber who broke into the house and stole some of their wedding gifts?

Would it tell of its delight at hearing the sounds of birth again? Once, twice, three times more...before hospital deliveries became fashionable.

Would it tell of the cold Ohio River water that slowly crept up the creek beside it and surrounded it in the winter of 1937?

Would it laugh about the hi-jinks that Tony used to play on people? The rubber pencil, the plaster of Paris cake? The water-filled cans of Donald Duck orange juice?

Would it talk about the wedding receptions that it hosted for Mary Elizabeth, Margaret, and Dorothy?

Would it remember the sounds of youthful laughter as a new generation of cousins played around the yard? Would it remember the Easter egg hunts or the kids swinging on the front porch swing?

Would it remember the joys of Christmas time, when the whole family gathered for dinner on Christmas Day? Would it remember the kerosene-heated garage where the children ate their meals? Or the jam-packed front room where the presents were passed around and the annual wrapping-paper wars began.

Would it remember the endless games of Clabber, Rummy, or Aggravation that Tony, Marie, and many of their friends, family, and neighbors enjoyed?

Ah,...the memories just go on and on! Four generations of Rollett's have lived in this house. Each one left some memories, and each one took some memories with them. If this old house could talk, I think we all would find time to listen. The house was sold last year. Although it is no longer in the Rollett family, it will provide memories to a History of Vanderburgh County, Vol II by Frank M Gilbert, Published 1910, Pages 15 and 16.

Joseph Rollett, a representative of the farming interests of Vanderburgh County, was born in Strasbourg, France on August 15, 1840, a son of Joseph and Catherine Rollett. While spending his youthful days in his parents' home in the fatherland, he began his education which was largely acquired in that country. At length, he came with his parents to America in 1852, staying two years in New Orleans, Louisiana, and for two months was a pupil in the schools of Evansville. The greater part of his life has been devoted to general farming and since the 5th of May, 1854, he has lived upon the place in Perry Township which is now his home. Here he has improved eighty acres of land, transforming it into a valuable tract by bringing the fields under a high state of cultivation and adding substantial buildings and modern equipment. His life has been characterized by unfaltering diligence and industry, which in time, has been crowned with success.

On the 3rd of May, 1865, Mr. Rollett was married in German township, St. Joseph, Indiana, to Miss Sophia Spitzer, a daughter of Lawrence Spitzer, who fought in the French wars under Napoleon. Coming to America, he was for many years a resident of this part of the state, his death occurring in November 1909, when he had reached the venerable age of ninety-seven years and eight months. Unto Mr. and Mrs. Rollett have been born five children: Thomas and John, twins, married Kate and Mary Speaker, sisters. Unto Thomas and Kate have been born two children, Maggie and William, while John and Mary Rollett have three children: Julia, Rosie and Anthony. Henry Rollett wedded Elizabeth Matz and their children are Frances, Sophia, Cecelia, and Henry B. Lena Rollett became the wife of August Hartmann and has five children, Joseph, Julia, Andrew, Cecilia and Marie. Elizabeth Rollett is the wife of John Matz and their children are Annie, Matilda, Joseph and John.

John Sebastian and Thomas Joseph Rollett

History of Vanderburgh County, Vol II by Frank M Gilbert, Published 1910, Pages 143 and 44.

Thomas J. Rollett is a representative of one of the old families of Vanderburgh County, represented here for more than half a century. He was born in Perry Township April 3, 1866, and is a son of Joseph and Sophia Rollett, who are mentioned elsewhere in this volume. When about six years of age, he became a pupil in the district schools near his father's home and the pleasures of the playground and the work of the fields also claimed a part of his time and attention. He learned the value of the industry economy and integrity as factors in business success when in early manhood, and these have always engaged in contracting and building, having much mechanical ability that found eircles, being now one of the directors of the Howell Bank.

On the 28th of November, 1890, Mr. Rollett was married to Miss Kate Speaker, a daughter of Joseph and Mary Speaker. Unto them were born two children, William and Maggie, but they had the misfortune to lose their little daughter. Their religious faith is that of the German Catholic Church and in his political views, Mr. Rollett is a Democratible He had lived continuously in this county nor sought success in other districts, for he own success. Gradually he worked his way upward in business lines and whatever he capable management.

directly in front of the machine on U. S. highway 62 at Speaker road, a mile and a half west of Howell, near his home.

"I left the boy in the car," Mr. Happe related, "but he followed me across the road, When I saw him, I said, 'You'd better get back in the car,' and grabbed hold of his cost at the shoulder. I threed my head to look down the road in the other di-rection, and he judich away and ran tight out in the road."

CARRIED SCHOOL BOOK

The boy died at 5:15 p. m. in St. Mary's heapital, five minutes after Arthus Eastman, a neighbor, brought hit; there. Coloner Jacon Reisinger said death came as a result of shock from a fractured right hip, a fractured right leg below the knee, and a brain concustion.

A etcond-grade pupil at St. Agnes school, Andrew had gone with his father to see an uncle, after class, yesterday afternoon. He had a school book in his arm when the automo-

Mr. Hahn's machine turned over after striking the boy. His mother, Mrs. Charles Hahn, who was riding with him. suffered a minor injury to her knee. Mr. Hahn told Deputy Sheriffs William Lloyd and Herb Lynn he was driving approximately 20 miles an hour.

Mr. Hartman, who was a witness to the accident, substantiated Mr. Hahn's testimony.

This fatal accident, the first one of the year, came 18 days sooner than the Arat fatal accident in 1937, which was on Jan. 30, according to the records. At the end of the year, there had been 38 traffic deaths in the county.

The sheriff's office had no report of the accident at the same spot or the accident at the same spot carlier in the day, which had caused Mr. Happe to stop. Mrs. J. M. Mc-Govern, whose home is nearby, said she gave first aid to a woman who was in the car, but did not know her name.

No one was seriuosly injured. Mrs. McGovern said the man who was driving told her a wheel had come off the automobile, throwing the machine into the ditch. She said a

Some of her memories of early church activities that she spent much time tell about were the socials. They Some of her memories of early church activities and so as school house. Upon quizzing, it seems it was the were held in a grove of trees on Old Henderson Road by a school house. were held in a grove of trees on Old Helidelson Road Family who attended St. Agnes Church and the children school house occupied as a dwelling by the Morehead Family who attended St. Agnes Church and the children school nouse occupied as a dwelling of the order and myself. She later identified this grove as Edmunds Grove, attended St. Agnes School along with my brothers and myself. She later identified this grove as Edmunds Grove, Chicken dinners were served at these early socials but I wonder how many of us would have volunteered to pitch in and help. Do9nated chickens were dropped off, still alive and squawking, at my grandparents (Henry and Elizabeth Rollett) the years while Grandma was President to the Altar Society. She and her sister-in-law's (as well as Mrs. Heuke would come to help clean the chickens and cut them up,. Then to fry the chickens, 3 or 4 families would load their kitchen ranges on wagons and haul them to the grove that morning early and get the fires going to fry the chickens and prepare the vegetables.

She remembers he father loading up their stove and his two brothers, Thomas & John, were two of the other three families loading up their stoves. A tent was erected for shelter should there be rain. She thought the meals might have sold for $1.50, but as mother said, 'my mind don't remember so well sometimes,' but that was a long time to remember the price of a meal.

The men would set up a dance floor using planks of wood and she could remember a fiddle player and some with a guitar to pay for the crowd which really drew the young people. The fox trot and the one step were the vogue then, The dance floor was taken down at the end of the affair and the planks were stored until the next year. Dancing at the social isn't something new for St. Agnes as some of us "younger ones" might have thought. Mother's big treats of the social were a 'soda pop and a box of Cracker Jack with a prize in it." Cracker Jack wouldn't have been special if the prize wasn't in it. Another favorite was the fish ponds. Everyone donated items from a bag of potatoes or basket of tomatoes to what nots, items that we would put in the white elephant booth. That cost a nickel. Whoever was in charge would peep around the curtain and see who was fishing and the catch depended on who was doing the fishing. They did have a paddle wheel, but, that was usually donated items.

Mother tells how many of the parishioners living in town had no transportation to travel out of the city so in order for everyone who wanted to attend the social to get there, my grandfather and several others would hitch up hay wagons and box wagons and drive the social to get there, my grandfather and several others would hitch up hay wagons and box wagons and drive through Howell and pick them up and return them home after the social ended at 9 that evening. Union Town their social and pick them up and return them home after the social ended at 9 that evening. ended at 9 that evening. Union Township knew neighbors in their area who wanted to attend and rove their wagons by their homes and picked the wagons by the wagons by their homes and picked the wagons by their homes and picked the wagons by the wago wagons by their homes and picked them up. With very little entertainment in those day, these social were well attended. As told to Bernie Ferguson attended. As told to Bernie Ferguson

Teen Drowns In Lake

An 18 year-old Haubstadt area youth drowned at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Lynnville Park Lake in Lynnville, Ind., while a friend who could not swim stood helpless nearby, state policy said.

A state police Scuba diver recovered the body of Norman Simon of Rt. 2, Haubstadt, about an hour and 50 minutes later in the water estimated at about 15 feet in depth, police said.

The Warrick County Coroner Clifford Betz ruled the youth's death was an accidental drowning.

Police said young Simon and his friend, Leonard Frohbeiter, 15, also of Rt. 2 Haubstadt drove over to the lake in Simon's car.

The Frohbeiter boy, who told police he could not swim, said he was wading in shallow water near the lake's edge when he glanced out near the middle and saw young Simon going under, for no apparent re4ason, police said.

The 15-year-old told officers there was nobody else around and said he was unable give assistance. Evanguille Control of the said and said he was unable give assistance.

Sally began her nursing career at the old St. Mary's Hospital, but as her family grew she became a full time Sally began ner nursing career at the many friends, family and church members benefited from her care, mom and homemaker. Over the years, many friends, family and church members benefited from her care, concern and assistance with their health care needs.

Sally traveled to many countries and continents and loved learning about other places, peoples and cultures and Sally traveled to many countries and cultures are enjoyed meeting new people in everything she did. She never met a stranger and always went out of her way to make newcomers feel welcome.

She went to work at Tri-State Bearing Co. and continued working there, doing bookkeeping for a number of years. She and Bud were avid dancers and they discovered international folk dancing in the '70s. Multicultural dancing blended well with her love of travel.

Sally had a thirst for knowledge and enjoyed educating herself on whatever her interests were, be it health care, geology, cultures, houseplants, gardening or geography. She was active in her alumni groups from Memorial and St. Mary's.

She had a quiet, unassuming manner and she maintained a quiet sense of grace and humor through her declining health. Sally was blessed with a full life and a dedicated husband and children who could only hope to repay the love and support they had received from her. We will miss her dearly.

The family would like to thank the staffs of Dr. John Polin, St. Mary's at Home and VNA Hospice. A 54-year-old Evansville man died Thursday after he was electrocuted while on the job. Alan Seibert, an employee of Alvey Sign Co., was servicing a sign just outside Jasper, Ind., when his co-worker noticed him slumped down in the basket of the boom truck the two were using. The co-worker, George Thompson, lowered Seibert to the ground and called 911. Seibert was taken to a hospital but could not be revived, said John Reiplinger, human resources administrator for Alvey.

Reiplinger said there is an ongoing investigation to determine exactly happened to Seibert.

Seibert was a key player with the company, he said.

"Alan was very qualified in dealing with electrical issues and in fact would be someone we would call on to train other people in the install department, which is where he worked," he said. "He was our go-to guy for anything electrical. .. This was his background and his work We always depended on him a lot and he's going to be sorely missed."

Seibert was one month shy of his nine-year anniversary with the company, said Reiplinger. "His work was his lifeblood .. and (he) enjoyed it He was very gregarious, outgoing, never been a stranger to anyone," Reiplinger said. "He's just a personable individual which is why this is so hard on a bunch of us."

Seibert was also a member of the West Side Nut Club and helped every year with the city's annual Fall Festival. He was known by the nickname of "Fuzz," because of his red hair and beard, Reiplinger said.

Once the investigation is complete, Reiplinger said, the company will go back and see what improvements it can make on safety.

"We're going to take this experience and if there is any improvement we can make, we will," said Reiplinger.

FORT BRANCH-Andrea Bullock, 4, rural Princeton, died in a 9:30 a.m. Tuesday car/train collision at the CSX train crossing on CR550 just west of U.S. 41 and north of Fort Branch.

Gibson County Coroner Barrett Doyle confirmed her identity after notification of family members and investigation at the scene. Doyle said an autopsy will be performed Wednesday, a requirement since the crash involved a commercial vehicle.

The coroner said Bullock was a passenger in an eastbound minivan driven by her father, John Bullock. The van was hit by the southbound CSX train which was traveling at 42 mph.

Doyle said the train engineer saw the van but couldn't stop to avoid the collision.

Bullock was outside the vehicle with his youngest daughter when emergency responders arrived on the scene, said Doyle. He was injured and taken to an Evansville hospital. An older daughter, also a passenger in the van, was treated and released, according to the coroner.

Doyle said Tuesday's fatal crash was the third at that rail crossing in the past two years.
