Dawning for Everyone

Mater Dei keeps pace with changes

Throughout the years of our growth, we have always been subject to different variations. First we learned to walk and talk. Eventually we were taught to read and write. The "art" of learning is never taught. Such modifications have taken place in our lives in the past 15 years or so.

When you live in a world like ours, there is little chance that you will be able to remain the same during your whole life. Therefore, we learn to accept alterations. They may not be welcomed with "open arms" at first, but gradually we all get used to them and some are then termed as "not a bad idea after all."

"To A New Dawning" signifies the beginning of a new decade at Mater Dei and everywhere else where there is life. And with the times changing as fast as they are, we too have experienced some profitable changes. Mixing of homerooms was the first thing to hit all the students. No longer do we have the separation of girls and boys.

Another deviation in school regulations was the mingling of biology classes. Because of this change there was a greater flexibility in the students schedules and the urge to "change" was allowed against past tradition.

The Dress Code was also altered. There was a new style of uniform for the girls. The newly formed fashion board permitted some up-to-date leniences in the dressing code for the students.

Another big step will be the seniors leaving their cozy little school to meet the "gigantic" world they must learn to live in today. It won't be easy for them, but in order to succeed, they must learn to face reality and take on the challenge to prove themselves that they are not only able but willing to make something of themselves.

To progress usually indicates that changes be made. If this is true, Mater Dei and its students should be well equipped to meet the challenges of "The New Dawning," the decade of the '70's.

New innovations projected in Student Council, drama, assemblies

Student Life

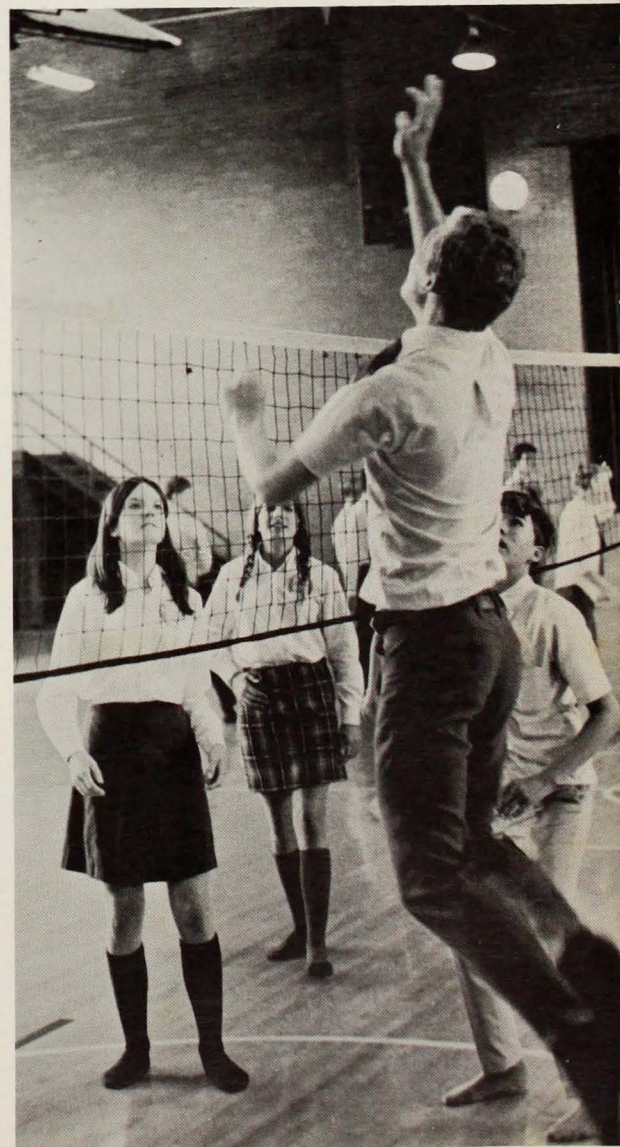

"To a New Dawning" became reality for the students participating in the school activities.

In the drama department it meant moving to the Catholic Theater Guild. Three one-act plays were performed in December and the musical Brigadoon was presented in May.

The date of the Junior-Senior Prom was moved to April 24 at the Executive Inn, with the theme "A Time for Us."

The revision and ratification of the Mater Dei-ville constitution was a major project of the Student Council. Another project was sponsoring a volleyball tournament for the students at lunch period, each member of the winning team received a sectional season ticket.

A candle sale that profited over $6,000 was completed by the student body in December. The sophomore class led in sales and received a pizza party for their efforts. The money was divided among the missions, school and classes.

Senior Judy Winiger crowned 'Miss School Spirit'

Mater Dei's second-annual "Miss School Spirit" winner was Judy Winiger who was crowned by mayor of Mater Dei-ville, Gerry Ellspermann, during the halftime show of the Bosse-Mater Dei football game. Judy's attendants were seniors

Kitty Bassemier and Brenda Southern.

Other attendants were juniors Sherri Barron and Julie Helfrich, sophomores Holly Southern and Carol Gutzweiler, and freshmen Nancy Mayer and Cheri Miles.

Kitty chose Chuck Brunson, a Reitz graduate, for her escort and Brenda chose Pat Raley. Accompanying Judy was former Mater Dei graduate Frank Buerger.

Ulrich, Barron star in stage musical 'Brigadoon'

Talent, practice, precision and an awful lot of work combined to make the Drama Department's production of "Brigadoon" a great success.

The story of two young men, lost in the Scottish Highlands, and the adventure and romance that followed when they stumbled onto the mysterious town of Brigadoon, was jointly directed by Father William Deering and Father Lawrence Loveall.

One of the Americans, Tommy Albright (Don Ulrich) meets and falls in love with a young girl in the town, Fiona MacLahren (Sherri Barron). The other American, Jeff Douglas (Dave Robinson), is constantly being harrassed by the town red-head Meg Brockie (Pat Bray).

Other citizens of the town were Charlie Dalrymple (Harold Tepool) who marries Fiona's sister, Jean (Jan Schrode); Andrew MacLahren (Gary Hillenbrand); Mr. Lundie (Pat Greaney); Harry Beaton (Blaise Liffick); Archie Beaton (Dave Unfried); Angus MacGuffie (Danny Jost); Sandy Dean (Jack Schenk); and Stuart Dalrymple (Tim McDaniel).

Tommy's fiance back in New York was played by Vickie Yaser, while Frank, the bartender, was played by Curt Angermeier.

Charlie showed his love for Jean in the two songs "I'll Go Home With Bonnie Jean" and "Come To Me, Bend To Me," while Tommy showed his feelings for Fiona in the songs "Almost Like Being In Love" and "There But For You Go I". When Jeff talks Tommy into believing the town is only a dream, Tommy says goodbye to Fiona in the song "From This Day On". Meg Brockie tells the story of her love-life in the riotously funny song "The Love of My Life", and then sings the story of her "Mother's Weddin' Day."

Ellspermann revitalizes

The 18th Inauguration of the Student Council was held in mid-October, as Gerry Ellspermann, Danny Wannemuehler, and Suzanne Crouch took the oath of mayor, judge, and clerk, respectively.

Presiding the official induction of officers as master of ceremonies was senior Mark Helfrich.

Features speaker Sgt. James A. De Groote, officer-in-charge of Community Relations Division of the Evansville Police Department for 16 years, spoke on "Ideas of the Relevance of Teenagers in Civic Affairs."

The Inaugural Ball followed that evening. Newly enacted this year was the practice of admitting freshmen and sophomores.

Judge Danny Wannemuehler innovated a new procedure for paying violation fines, with the mayor's office open one day a week to pay fines. A two week fine notice was given.

The appointed officials of the Student Council were Judy Winiger, Clerk Affiliate; Kitty Bassemier, Public Relations; Ann Tavormina, Monitor Captain; Jerry Kirchoff, Police Captain; Paul Martin, Prosecuting Attorney; Jack Schenk, Defense Attorney; Elaine Fehrenbacher, Recreation Commissioner; Bob Pigman, Recreation Commissioner; Dave Will, Fire Chief; and Denny Feldhaus, Park Commissioner.

Wildcats hold own in tough competitive world

"To a New Dawning" in sports meant new varsity football and track coaches, the wrestlers beginning another strong decade with an 8-2 record, the development of a potential All-City basketball star, and scheduling firsts in the various spring sports.

Coach Joe Gossman ended his first football season with a 6-4 record and Coach Len Will returned to the coaching scene as track coach.

In wrestling the Cats had seconds in city, sectional, and SIAC competition and two sectional champions.

Junior Terry Stumpf made the Sunday Courier and Press All City second team, while in baseball the Cats strengthened their schedule by adding perennial power Jasper and retaining powerful South Spencer.

Cats finish 6-4 in Gossman's inaugural

Setting the pace in the 1969 Wildcat football season, Mark Freeman, top city scorer, led the Cats to a 6-4 season record.

First year coach Joe Gossman took the honors for the Cats second straight winning season.

The Wildcats decisive victory over Rex

Mundi, the defending city and SIAC champs, was the highlight of a season that looked anything but bright at the beginning.

Kiwanis Football award winner, Freeman, a member of SIAC and all-city teams, led the city in scoring with 114 points, breaking Jerry Browning's school record of 96 points. Mike Baumgart, senior tackle, also made the Courier all-city and SIAC team, with Steve Craig making the Sunday Courier and Press honor squad.

Freeman rushed for over 1,000 yards as the Wildcats led the city in rushing.

campaign

Quarterback Ed Reising completed 60 of 135 for 1,017 yards and eight touchdowns. Freeman was his favorite target, catching 20 for 338 yards.

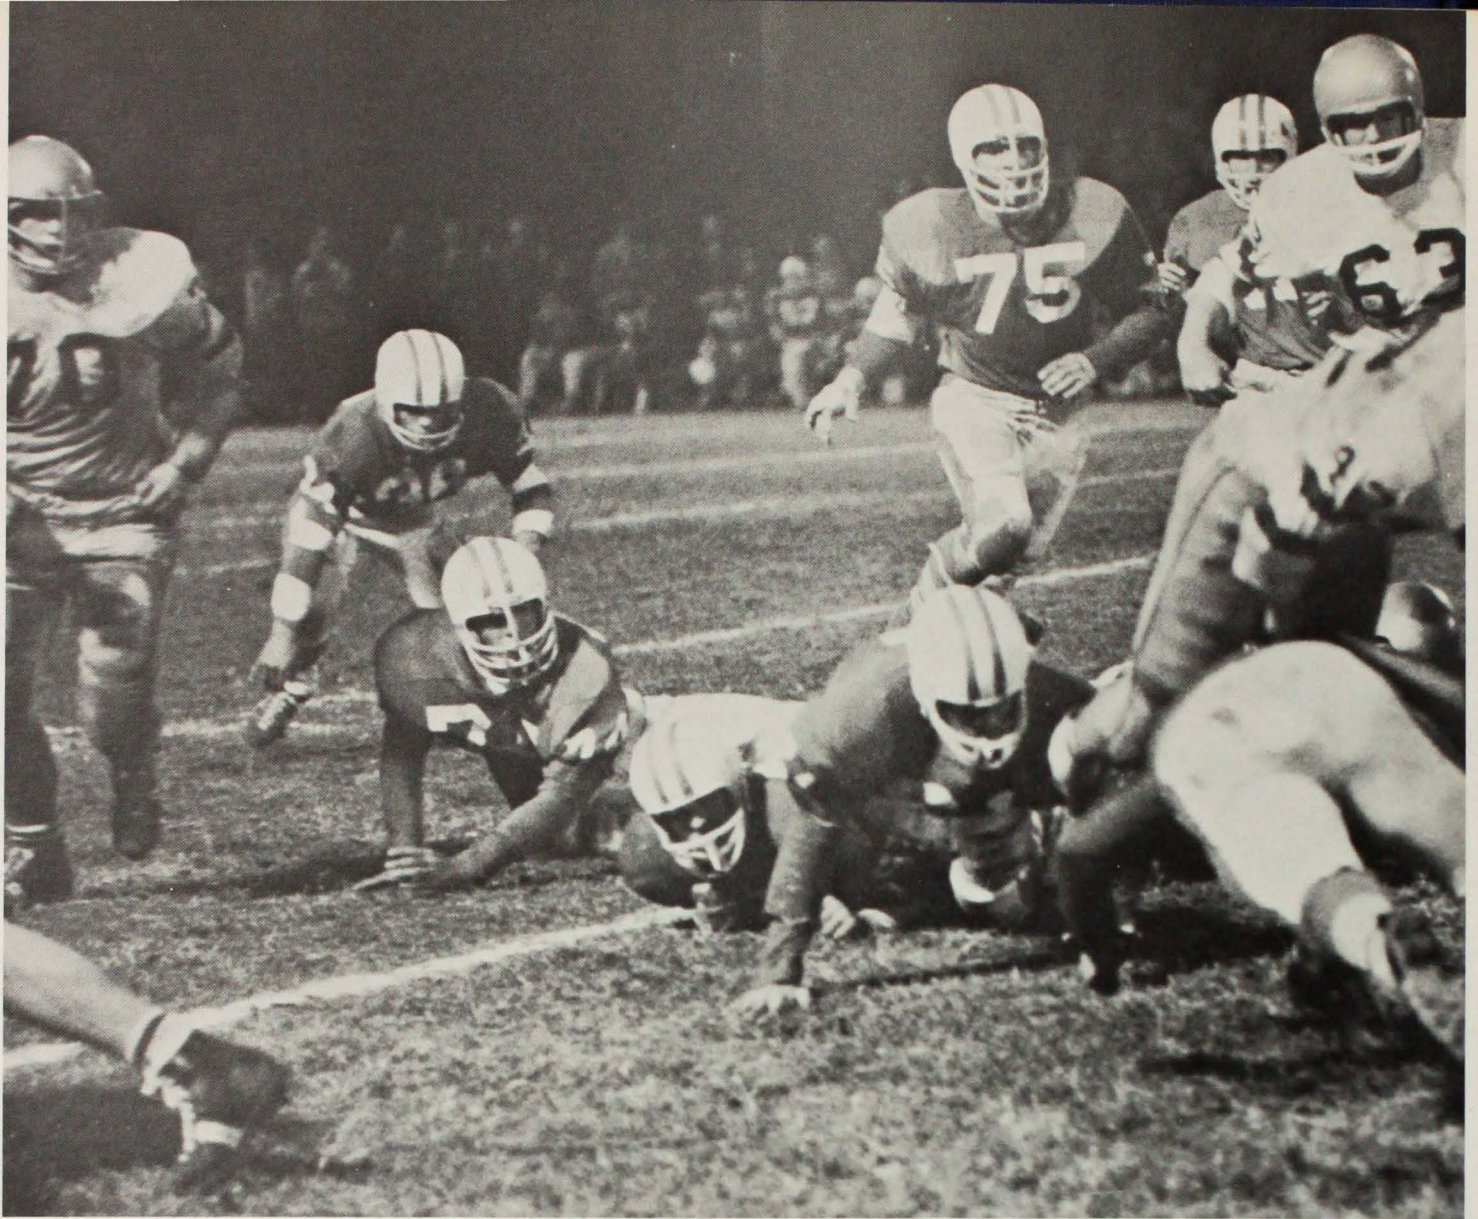

The Cats average a fraction over 20 points a game, while the opposition tallied about 13 a contest.

Underclassmen break even; Cubs win city

After winning both of their final games, the Frosh and Reserve football squads evened out their season at 3-3-1.

The reserves, coached by Joe Dippel recorded wins over Central, Bosse, and a final 21-6 victory over North.

The freshman, coached by Kenny Reising, ended their season with a rousing 26-6 victory over Reitz. They also recorded a 41-0 victory over Memorial and a 32-6 win over Central. Both squads tied Rex Mundi.

Under Mr. Chub Forche, the Cubs tied with Harrison for the city crown, their only loss being administered by the Warriors.

Inexperience puts damper on success

Claiming no returning lettermen, the varsity basketball squad struggled through a 7-13 season.

Starting off the season by holding co-city champion Reitz to only a 3 point winning margin, the Cats fell to all the city teams except Bosse. Also in city competition North beat out Reitz as the team scoring the most points against a Mater Dei squad, by defeating the Cats 105-88.

Against out-of-town teams the Cats could not muster enough strength to beat Ferdinand, Boonville, South Spencer or Mt. Vernon, but managed to turn back North Posey, Vincennes Catholic, and Mt. Carmel.

Over the Christmas holidays the Wildcats took a trip to Greenwood to participate in a tournament there. The Cats lost both their games to Greenwood and Ft. Wayne Catholic, and wound up in last place. In Sectional competition Mater Dei unluckily drew favorite Memorial and were defeated 82-52.

RIGHT: Jerry Kirchoff dribbles his way past a North defender with Ed Reising pondering which way to go.

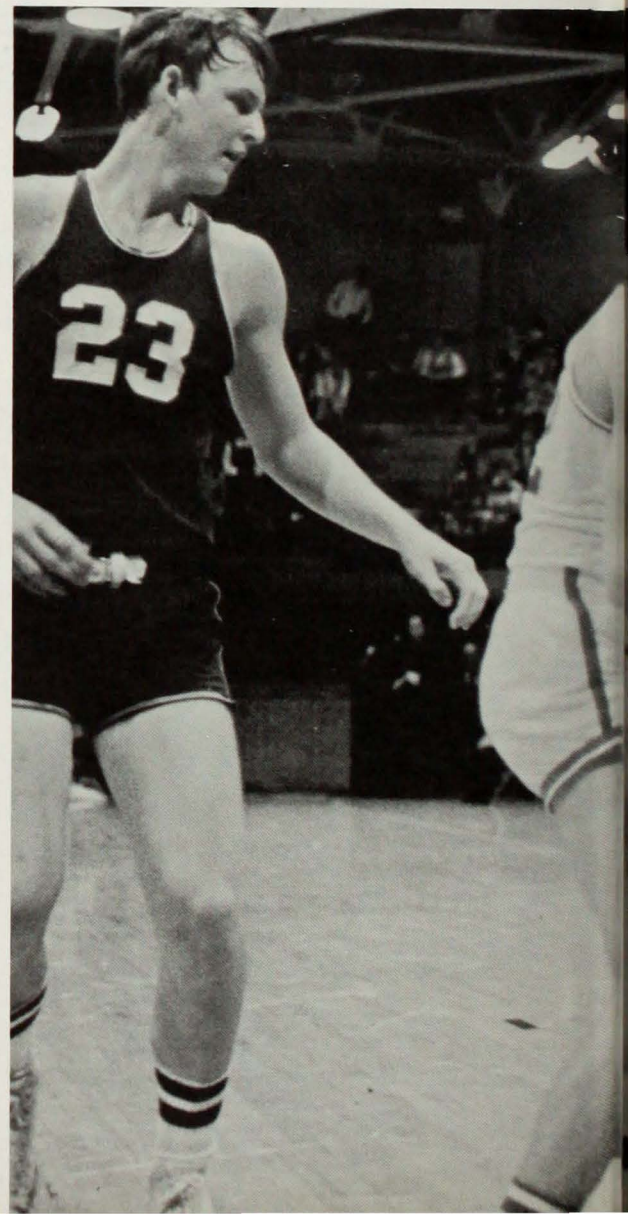

After trailing Jerry Kirchoff most of the season in the scoring race, Terry Stumpf, Mater Dei's 6-3 ball of fire, finally emerged as the Cats leading point producer.

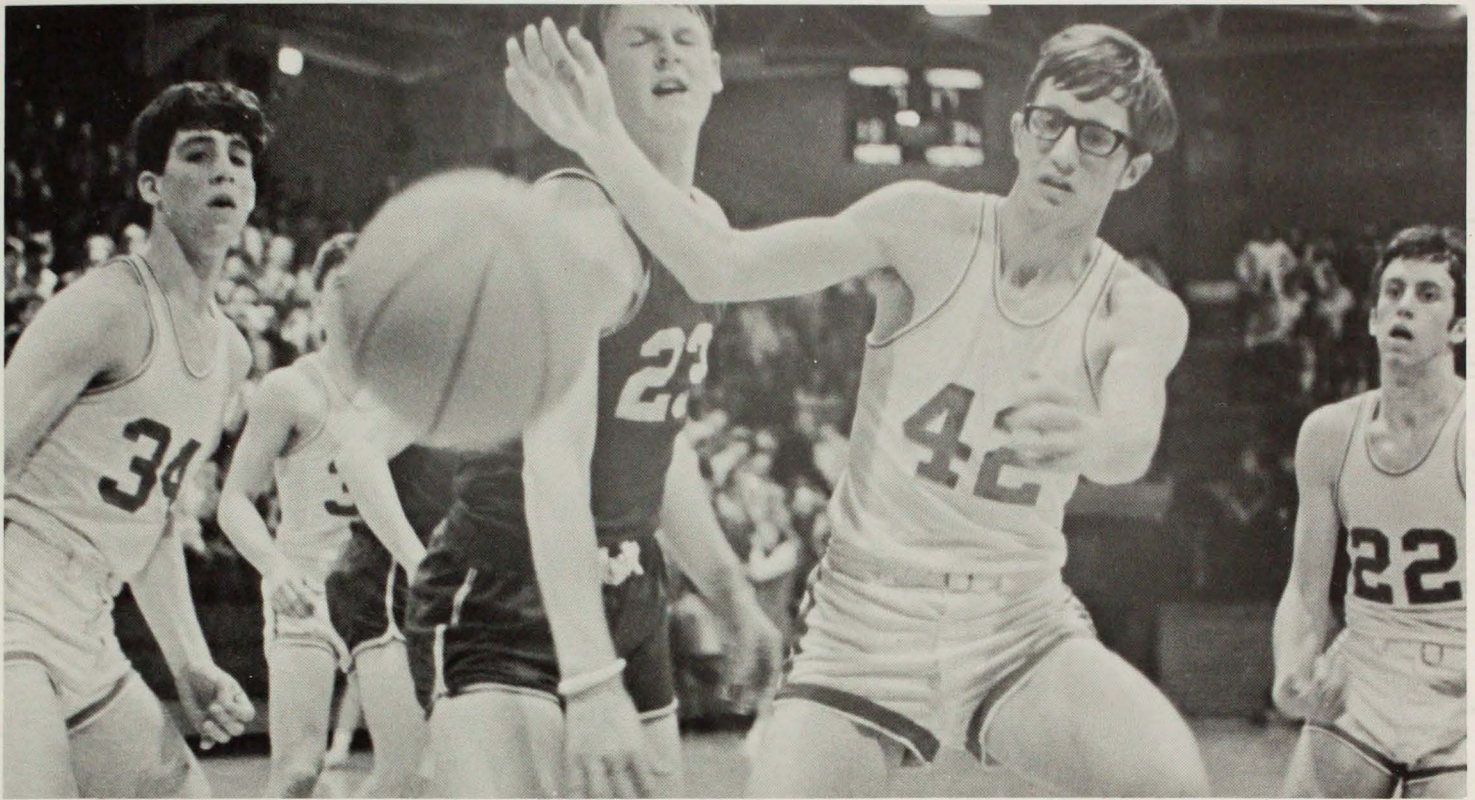

Stumpf, also the team's leading rebounder with about 11 per game, averaged 15 points per game. Kirchoff was second with almost 13 points a game and Paul Martin hit a 10 game.

Stumpf's .464 field goal shooting also topped the squad, with the nearest regular Kirchoff hitting only .327. None of the Cats burned the nets from the foul line, but among the starters. Stumpf led with .636, with Kirchoff second at .626 and Martin third at .621.

Second in rebounding was the 6-2 Martin. Third was Bob Fischer with about six a game.

Teamwise the Cats averaged almost 65 points a game, compared to the opposition's 69.

Matcats finish second to Reitz in city,

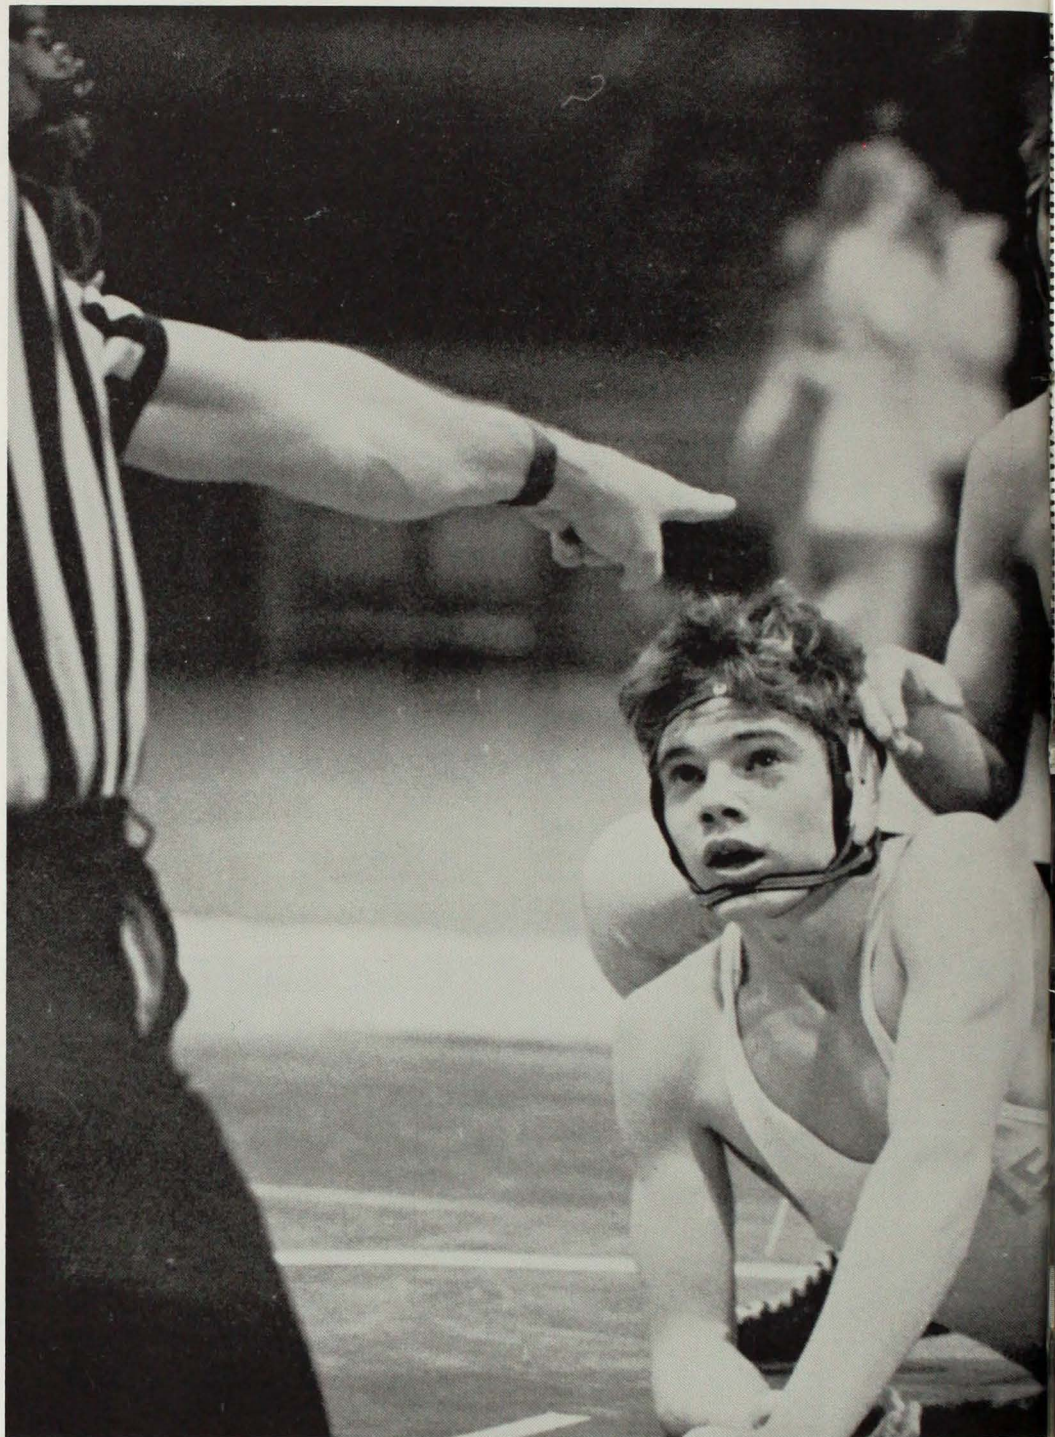

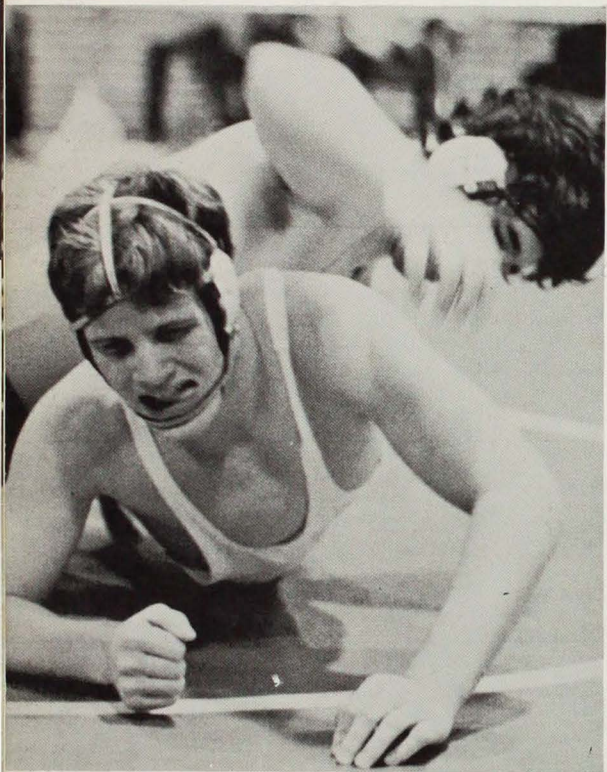

Mater Dei's Matcats closed their season with a very respectable 8-2-1 record and second place finishes in the city, SIAC, and sectionals.

Although always counted on being a major city power in wrestling, this year marked the fourth time since 1956-57 that a Joe Gossman coached team did not take the city crown.

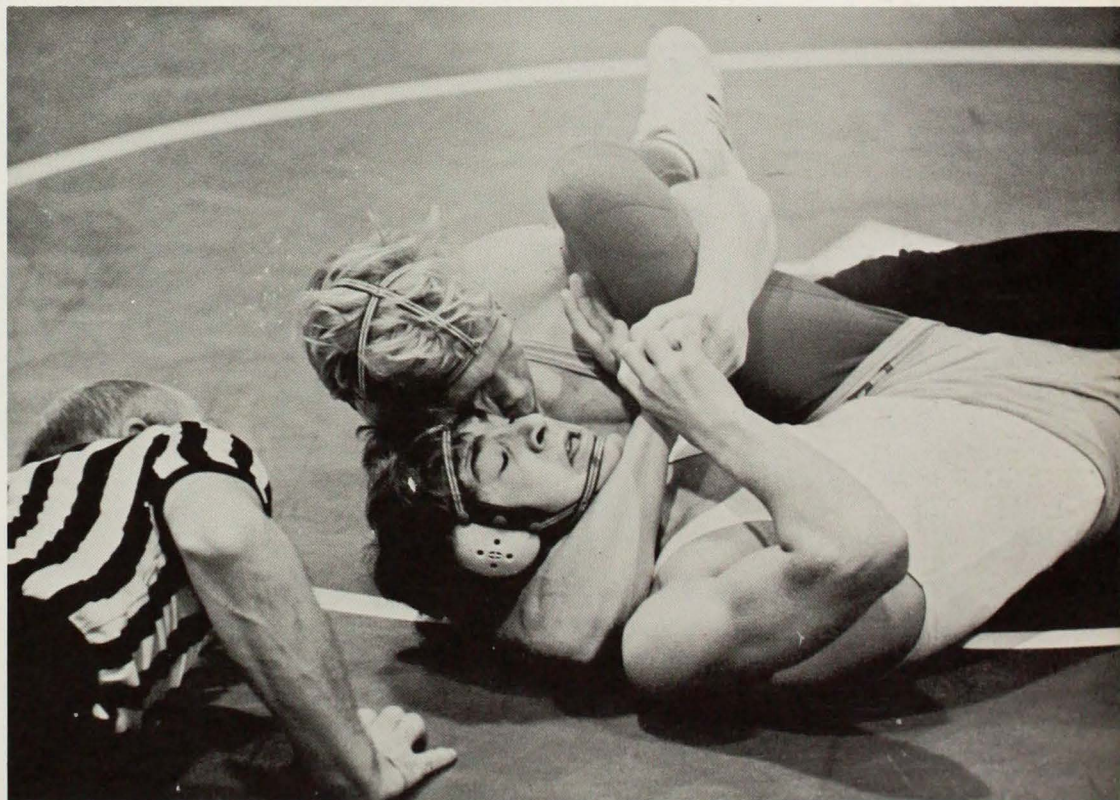

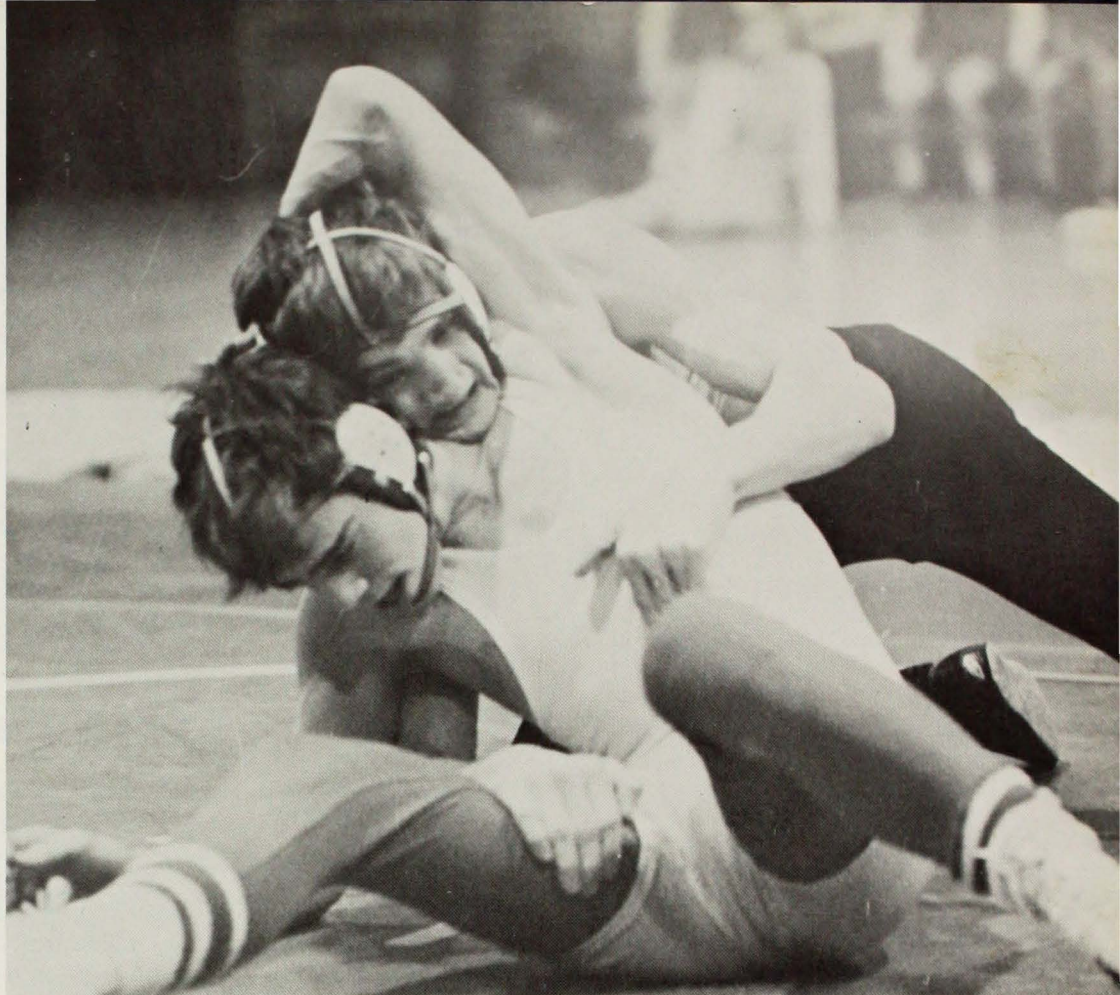

Losses came to state champion Bloomington, 41-9 and to city champions Reitz, 23-15.

Mater Dei's two sectional winners, seniors John Cartwright and Mike Baumgart, both lost in the regionals in the first round. Baumgart was decided 1-0 by the eventual winner of the regional heavyweight title.

Baumgart led the team in the number of pins with seven, in dual meet competition, followed by Cartwright with six and sophomore Dave Macke with five.

Emge, Raley, Freeman top record holders

Pat Raley and Wayne Emge, probably the school's two greatest distance runners, highlighted the running sports, as each proved tops in cross country and track.

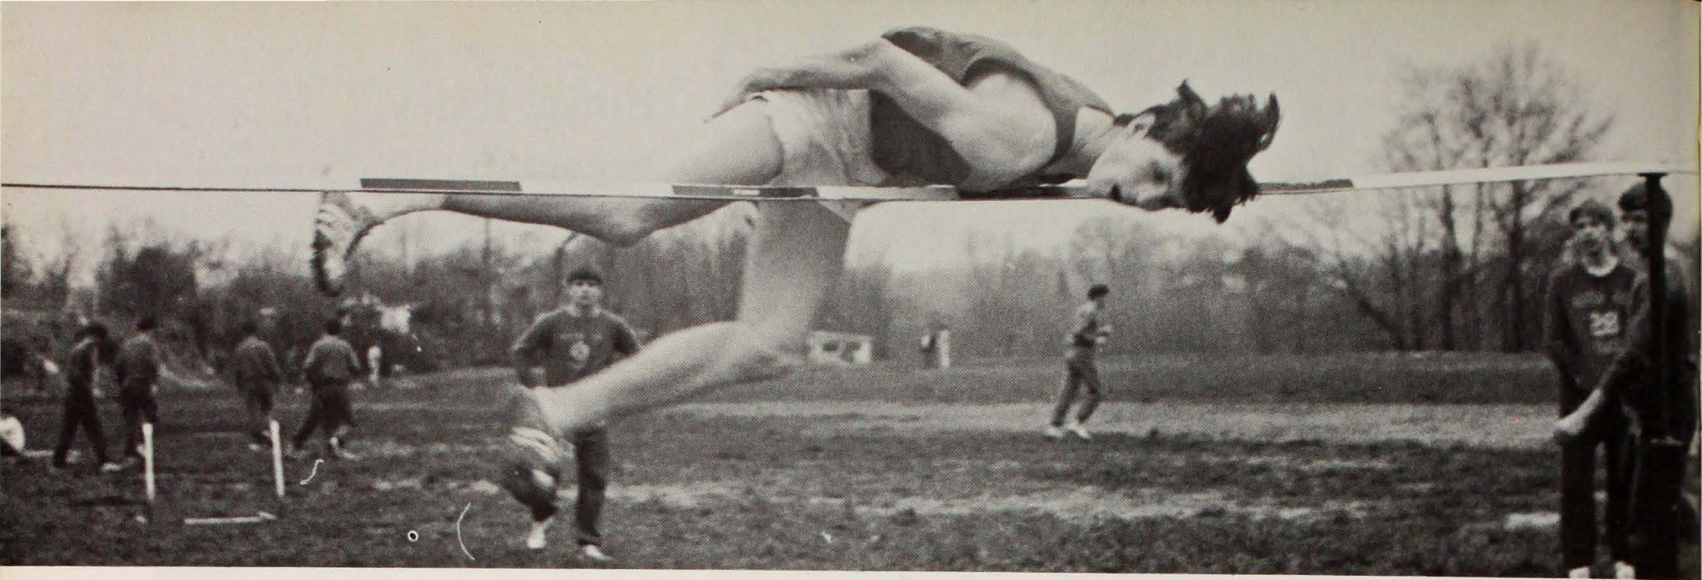

Raley set a new sectional and school record in the mile, going 4:27.4 while placing third in the Sectional behind two other record breakers.

Emge did not break his city two-mile record set as a junior, but still managed to go 10:11.3 in his speciality. Sophomore Ron Clayton broke the school record in the broad jump with a 20½ leap while Mark Freeman was among the leader in team points, running the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Raley and Emge both qualified for the regionals at Seymour, but failed to place.

The track team finished with a 1-4 record, defeating only Castle 74-49. Cross Country knocked off nine opponents against six setbacks and finished fifth in the SIAC.

Martin, Stumpf pitch Big Red to 10-5 mark

At the three-quarters mark, the baseball team had compiled a 10-5 record, outscored the opposition 86-51, and hit .264 as a team. The yearbook went to press June 11.

Mixing four sophomores with five seniors proved the right combination to the Cats fast start. Seniors Paul Martin and Gary Stumpf led the hurlers with 4-3 and 4-0 records, respectively. Meanwhile, sophomore Gene Wannemuehler led the hitters with a .405 average followed by Sumpf's .370. Another sophomore Mark Fehr was hitting .349.

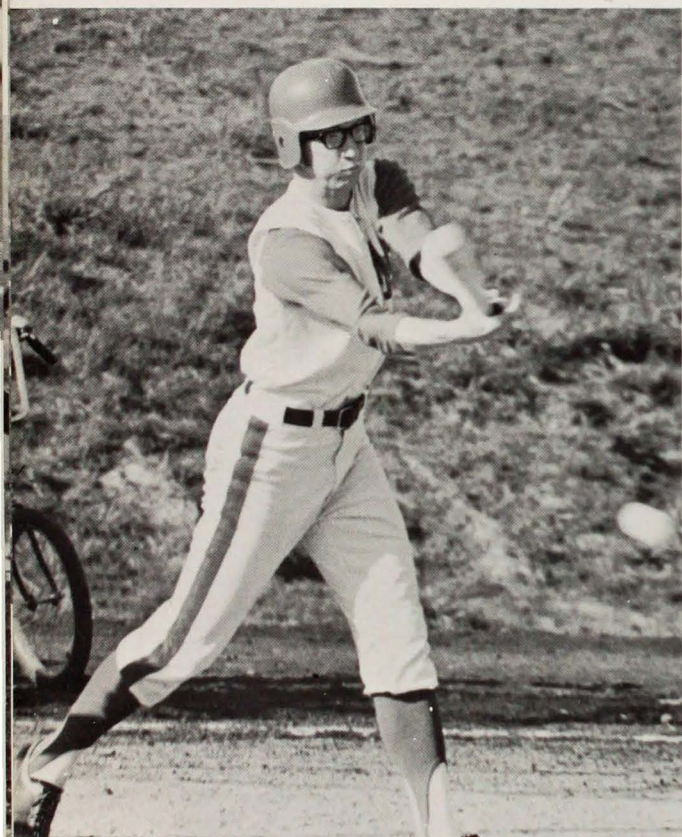

Other starters were center fielder Bob Schiff (.250), Martin (.282), right fielder Dennis Niemeier (.261), left fielder Louis Wildeman (.237), shortstop Dennis Feldhaus (.159), and catcher Gerald Ellspermann (.383).

In the opening game of the Sectionals Coach Halbig's Cats lost to city leader Memorial 6-1. Bob Schiff got the Cat's only hit, a triple in the first inning.

Golfers start three freshmen in rebuilding year

Composed almost entirely of underclassmen, Coach Gary Kuhlenhoelter's golfers suffered through a frustrating season, winning only one of nine outings.

Junior Curt Angermeier was the linkman's No. 1 man, usually shooting in the low 80's. His freshman brother, Paul, played the No. 2 spot.

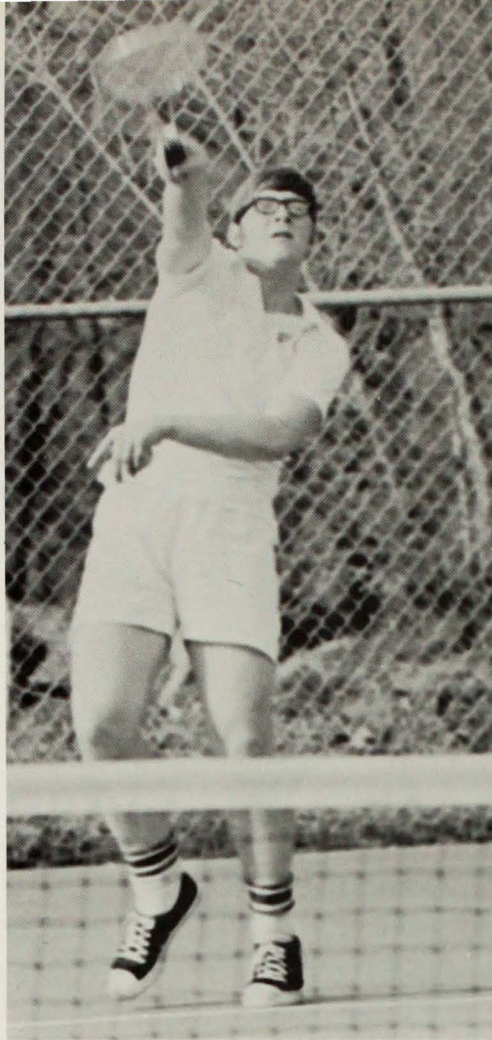

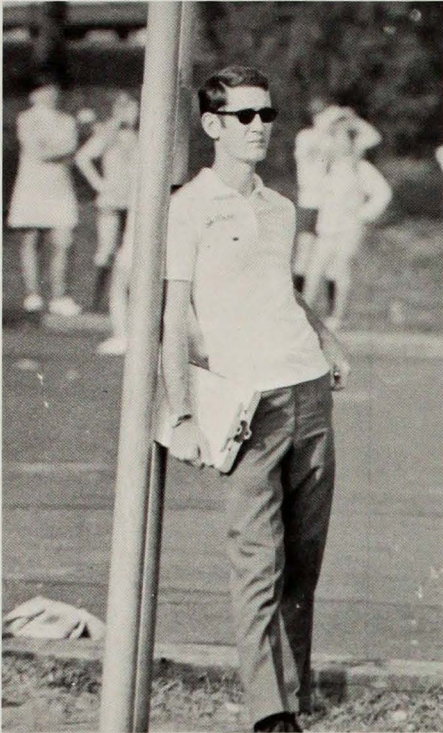

Two other freshmen, Blaine Oliver and Mike Barnes, filled the next two spots, with Barnes being low man for the Cats in one meet.

The remaining two positions were usually occupied by junior Ed Johnston and sophomore Keith Little.

Academics

In the Academic area at Mater Dei, the theme "To a New Dawning" signified the shift in traditional rules that were once considered sacred.

Biology A and Biological Science Curriculum Study (BSCS), offered now to both the freshmen and sophomores, changed to mixed classes instead of the traditional separation of boys and girls.

During the awarding of Academic Monograms, a different style of monograms were given to the freshmen. The monograms now have gold bars that can be pinned on the monograms when another bar is earned. One reason for the change is that you can distinguish honor monograms from academic monograms.

In the distribution of academic monograms, only one monogram was awarded in the specific academic areas. Before, in each area, monograms were awarded; one to the boy with the highest grade and one to the highest ranking girl who took the test.

Students protest movie smut

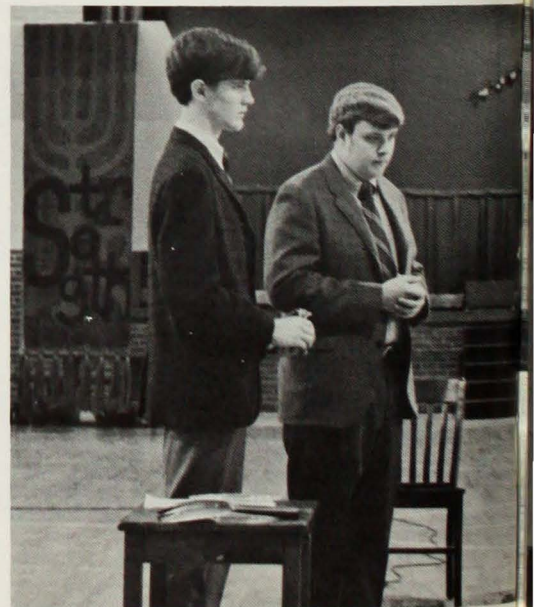

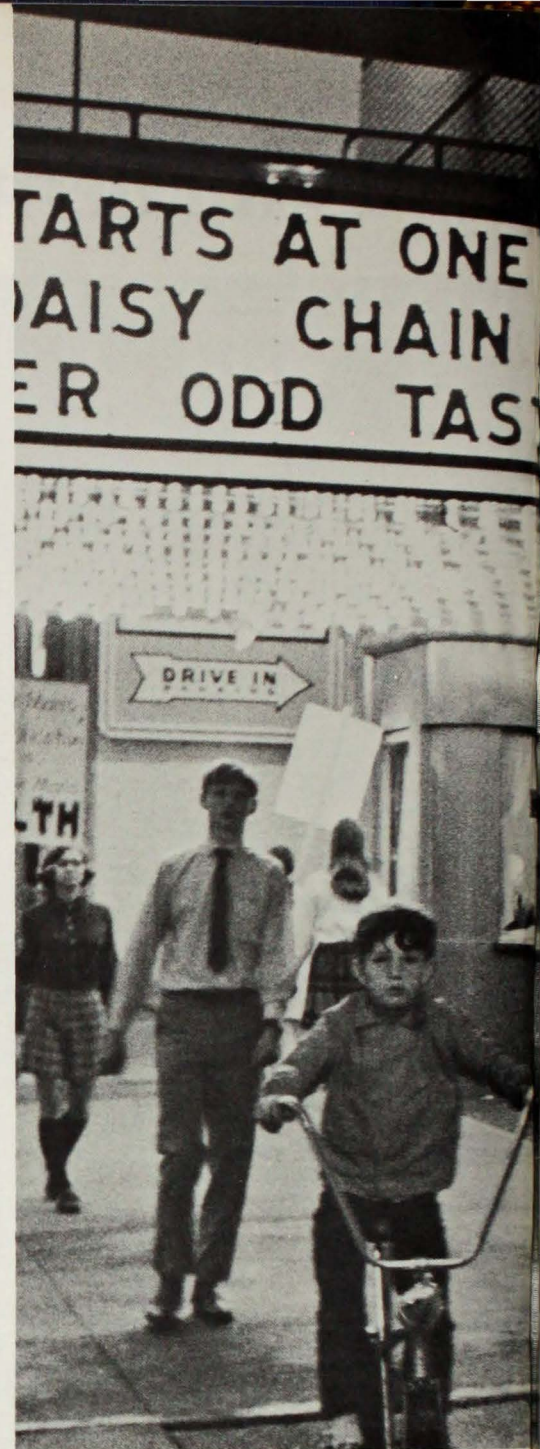

Besides the regular class room activities, the Seniors spent two days at Sarto Retreat House, the upperclassmen participated in "Encounters with Christ" and the entire student body in a half day of Reflection.

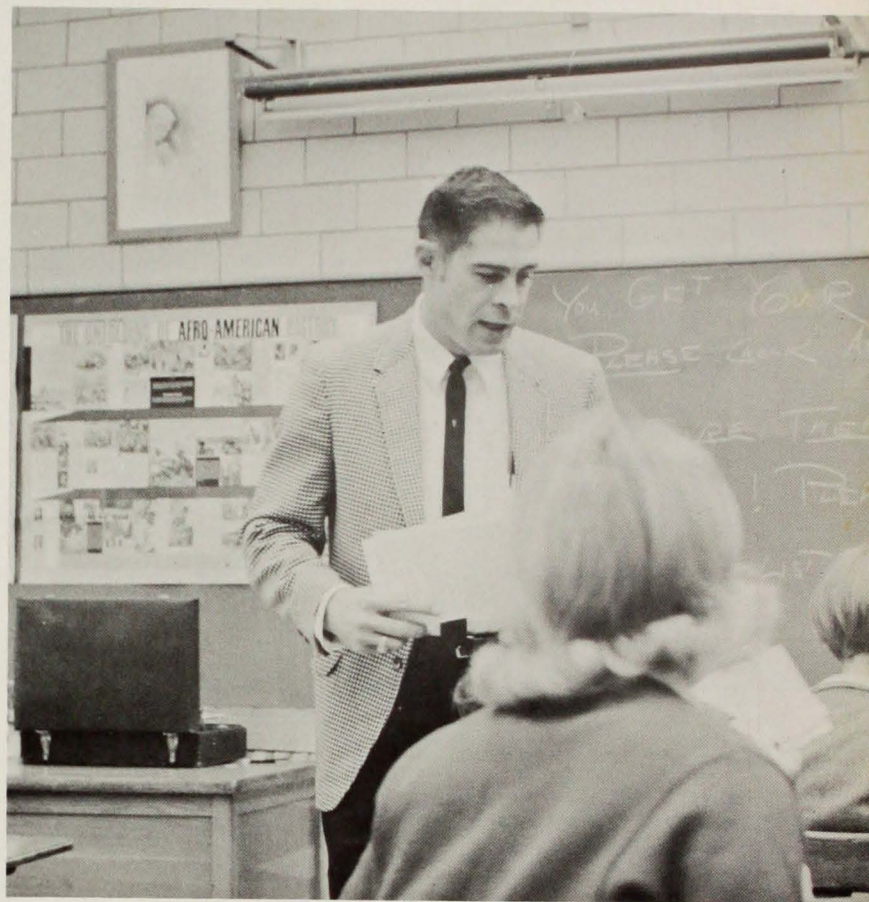

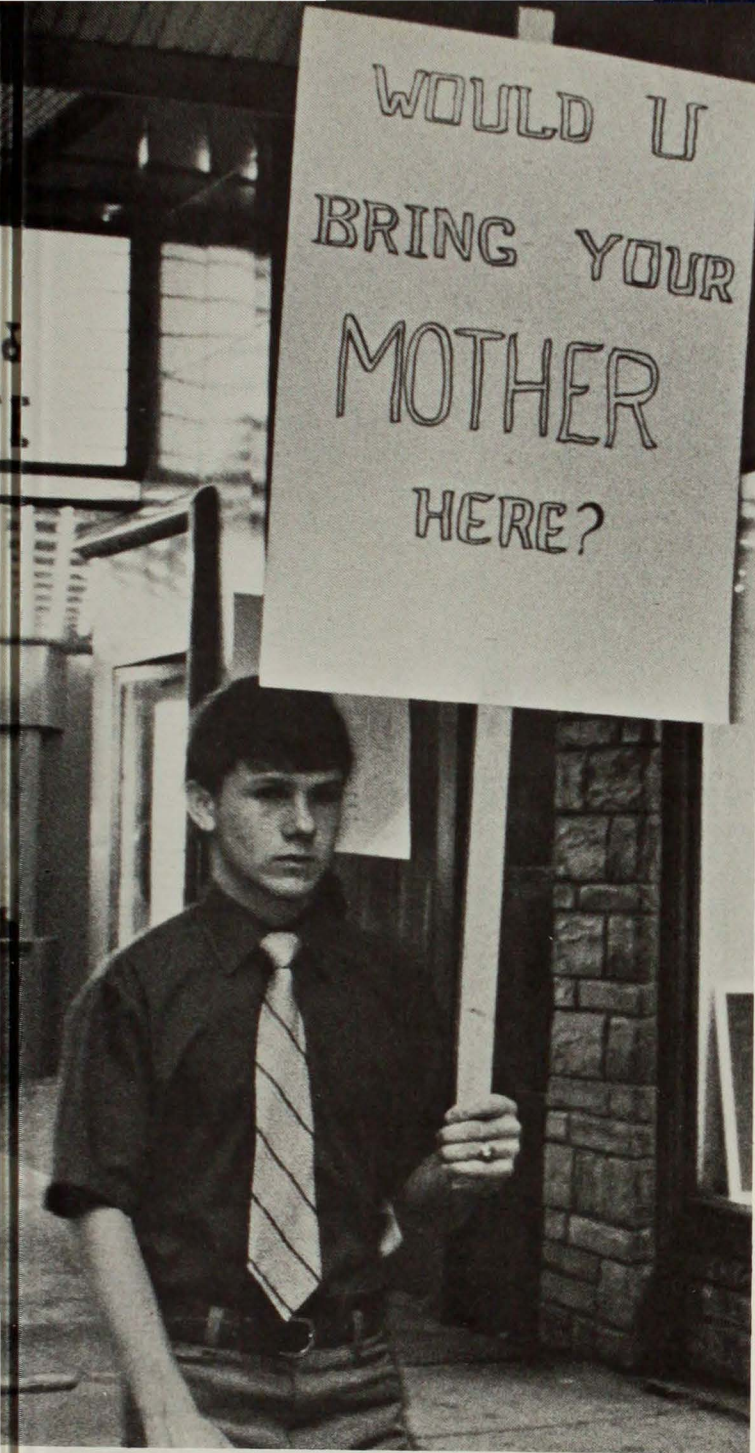

In special activities Father Eugene Dewig, Superintendent, opened the school year with a Mass, its purpose being a form unity among the students. On October 13, the school's patronal feast day, a concelebrated mass was held in the gym for the Student body.

Late in the school year a mass was held in honor of the late Reverend Martin Luther King Jr., with the students participating by singing King's famous, "We Shall Over Come." Mass was also held each Friday in Lent so that students could better understand Lent's meaning and sacrifices.

In the class room the seniors participated in a marriage course and a study of apologetics. The freshmen studied the literature of the Old Testament, while the sophomores studied the New Testament and social problems. The juniors looked at people as a "Christian Community" and studied different community problems.

Expanding the area of Social Studies, speakers from various organizations and different sections of the government, like Congressman Zion and state legislature representative John Cox, came to several classes and spoke to students on current issues.

The department, headed by Sr. Donna Marie, offers the classes of World History, U.S. History, American Problems, and Consumer Economics.

Students put the classroom theory into practice when a group, headed by senior Jack Schenk, protested against the Franklin Studio Art Theater for showing "smut" movies. The group received numerous letters commending them on their actions.

Spanish class prints newspaper; modern machines aid Business

Developing new ideas for international learning, the Language Department offered a curriculum of three foreign language, German, French, and Spanish, with at least three years of each offered. Mr. Gene Moutoux headed the department.

Using the facilities of the Language Lab, the teachers were able to add to their courses a true to life atmosphere of the particular environment of the countries they were studying.

Special projects were the publications of a Spanish newspaper by the Spanish classes and a Spanish buffet at the home of Mrs. Patry.

Sr. Mary Lynn, chairman of the Business Department, kept the second-year typing class busy with the use of tapes, a ditto machine, stencil with mimeograph, adding machine, electric typewriters, and speed timings.

The Typing I classes typed carbon letters and set up numeric tables whether open or closed rulings.

Shorthand II students were typing to hit a 120 w.p.m. timing with the use of the dictaphones. The theory test flashed back the basic brief forms.

In the Business Club, students from Reitz' Business Club met at a meeting of the members of Mater Dei. Two members from Mater Dei therefore went to Reitz and met with their members. Mater Dei's Business Club was initiated into the FBLA (Future Business Leaders of America) with state and local chapters.

Diane Koenig was President of the organization with Elaine Fehrenbacher, vice-president; Helaine Pfister, recording secretary; Scarlett Fehr, corresponding secretary; Beth Beyer, treasurer; and Reatha Niemeier, historian and reporter.

This club has been in action two years with 30 members involved in the group this year.

Yearbook captures third place award at J-Day

Starting the year with an energetic spirit the Journalism II class sponsored its Annual Autograph Party. About 200 students and graduates attended to pick up their '69 yearbooks early. The $85 profit was used to buy photography equipment and supplies.

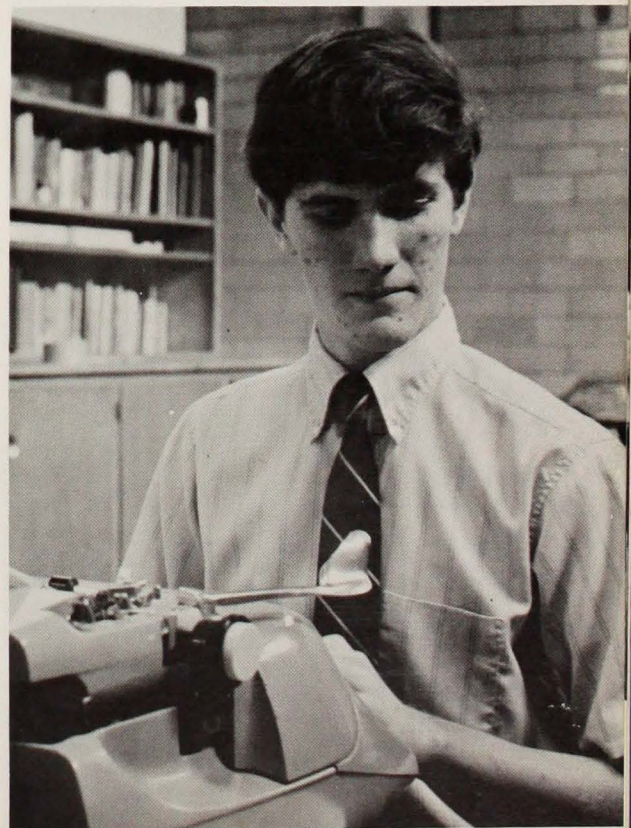

The '69 yearbook later captured third place award in the Tri-State Journalism Day at University of Evansville.

Working with the yearbook staff in obtaining the pictures required was the Photography Club. The main purpose of the club was to give the students a chance to work with professional cameras, learn the techniques of the dark room, and as a project, a photo essay.

Heading the yearbook staff were co-editors Donna Herrell and Nancy Guetling.

Kathy Paul was editor of the newspaper, while Jerry Kay Wolf was managing editor; Linda Mull, city editor, and Don Ulrich, sports editor.

Reporters were Rosie Reising, Sharon Simon and Mary Jane Dewig, Darlene Nix, Stephanie Kohut, Mary Jo Berger, Karen Schoenbachler, Lily Diefenbach, Mary Jarboe, Mary Laugel, Debra Schiff, Marcia Coomes, Jill Oliver, Cindy Weinzapfel, Karen Long, Terri Elbrink, Connie Waelde, and Rodger Gallo. Mr. Steve Halbig was adviser.

Science, Math offer greatest flexibility

The Science Department, under the direction of Mr. Thomas Dick, introduced a new change in its format. For the first time the biology classes were coed.

During the third quarter, the biology teachers exchanged classes in expressing their views to students in the sex education courses.

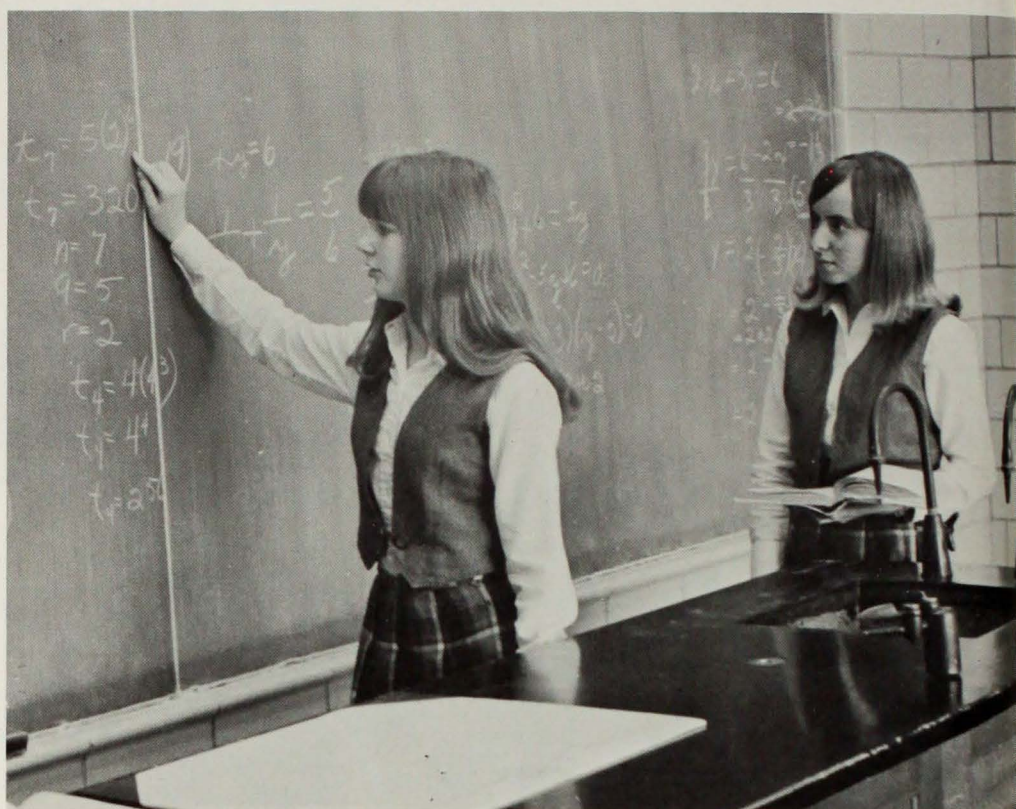

Two entries were made in the annual Regional Science Fair at the University of Evansville. Sophomore Robert Waterman and Junior Lee Spencer took second and third place ribbons in the competition.

After a year at college, Sister Corita returned to the teaching staff to instruct Chemistry. She had been studying for her master degree in that subject.

Required courses of the Science Department are Biology and Health. Elective courses are General Science, Physical Science, Chemistry, Advanced Biology and Physics.

The Math Department, headed by Mr. Richard Keith, offered a wider variety of classes to suit individual needs than any other department.

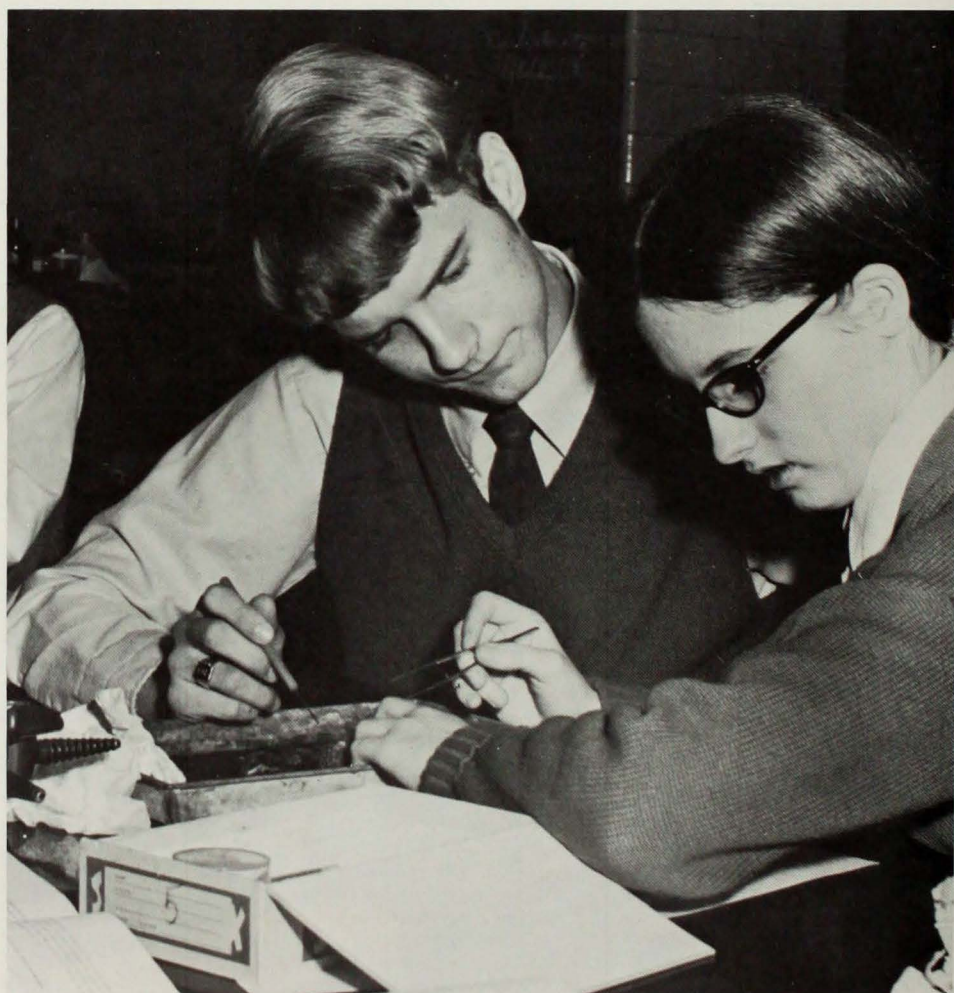

The freshmen had their choice of General Math, Pre-algebra, or Algebra Calculus and Advanced Math were available to the seniors.

Martin, Koch head notables of annual honors night

About 150 students were honored at the second annual Honors Night held May 26 in the school gym.

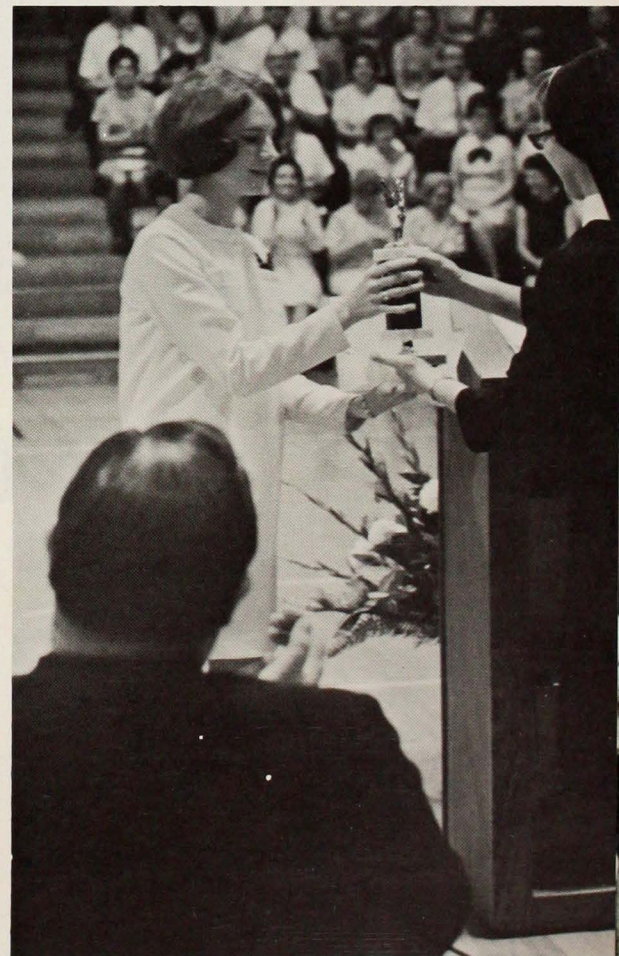

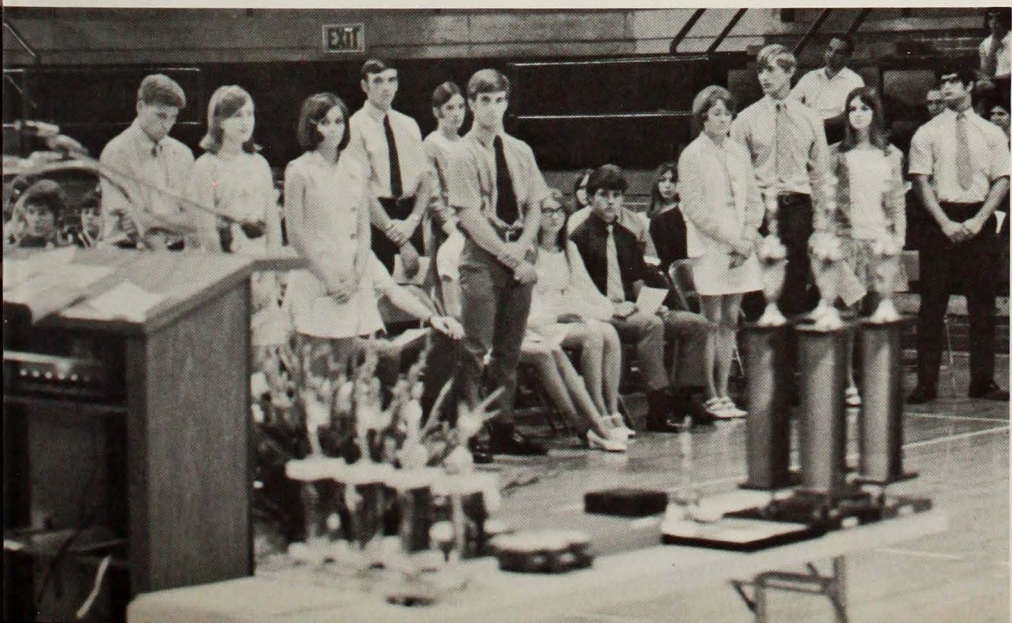

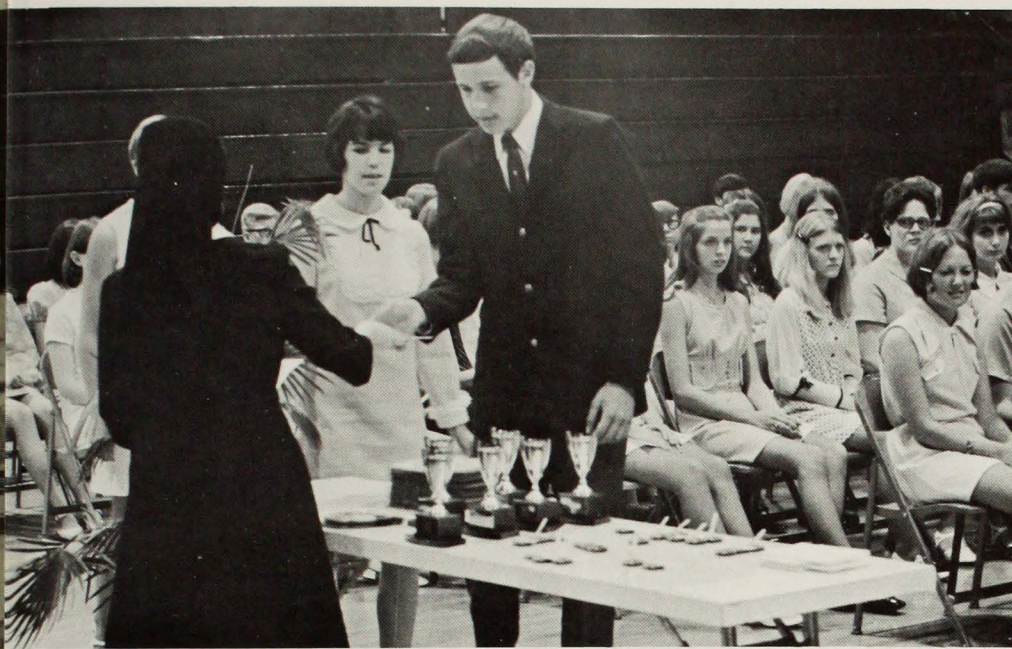

Among the top awards were the presentation of academic trophies. Award winners were seniors Pat Bray, Karen Koch, Paul Martin, and Martha Tennyson. Academic Monograms were awarded to 19 other students.

Special awards were given to Mark Helfrich (Citizenship Award), Kitty Bassemier (Civitan Award), Paul Martin (Distinguished Service Award), Monica Weinzapfel (Home Economics Award, Sterling Silver), and Scarlett Fehr (Administrative Management Award, $300 Scholarship).

In athletics, all-sports trophies were awarded to seniors Mike Baumgart, Mark Freeman, Rick Miller, and Wayne Emge. In GAA, Julie Ellert and Mary Jo Herrmann were recognized.

A total of 35 scholarships were given to seniors.

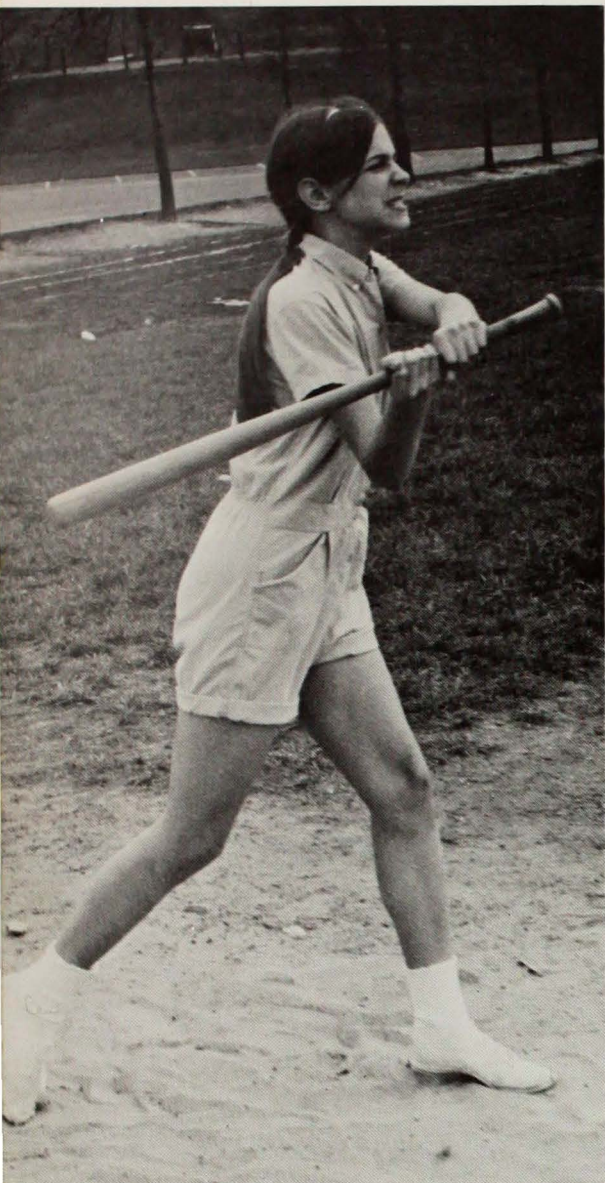

Fr. William Deering presided as master of ceremonies.

Girls physical education takes on

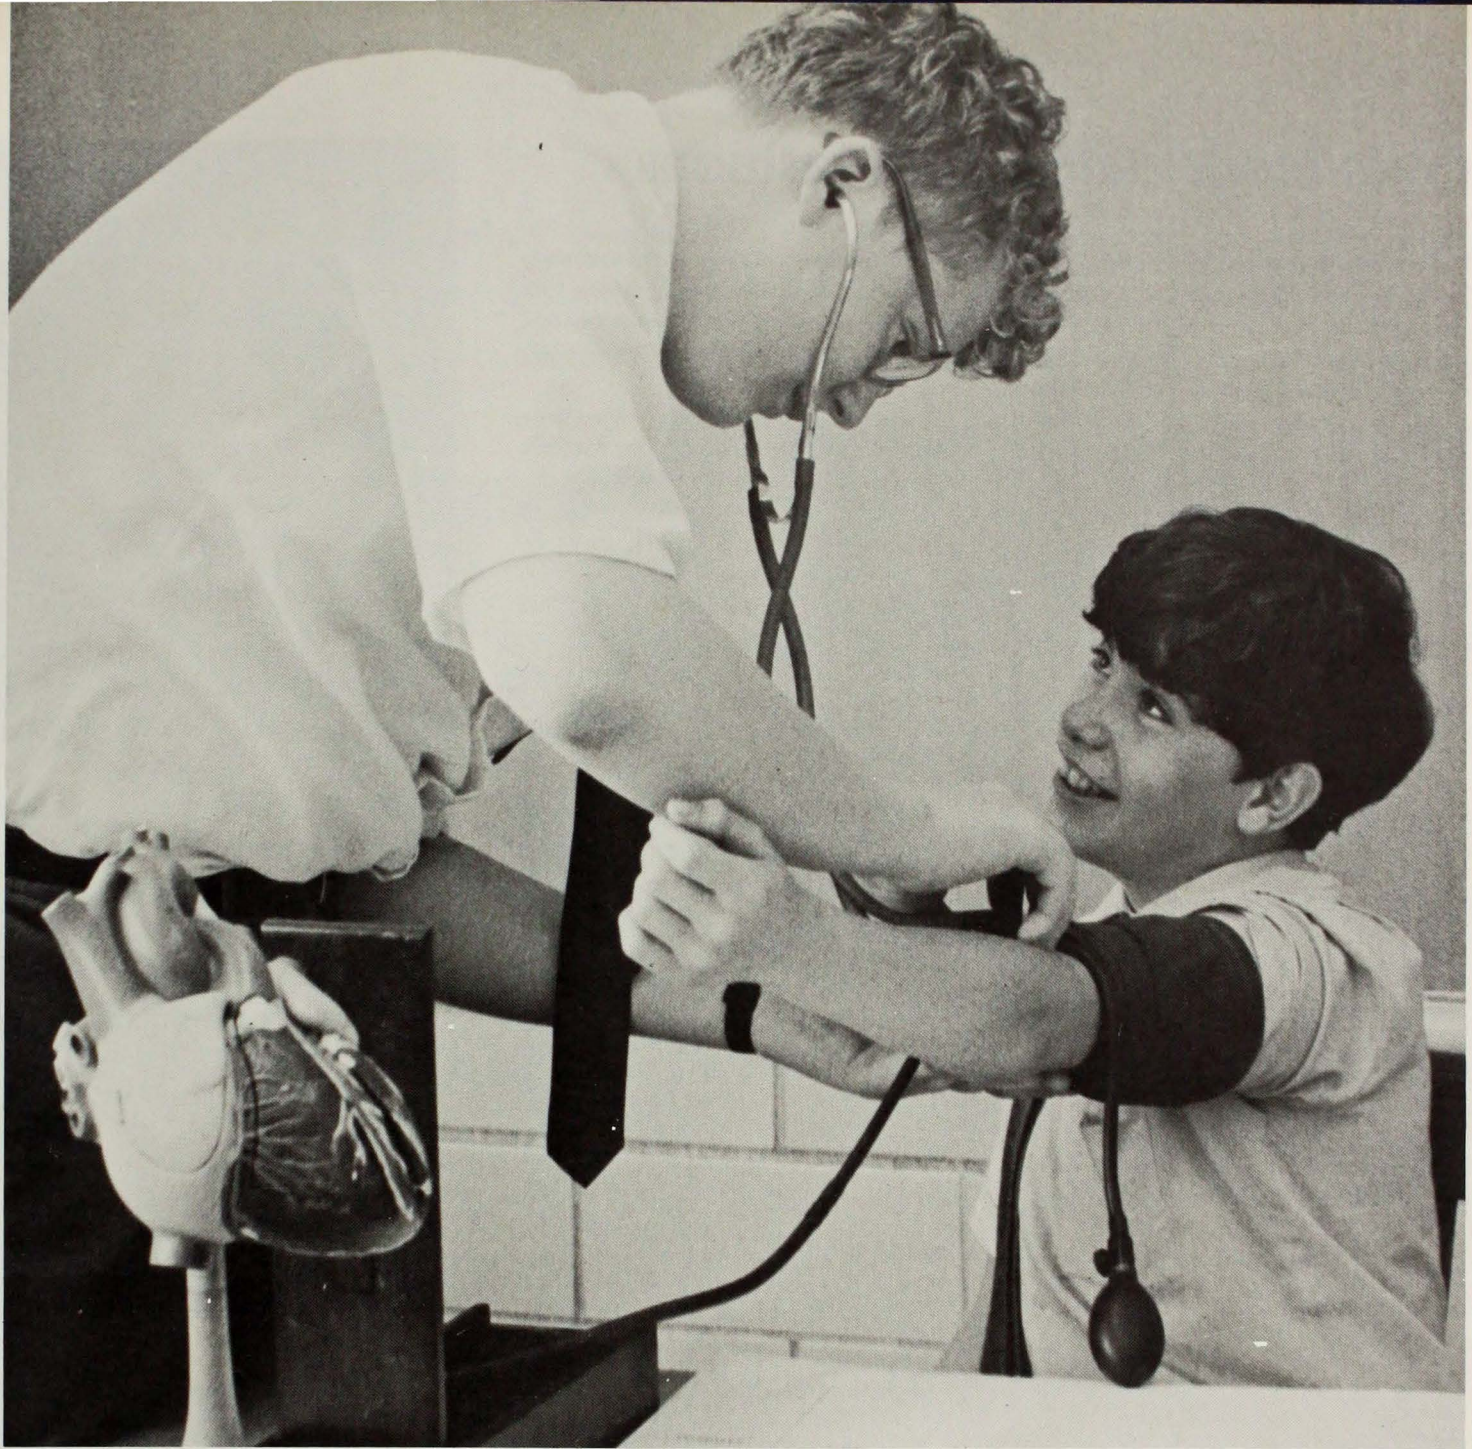

Physical Education for girls carried a new light this year with the help of Miss Herrmann, who added touch football, soccer, tumbling, and gymnastics to the activities already undertaken by the gym students.

Mater Dei again led the way in Driver Training, being the only school in the city with a truck for Driver's Training. The school also has two cars available.

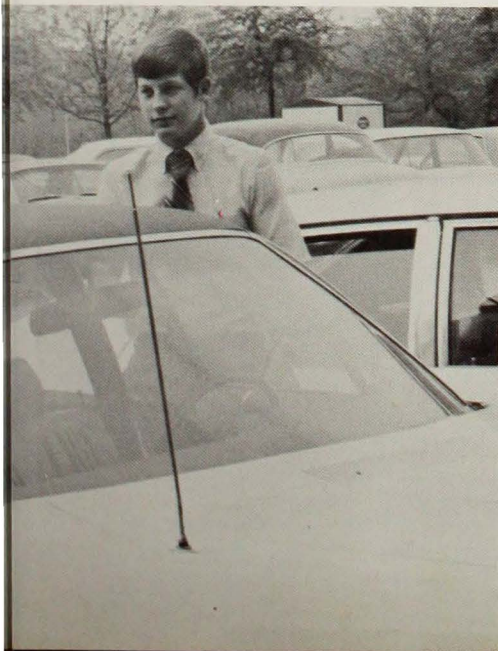

The Drivers' Training Rodeo provided a challenge to students at Mater Dei and the Tri-State.

Physical Education and Health are required of freshmen. Mr. Joe Gossman, football coach, headed the department.

Girls model latest mod fashions

The Homemaking Department, headed by Sister Dolorita, had quite a successful year with the Fashion Show heading the list of activities. Included in the show were the girls modeling some mod fashions which they made earlier in the school year.

Senior Monica Weinzapfel served as president of a new Homemaking Club. Other senior officers were Jenny Bauer, vice-president; Jo Ann Sisco, secretary; and Kathy Helfrich, treasurer. The club's goal was to develop the interest in homemaking for juniors and seniors which included 19 members.

The Homemaking Department consists of five elective courses. A Homemaking course for freshmen taught them four classes combined in one to give a general idea of the field and its use in their daily lives.

Sophomores studied the main technique of cooking, ranging from a simple breakfast to an elaborate dinner.

Clothing I and II was available for juniors and seniors, while Christian Family Living was taken only by seniors.

Senior Mary Jo Berger was appointed 1969-70 Co-ed Correspondent by Sister Dolorita. She was responsible for letting the Co-ed Magazine know what she and her classmates were thinking and doing.

Four artist merit awards of excellence

The Art Department, headed by Sister Mary Eve, entered different illustrations in the National Poetry Press Art Division Contest.

The students submitted drawings, sketches, or cartoons for entrance in that annual contest.

Seniors Mary Beth Will, Janet Walter, Catherine Wildeman and junior Tim Moore, received the Creative Arts Honor Award for their entries.

The Art Department also helped the music department in the annual productions of the Christman program and the Spring Concert.

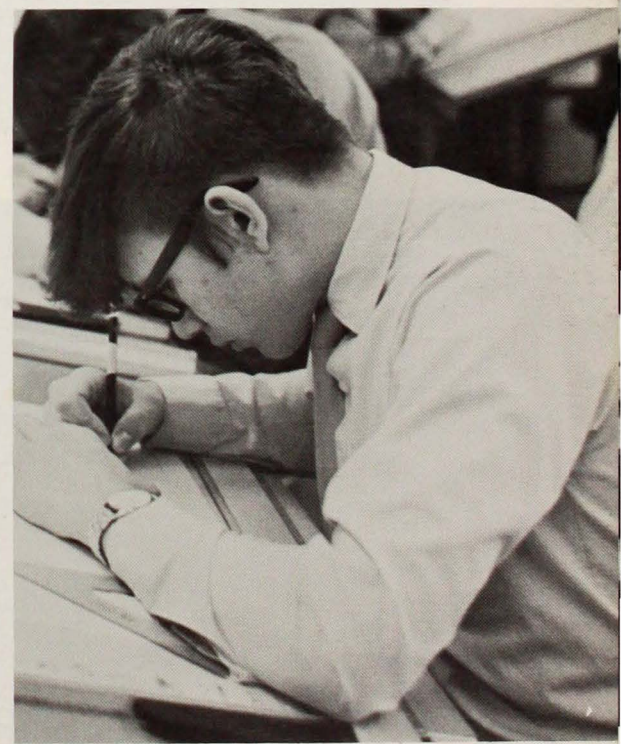

They also entered the competition in the Fall Festival window displays.

In January they had their annual open house in which they displayed, in the art room, the many projects which students worked on during the year.

Debra Schiff wins creative writing contest

In the English Department's annual Creative Writing contest, senior Debra Schiff won the $10 grand prize with her poem "Endless Time". Class winners and receivers of a $5 award were senior Janet Walter, junior Jan Shrode, sophomore Mary Bruce and freshman Gloria Hortsman. Theirs and other selections submitted by the student body were published in the "Literary Acorns."

Viewing of recent movies by the English students offered a pleasing and educational derivation from normal classroom activities. Among the movies shown were Grapes of Wrath, Julius Ceaser, Ox Bow Incident, and The Yearling.

The English Department, headed by Sister Paulette, offered a four-year literary course for both college and non collegebound students. The freshmen course offered a chance for improving their reading through a Developmental Reading course and also in the course was included an introduction to all types of literature. Composition class was offered to interested seniors.

Band wins Fall Festival parade honors 1st time

Bringing in the musical side of academic life, the Wildcat's Marching Band proved to be most exceptional throughout the city as well as the Tri-State.

The Band started the year by winning first place at the Annual West-Side Nut Club parade, and brought home a five-foot trophy. Honors were also given to the Band when it was asked to perform at the University of Evansville's Band Day.

Helping to boost the spirit at the football games, the Band performed at each game. One of the familiar arrangements with which the Band and student body all came together on was a favorite, "The Horse."

When football season was over, it was time for the Band to start their concert season, heading off with the Christmas Concert and concluding with the Spring Concert.

Personalities

The theme "To a New Dawning" in personalities ventures on the unknown. The decade of the 70's holds a certain amount of mystery to all of us in the role each individual will play in the critical times ahead.

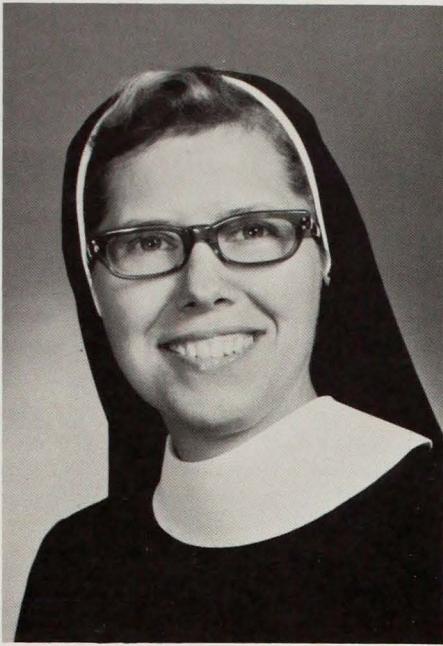

The effects of overpopulation, pollution, and war are related to everyone who has any interest in our future welfare.

"To a New Dawning" at Mater Dei also meant the usual new incoming freshmen, totaling 158. The girls had a little different look than usual because of the new uniforms. A green, gray, and red plaid was adopted for the years to come.

A total of nine new faculty members were hired by the administration.

ceremonies at Civic Center

Highlighting the senior year was graduation. An added improvement this year was the exercises being held in the air-conditioned Civic Center Auditorium. The three Catholic high school held separate exercises on June 7.

The senior class officers were President, Paul Martin; Vice-President, Kitty Bassemier; Treasurer, Rick Miller; and Secretary, Judy Winiger.

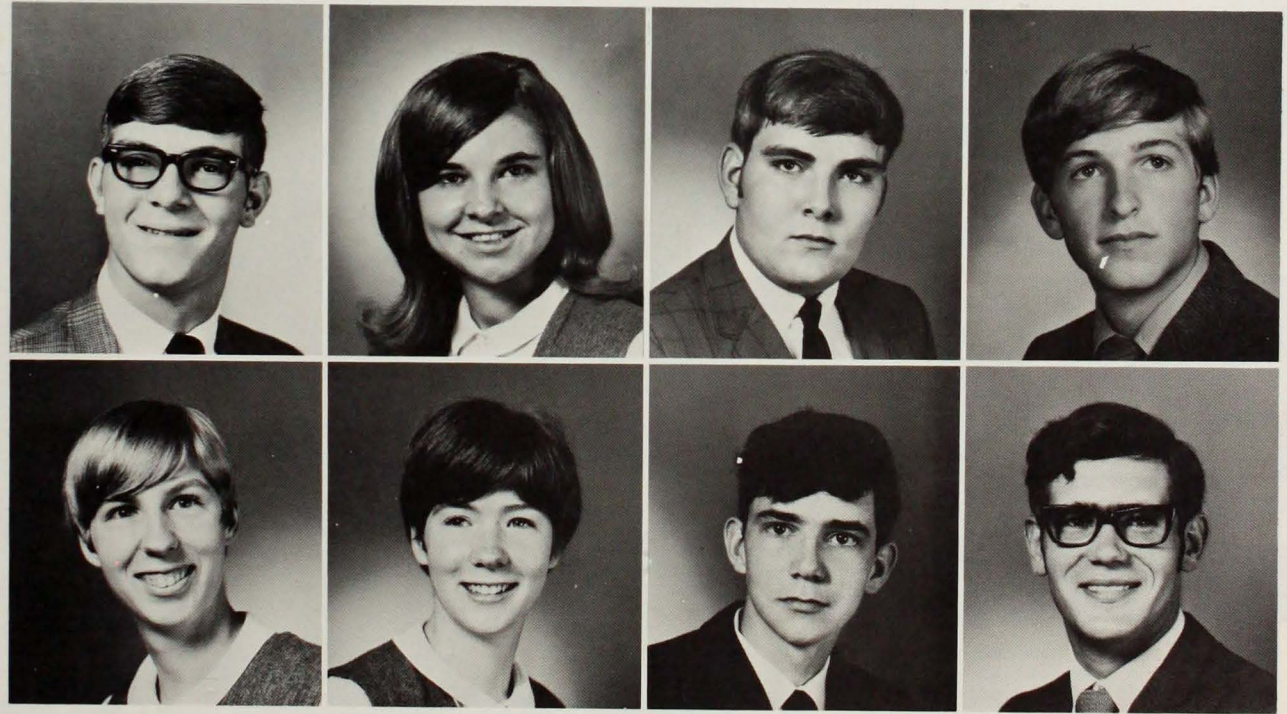

Heading the student council was Mayor Gerry Ellspermann; Clerk Suzanne Crouch; and Judge Dan Wannemuehler. There were 24 senior members in the student council.

The annual senior auction held at an E.C.A. period helped boost the class treasury. All unwanted things such as stuffed animals, signs, and nonsense items were sold.

For Homecoming, spirit week was enacted. The seniors decorated the flagpole in red, white and blue signifying the "spirit stick" won by the varsity cheerleaders at summer camp.

To end the senior year a free trip to Kentucky Lake was sponsored by the class. The commencement dance held in the school cafeteria was free along with the party at the West Haven Gun Club.

Terry Stumpf first junior to win Kiwanis Award

Main activities highlighting the junior class were the junior-senior prom, "A Time For Us," and the election of student government officials.

Tom Spahn, 1971 student-mayor, determined "Involvement" as the key issue to defeat S.U.R.E. candidate Curt Angermeier in the general elections. Judge-elect Jim Schroder, the leading vote getter, was challenged by P.L.E.G. candidate Ed Johnstone for the head position of the judiciary branch of the government.

The clerk's office will be filled by Sherri Barron next year, who was challenged by Karen Tenborge in the general elections. Junior councilmen-at-large elected this year were Ann Tavormina and Juli Helfrich.

Making the juniors a unique class, basketball star Terry Stumpf was the first junior to receive the Kiwanis Award at Mater Dei.

Another main event of the year was the candle sale, with the juniors profiting approximately $1,330.

The climax of the juniors' year was the distribution of their class rings on the feast of St. Joseph.

Sophomores win pizza party from candle sales

The sophomore class of 1970 consisted of 183 students. Their school spirit and energy was displayed in various ways.

Through the second annual candle sale, the sophomores were awarded a pizza party, netting over $1,900 in total sales.

Sophomore class officers were president Gerard Boots, vice-president Louie Wildeman, secretary Linda Alvey, and treasurer Terry Seib.

The reserve wrestling team which was composed mostly of sophomores won the city crown. Three sophomores were among the starters on the varsity squad.

Freshman class headed by Dewig and Oliver

Whether it was athletics, school activities or academics, the freshmen excelled.

Although posting losing seasons in football and basketball, they gave an indication that things will definitely get better.

In drama, freshmen Roseann Gallo, Karen Barnes, Susan Drake and Mary Tennyson played prominent roles.

Helping with assemblies, decorating homerooms and participating in the Christmas and Spring concert were all backed by the freshmen.

Freshmen Leonard Schmitt was the only member of his class to win an academic monogram.

Freshmen class officers are Jim Dewig, president; Blaine Oliver, vice-president; Nancy Mayer, secretary and Patty Cheaney, treasurer.

Businesses reflect the latest trends in economics

Old National Bank's huge structure in downtown Evansville reflects "The New Dawning" in business life, which is dependent on Advertising in communications.

In fact, the Advertisers in the Annual are among the most progressive firms in Evansville, necessary in an age when something can be outdated in such a short time.

School holds special honors night for Fr. Dewig

TOP: Fr. Dewig expresses regret over having to leave as superintendent, but tells the audience that his new job as coordinator of state aid to non-public schools is a position that he will give 100 per cent. Seated are Monsignor William Lautner, Fr. Deering, Sr. Mary Carmel and Mr. Len Will.

ABOVE: Fr. Dewig has just accepted a plaque in tribute for his 15 years as superintendent of Mater Dei.

Since it wasn't announced until almost the end of the school year that Fr. Dewig would be leaving Mater Dei as superintendent, the yearbook staff has decided to dedicate this last page to him as a final tribute. In addition, we the co-editors, Nancy Guetling and Donna Herrell, want to make some special acknowledgements.

Acquiring the necessary knowledge was a time-consuming process, with summer school at Ball State University being our training grounds. There, while attending day-long classes, we planned our book with adviser, Mr. Steve Halbig, to the last detail. Jerry Cranny of Paragon Press extended additional help in the planning.

Picture-taking was the most painstaking job. Being there "at the happening" required tedious efforts by many. Fr. Justin Clements used his high-power telephoto lens to take some almost impossible pictures. The three Evansville newspapers came through with some outstanding sports shots. And photography club members were constantly making the scene at school.

Members of our staff included Don Ulrich, Jerry Kay Wolf, Rose Reising, Linda Mull, Mary Jane Dewig, Sharon Simon and Kathy Paul. Caption and copy writing were their major jobs, which kept them busy whenever they weren't working on the newspaper.

The entire journalism staff hopes that you enjoy this yearbook as much as much as we enjoyed putting it together.
